

HOME OF VETERANS

HOT SPRINGS SANITARIUM TO BE THING OF BEAUTY.

OMAHA MAN IS ARCHITECT

RADICAL DEPARTURE FROM CONVENTIONAL LINES.

INNOVATION OF BUILDINGS

Nebraska Men Interested Along With South Dakota Members—Congressman Cannon a Friend of Project.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Doubtless there are hundreds of old soldiers in the west who feel a vital interest in the proposed sanitarium which is to be a part of the branch of the soldier's home at Hot Springs, S. D. Last winter congress made an appropriation in aid of the project. With the opening of this session the house committee on appropriations is considering the architect's tentative plans for the various buildings of the sanitarium, which contemplate a total expenditure of half a million dollars. These plans were drawn by Thomas R. Kimball of Omaha, whose ability as an architect is generally recognized.

Conventional ideas of hospital architecture have been lost sight of in this case. Briefly stated the plan defines an eight-spoked wheel, the hub of which represents a court or plaza the diameter of which is about 200 feet, a colonnade through which the inmates may walk under cover to the various buildings which stand in relation to it as spokes to the hub of a wheel. Beneath the colonnade is a subway, affording a conduit for all plumbing, pipes and as a passage way for supplies which are wheeled upon trucks from the storehouse. In the center of the court is a fountain into which flows the hot mineral water whose medicinal properties have made famous the hot springs of South Dakota. Standing at the spike which points toward the city of Hot Springs is the administration building two stories and basement, with architectural adornments, furnishing egress and ingress to the grounds. Diametrically opposite or upon the other side of the court, is the kitchen, storehouse, guardhouse, bathhouse, etc., which stands, of course, in the rear. Between these two main structures there are three hospital buildings on either side of the wheel, each taking the relative position of as many spokes jutting out from the colonnade. These are two story structures having a capacity of over fifty beds each. They are thirty feet wide and possibly 100 feet long. A porch runs along one side of each. Inclined planes lead from the colonnade into these hospital buildings, easy of ascent, there being no stairways. There are many windows on both sides, affording a superabundance of light. The system of ventilation is exhaustive and seemingly perfect, creating constantly a fresh supply of pure air. In fact, the controlling idea of the architect seems to have been to attain the maximum supply of sunshine and fresh air. Up-to-date ideas of perfect sanitarium down to the smallest detail have been suggested, bringing to bear approved scientific principles, as an adjunct to the curative properties of the mineral water which abounds, the value of which was recognized by the Indians long before the white man found in them a remedy for many ills.

Messrs. Martin and Burke, South Dakota's representatives in the lower house of congress, are doing their utmost to secure an increase in the appropriation for this great project, with fair promise of success at the present session. It is a matter which is engaging the attention of the members from several western states for the reason that the completion of the sanitarium will afford an ideal home for disabled veterans all over the mid-west for whom there is today no room in government hospitals.

TRAMP LIVED IN MANSION 7 WEEKS

He Slept Much, Ate a Plenty and Enjoyed Himself—Nugely Offered to Work for It.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—During the last seven weeks James Smith, a vagrant, who was arraigned before Magistrate Koehersperger in the central police court, has lived in more ease and luxury than has probably ever fallen to the lot of a tramp. While tramping through Belfry, Pa., seven weeks ago Smith happened to pass the beautiful old mansion, the country residence of Peter Sayboldt, a deputy sheriff.

Smith had seen many beautiful houses in his extensive travels, but the old mansion impressed him so much that he decided to make it his residence for the winter. He made such elaborate promises of working about the place to the old woman who was acting as caretaker to the house that she did not hesitate to admit him. Once inside the house Smith could not be induced to leave.

He selected the choicest room in the mansion and proceeded to fix it up to suit himself. The bed in his room was not to his liking, so he put an extra feather mattress on it. He also increased the number of pictures in his room by carrying a few from other rooms in the house and hanging them on the walls of his own room. Each day he ate three meals. On several occasions the tramp tried to induce the caretaker of the house to serve his breakfast to him in his room. Smith continually talked about the place, but he never did any. Last Sunday Deputy Sheriff Sayboldt, accompanied by his daughter and his sister, took a trip to Belfry to see that good care was being taken of the house. The deputy sheriff was surprised and grew angry when he heard of Smith's presence in the house. Although it was late in the afternoon Smith was still sleeping comfortably in his room and Sayboldt pulled him out of bed without any ceremony. Sayboldt's first thought was to thrash the tramp, but he finally decided to have him arrested.

