Mrs. E. A. Bigelow received word last Friday of the death of her father, which occurred at Venterville, South Dakota, April 2nd, of Paralysis.

We have had some nice weather this week, but news, O my! it has been hard to get, not even a dog fight has come off in our quiet little town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter from West Point, this state were Harrison visitors Monday and went from here to Andrews where they have a stock ranch.

Miss Lillian E. Harris left Harrison, Saturday to commence a school in school district No. 33. Miss Harris gave excellent satisfaction in school district No. 15 where she taught last, and we predict the same for her in district No. 33.

Mrs. Bourret and daughters from Runningwater attended the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Bieser's little child Monday. We are always pleased to meet Mr. Bourret's folks for they are among our earliest acquaintances in Sioux County.

Robert Geiser and William Bretey were in Harrison last Saturday assisting Frank Miller to get some more of Uncle Sam's domain.

Charles Hibbeln, our village smithy, seems to be a very busy man and breaks the monotonous hours by giving us eloquent from his ever ready hammer and anvil.

We have been sending out a few sample copies of THE PRESS-JOURNAL and if you receive a copy it is an invitation to subscribe if you are not already a subscriber.

John Burke received the most loving letter the other day from some sweet girl but he is puzzled to know why she forgot to sign her name. Look out John the girls will puzzle you a good many times if you live to be as old as we are.

County Supt. Burke has received a number of copies of school buildings and grounds in Nebraska. They are for free distribution and any school district contemplating building a school house soon would do well to send for a copy of this book.

Mr. John Brown made our heart glad Wednesday by adding his name to our list and leaving with us $1 to pay for the same for one year. Mr. Brown seems very well pleased with the country and his new home and we hope he may continue to be pleased.

Over in the southern part of this state the other day a fight ensued over the range between the sheep and cattle men. Result: two sheep men killed and 1,200 head of sheep clubbed and shot to death. When will this foolish fight over government range cease in this state?—Lusk Herald.

Frank J. Miller from Ardmore, South Dakota, was a Harrison visitor Saturday and while here he proved up on a quarter section of land. Mr. Miller did not forget the JOURNAL man while here but made our heart rejoice by leaving a cart wheel to pay for THE JOURNAL another year. Thanks Mr. Miller.

Sam Swinbank, from Atelia, was a Harrison visitor last Saturday and he has just recently returned from the Alberta country and we learn he was very much pleased with the country and may at some future date move there. He went past where our Sioux county people are located but did not see any of them.

Lillie Usher, who has been attending the Harrison school the past winter, left for her home in the south part of the county, last Tuesday. Lillie will be missed by her school associates and more than likely some of the boys will feel a bit lonesome too for we are quite sure such a modest young lady as Lillie proved herself to be most have captivated the heart of some of the boys and we can't blame them either.

Miss Maggie Jordan closed a successful term of school, in school district no. 9 last week, and on Saturday night she took the east bound train for Chadron where she expects to take a course in the Chadron academy, that she may be better prepared to meet the many difficult questions that confront her in the school room. Miss Jordan has proved herself an earnest worker, and we only wish more would pattern after her in this line.

Harrison, Nebr., March 31, 1902
The county commissioners of Sioux County, Nebraska are hereby called to meet at the Courthouse in Harrison on the 17th day of April 1902 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting names to draw a petit jury to serve at the May term District Court, A. D. 1902, and to transact such other business as may properly come before them.
W. J. A. RAUM
County Clerk.

E. P. Maine proved up on his tree claim last Saturday.

Louis Debeck was a Harrison visitor last Monday, and while here he witnessed the wedding of Mr. Doyle. We were wondering if Louis didn't have some such aspirations himself for the sad looking expression on his face, well that is all right. Louis we have been through, the mill and know how it goes to have 60 miles between a fellow and his best girl and then all the other fellows so near her but there is a brighter day coming, and we know Louis will remember us when it comes.

We received a letter from Mrs. R. M. Wallace this week; she is well pleased with her new home. She says Rev. Kendall has built a neat church at MacKay and they have a good Sunday school also. Mrs. Wallace will always be remembered by Christian workers of Sioux county as one very much interested in Sabbath school work. She writes that Mrs. Kendall's health has been very poor the past winter. Mrs. Kendall has many friends in Harrison who will, no doubt, be sorry to hear of this. John and Frank Stratton she says are busy at work every day and Viola is going to school and has a good teacher and is learning fast.

MARRIED

Thomas Doyle and Mary Staudenmaier were married at high noon last Monday by Father Rabach at Andrews hall.

A good many of our townsmen and friends of Mr. Doyle and bride witnessed the ceremony which was very impressive. Mr. Doyle is one of our oldest citizens and is noted for his industrious qualities and the bride, Mrs. Staudenmaier, has many friends in Harrison and other parts of the county. M. J. O'Connell acted as best man and Mrs. O'Connell assisted Mrs. Staudenmaier so everything moved along without any friction and we hope their lives as husband and wife, may have as little friction in years to come as there was in the ceremony that made them one.

They were congratulated by their many friends and if the best wishes have anything to do with their future happiness their journey will be a pleasant one. THE PRESS-JOURNAL extends best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Doyle and may they ever look back to the day with pleasure that they were made one. After the ceremony was over Father Rabach gave a very interesting talk to those present which was very much enjoyed by all.

Father Rabach will hold services here again May 19.

DIED.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bieser died last Saturday and was buried the Monday following. Little Marie was six months of age and has always been a very delicate little child, and while the father and mother did not want to give it up though it had never seen a well day, the Creator of all things says, I will give you rest in my kingdom above and hither she has gone.

