The inspection law of Wyoming has had some of our citizens jumping sideways for the past week and now the rail-road Co. is doing some of the jumping. The penalty for taking stock into Wyoming without inspection is from $1000 to $10,000, so it is plain that a large stock-grower would not last long at this rate, to say nothing of the small man. There is no question, but what it will take rigid measures to stamp out the itch that is among the cattle at present, for the chances are that it will be worse next winter than it was the past winter, but is the inspector of the state of Wyoming doing the proper thing in the matter? From what we can see and learn we think not. On last Monday there were three car loads of cattle billed for Douglas, but were held at that place for a short time until they could get permission to cross the line into Wyoming, and the state inspector gave them permission to come to Douglas, and they would inspect them there. Well it seems to us that this a farce on the face of it to take stock right into the heart of their state for inspection, for if this stock is infected with disease they can not help it being spread to some extent. We do not want to be understood as upholding violators of this law, but we do know that some of our citizens that are being harassed and persecuted by the authorities of Wyoming are as much interested in stamping out this disease as are the authorities of Wyoming. So we hope the officers of our sister state will remember the (Golden Rule.) for the time is not far distant when they will want to reach the markets of the East, and we then might be able to even up matters just a little.

On the 17th ballot, M. P. KinKaid was nominated at the Congressional Convention held at Crawford last week. We thought that the state Legislatures were the only places where dead locks occur, but it seems to be catching, and no wonder when so many are desiring to be fed at the public crib, and especially where there is a chance for a rake off to boot, while there was a dead lock in the convention the candidate will be a dead duck when the votes are counted next Nov.

Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schwab, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by J. E. Phinney.

When you lack energy, do not rebuke your food, feel dull and stupid, after eating, all you need is a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They will make you feel like a new man and give you an appetite like a bear. For sale by J. E. Phinney.