Smith admitted to the magistrate that he had been living in Sayboldt's summer residence, and also acknowledged that he had stopped in the house of correction for three months. The latter place was thought by the magistrate to be the best for Smith, and he was committed there for six months more. Boers are Coming to Colorado. Denver, Colo., Dec. 20.—Nearly nine thousand Boers, it is said, are preparing to "trek" to America, and will settle in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The representative of this movement is General Samuel Pearson, late quartermaster general of the South African republic, whose headquarters are in New York.

Colorado friends of the Boers have been in communication with the general in regard to suitable lands for the settlers, and General M. De Villiers, who is now looking over the lands has expressed himself as very favorably impressed with this state. The American Offer the Best. City of Mexico, Dec. 20.—The Mexican government has received offers from New York financiers for a gold loan for public works, the government having the authorization of congress to contract such a loan. The government is in no hurry, and is paying for the works out of its ample reserve funds, and it is not expected to contract the loan until it can do so on terms which will be satisfactory. The government has received from abroad intimations that it can secure a gold loan for establishing a gold basis of currency, but the loan for such a purpose can not be contracted without authorization from congress.

Calls President an Enemy. Chelsea, Mass., Dec. 20.—"I want a warrant for President Roosevelt," said Charles C. White, a well-to-do citizen, today at the central police station. Addressing Police Captain Grover, White continued: "He hired Jim McCarthy and John Farry to assault me the other day and I was assaulted by them on Eastern avenue. Roosevelt was there in his carriage and encouraged the men while they were striking me." Then the speaker rambled into a long string of complaints against President Roosevelt and the coal question. The man was laboring under excitement and resisted arrest. He was overpowered and a loaded revolver and a razor were found on him. He is held for an examination by physicians.

Barringer Stabbed to Death. St. Louis, Dec. 20.—J. W. Barringer, 27 years old, a civil engineer in the employ of the St. Louis, Memphis & Southeastern railroad, was stabbed to death by S. M. Morton, in the Grant building, Morton, who is also a civil engineer, but at the time of the murder was arrested and taken to the police station. The man was taken to the police station and taken to the police station. The man was taken to the police station and taken to the police station.

FLEET TO BE HANDY.

Dewey Within Striking Distance of Venezuela—Not Likely to be Needed.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Disposition of Admiral Dewey's fleet during the holidays is to be made under the direction of the secretary of the navy, in view of the increasing complications arising in connection with Venezuela, and the wishes of this government not to arouse suspicion unnecessarily by dispatching a large naval force to Venezuela waters.

Admiral Dewey cabled the department in regard to the orders for his fleet during the Christmas holidays. Orders are now in preparation for the various vessels and will be forwarded to the admiral in the next day or two.

No reflection upon Admiral Dewey is intended by the navy department in deciding to give up the orders for his ships. Instead of giving him a free hand in the matter as it was expected would be done, that there may be a thorough co-operation of the navy with the state department in the handling of the Venezuelan situation, however, it seemed that the question could be more satisfactorily settled here, as the navy department is in possession of all the facts regarding the action of the allied powers, and danger of conflicting with the policy of the state department will be averted.

It is unlikely that men of war will be sent to La Guayra, the feeling being that the presence of American men of war at this time might cause uneasiness among the allied powers, as well as offer encouragement to President Castro to maintain his defiant attitude.

On the other hand the situation has grown so acute within the past few days that both state and navy department officials are agreed that it will not be amiss to re-deploy the fleet in ports within easy range of the Venezuelan coast.

Puts Tax on Soft Drinks. Washington, Dec. 18.—Commissioner Yerkes of the internal revenue bureau, has rendered a decision in which he rules that druggists and others who sell soda water drinks, clear soda, or similar beverages to which distilled spirits, wine, or any compounds thereof are added in any quantity, however small, are required to pay special tax for retail liquor dealers under the internal revenue laws.