In the absence of the minister the services were conducted by J. B. Burke, in behalf of the Sunday school of which little Marie was a member of the Cradle Roll.

In behalf of the Sunday school Bessie Marteller and Lucy Gerlach repeated some very appropriate and beautiful verses in memory of little Marie. Bessie Marteller stepped to the side of the casket and after offering a white lily repeated the following verses:

There'll be something in Heaven
For children to do
Some idle in that blessed land;
There'll be love for the heart,
And work for the mind,
And employment for each little hand.
There'll be something to do,
Something for little children to do;
There'll be lessons of love,
To the dear ones that linger below
And it may be the father
The children will send
To be angels of mercy in woe.
There'll be something to do,
There'll be something for children to do.

Then Lucy Gerlach with floral offering, repeated:
A lovely bud, so young, so fair,
Called hence by early doom,
Just come to show how
Sweet a flower in paradise would bloom.

The little white casket was then opened and the body of the little one was viewed by a large number of friends who had assembled that they might share the sorrows of the bereaved parents. The body was then taken to the cemetery with four little boys as pall bearers where the last sad rites were performed. THE PRESS-JOURNAL extends sympathy to the bereaved parents and friends and the Sunday school will long remember the day that it could do something for one of the Master's little ones.

A Card of Thanks.

To the friends that assisted in the burial of our infant daughter, we extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks.
MR. and MRS. BIESER.

THINKS HE SAW SMITH

Inland, Nebraska, Man Describes Missing Lincoln Minister.

Special dispatch to the World-Herald.
Lincoln, Nebraska, April 5.—Information has been received in this city which leads to the belief that the long missing Rev. G. L. Smith of University Place has been seen within the last week. Smith sold a car of horses in Grinnell, Iowa, previous to March 14, and after he had sent several letters to his family, together with $600 all trace of him was lost.

April 4 a letter was received in this city from a Drummood agent of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad company at Inland, Neb., which stated that on the afternoon of that day a man had applied to him for something to eat. He said the man claimed to be heavenly inspired and that he was the agent of heaven and the son of earth and that he had frequent revelations from God. The man's description tallied precisely with that printed in the World-Herald which Mr. Drummood had in the office and he believed that his visitant and Rev. Smith were one and the same person. Friends of Smith fare on their way to Inland to investigate the story. —World-Herald.

A Sunday school was organized at the West school house on last Sunday. Miss Florence Christian was elected Supt; J. Zumbrenna assistant Supt. and Jennie Hamlin Secy.

Candidates for Dist. Clerk are thick as June bugs in May. The present incumbent hopes they will all be elected as there is plenty of honor to go round-coupled with the kicking that is thrown in makes it too much for one alone.

Miss Florence Christian has decided to teach in Dist. No. 7, six miles north-east from Lusk. Her school will begin in a short time. We are sorry that she did not teach our school as she is a good teacher and gave general satisfaction in our school last winter.

Our neighborhood was greatly excited over the disappearance of one of its citizens the last part of last week. The following notice was posted in conspicuous places:

"Lost:—A small boy about the size of a man; barefooted with his dad's boots on. When last seen was going east; answers to almost any name you give him. No reward will be given for his return."

Not hearing from him in due course of time a search party was organized and he was traced across the line into Nebraska, where he had driven around aimlessly, tramping down about a section of good grazing land belonging to Les Crane. A man seeing him driving around in a circle went out to him, when he inquired for a man by the name of a color applied to a horse. He did not know whether it was bay, brown, buckskin or cream. He was directed to Dunn's where he found the object of his search, a fair haired dandy who consented to go riding with him. It was then thought that a sure enough elopement had been planned but upon going to the home of the fair lady it was found that they had just returned. The lady blushing told the searchers that they had just returned from a visit to friends in the valley. No wonder the relatives are uneasy about this young man as he is absent minded for last winter he hitched up to take his best girl riding, drove off and forgot to take her along. After driving three miles he thought of her but it was too late then to make amends.

We hear a great many complimentary remarks about the interest the members of the class have taken in trying to advance and improve our singing in Harrison, so remember our next meeting next Tuesday night and let everyone be present and anyone that wishes to join the class are specially invited.

Mr. C. H. Grewell, Post Master at Hewitt was a Harrison visitor last Wednesday, and while here he taken in the entertainment which was held at the church last night. Mr. Grewell is a great lover of good music, and he seemed to enjoy the concert. He renewed his subscription to the PRESS-JOURNAL and that makes us happy, so come and see us again Mr. Grewell.

The entertainment given by the Bridges Brothers Concert Company at the M. E. church Wednesday evening was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. The pieces of Elocution given by Mrs. Bridges were fine, and the songs and music given by both Mr. and Mrs. Bridges were loudly and heartily applauded by all. This company organized a class of 57 members in vocal and instrumental music last Friday night and they claimed they could learn any one to read notes in ten lessons, and we believe they demonstrated the fact to the most skeptical that they don't do just what they claimed they could do. This class has formed a permanent organization and will continue to progress from the foundation laid by the Bridges Bros. Mrs. Guthrie was chosen leader of the class and Mrs. Wilhemds order was chosen as organist. The most wonderful feature in the drill of the class was the wonderful control Prof. Bridges had over his class. He sat two editors side by side in the class, one a republican, and the other a democrat and while they sat with their backs to each other as soon as attention was called by Prof. Bridges they righted about and you would not have known but what they were brothers but this part of the program so dumfounded the audience that they forgot to applaud the class until the closing piece was sung.
