A Clear Cut Warning.

"Young ladies," said an absentminded teacher of Latin to his class in Virgil, "I understand that you count upon my calling on you in alphabetical order and prepare your lessons accordingly.
I am surprised and disappointed at such conduct. Hereafter I warn you I shall begin at the other end of the alphabet!"

Corrected.

Visitor—Go to the proprietor and tell him to make my bill out properly and write omelette with two 'ts' and not one.

Walter (a few minutes later)—It's all right now, sir—omelet, I shilling; two teas, 2 shillings.—London TH-Bits.

Tests of Friendship.

When a woman gives notice that she has moved to the top floor and there is no elevator, she begins to find who her true friends are, and when she makes it known that she is boarding out and has no meals served at home she gets still nearer the root of the matter.

Obeys Orders.

"What was the cause of that awful racket and disturbance in your office just before you came?" asked one of the tenants on the third floor.
"You know that young cowboy that came yesterday to begin the study of law with me?" said the other.
"Yes."

"Well, I thought he might as well begin at the bottom, and I told him that when he came down this morning the first thing for him to do would be to clean out the office. He found half a dozen fellows there waiting for me, but he did it, all right."—Chicago Tribune.

Her One Success.

In the civil war time a western woman who had lost her husband in the field and who hoped to win a livelihood for herself and her little ones by writing sent to Harper's Magazine a story which had no special distinction and was returned. In the desperate mood that followed this rejection she sat down with pen and ink and told "why I wrote it," and her story under that title was accepted and published, winning a sympathetic response from all its readers. But this production, the echo of a vital moment, was her one story in the magazine. Oliver Wendell Holmes said that anybody could write one interesting novel if he could truly tell the story of his own life.—Harper's Magazine.

In Suspense.

"So you don't know whether you want to go to work or not?"
"Well, ah," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "I'd like de refusal ob de job a little while."
"But I need somebody right away."
"In dat case I'll have to let it go by."
"I've jus' bought a policy ticket, an' I'll haffer wait till aftah de drawin' to see whether I've gwine to work at all or not."—Washington Star.

The Time Honored Spanker.

Once my sister Floy was sent on an errand for some things for my mother.
There was a traveling man there who was selling carpet spankers, and he asked her:
"Has your mother got one of these spankers?"
"No, sir," she replied.
"What does she use?" he asked.
"Her hand," was the prompt reply—

A Comparison of Values.
Taking 1896 as a fair basis of value during the late agricultural depression, nine staple crops for this year represent an increase in value of over $700,000,000. Live stock is worth $1-000,000,000 more now than then.—Onange Judd Farmer.