Under the old rulings druggists and others were allowed to add to soda water and other soft drinks and inappreciable quantity of distilled spirits or wines for flavoring purposes. The former ruling is revoked to take effect January, 1903.

Mistaken For a Burglar. Plattsmouth, Neb., Dec. 18.—News has reached this city of the tragic death of Henry Pierson, a former Cass county citizen, which occurred recently near Guthrie, Okla. It appears that a burglar had entered his home and the noise made by the intruder awakened Mr. Pierson. Procuring a revolver he proceeded to search the house for the burglar. While passing through a room occupied by a farm hand, the latter, who had also heard the noise and thinking Mr. Pierson was the intruder, raised his revolver and proceeded to make a target out of the crouching form of his employer. Owing to the darkness of the room his aim was poor, but one of the bullets lodged in Mr. Pierson's left side. The wound resulted in his death two weeks later.

Awful Act of Insane Man. Lapeer, Mich., Dec. 18.—John Best, aged twenty-eight years, single, arose from his bed during the night while insane, and cut Jasper Clegg's head nearly off with a razor, danger only wounded his own mother, wounded his sister and then shot himself to death. Clegg, who was sixty years of age, boarded at the Best home. Best was committed to the insane asylum about a year ago, but six months later was discharged as cured. Best appears to have arisen from his bed and gone first to the sleeping room of Clegg. He attacked Clegg with a razor, probably before the old man awoke. The murderer then evidently returned to his own room and to bed. At a later hour he again arose and went to the room of his mother. He struck Mrs. Best a blow with the damaged razor. She sprang out of bed, got away from the crazy man and made her way to the door. Here she broke away from him and ran to a neighbor's, where she telephoned for the sheriff.

Returned to the Hospital. Osceola, Neb., Dec. 18.—Sheriff Hartman took the train from here for Lincoln Tuesday morning, having in his custody Ed Samuelson, whom he was taking to the insane asylum at Lincoln. Mr. Samuelson had been in the asylum before and was discharged a couple of years ago, cured or at least harmless, but lately he has got worse again and it was thought that with the treatment he would get at the asylum it would be much better for him to be here.

ASKS FOR HUSBAND

DODGE COUNTY WOMAN PLEADED AN HOUR WITH THE GOVERNOR.

HERS A NOVEL ARGUMENT

IN A COLLISION A FIREMAN WAS KILLED NEAR TABLE ROCK.

FELL ASLEEP IN HIS CAB

Severe Winter in Hungary Causing Many Deaths Daily and Much Privation.

Lincoln, Neb.—Novel and unique was the story of a Dodge county woman who called on Governor Savage Tuesday afternoon to secure a pardon for her husband. He had been sentenced for hog stealing and the arguments were distinctly feminine.

"My husband was sent to the penitentiary along with— They both stole hogs. Mrs.—told me her husband would get out today. She don't need him any more than I need my husband and I don't know that I'll go away until you let him out."

This statement of the case she reiterated over and over again. She began to cry. Her sobs were pitiful. For more than an hour the crying and persistent repetition of her request continued. Finally the governor had formed a plan to get his visitor out of the office. He called a member of the office force.

"This man will take care of your case," he said. "He knows that the other man hasn't been let out."

More discussion followed. Finally the woman was assured that swine poacher No. 2 had not been released. Then she stopped.

"She ain't got any more rights to her husband than I have to mine," she declared as she was leaving the office.

Inquiry brought out the information that the woman had been misinformed. When she heard of the pardon of the accomplice of her husband she went directly to the capitol. No petition had been filed and she entered the office of the governor without notice.

This is but one of the long string of applications that awaits the action of the governor. Some of them are purely informal, but the many requests have been modeled in accordance with the statutes.

Gray-haired and bent with age, a mother called on Governor Savage. Her son was sick. He would surely die if kept in prison any longer.

"He isn't sick," responded the governor. "I have taken the trouble to visit him. I have had him examined by doctors. He isn't even hoarse in his application. I cannot do anything for him."

This statement aroused her indignation. "That boy" had always been good. "They swore to lies" when they put him there. He was sick and he would die. In the meantime a convict was industriously robbing his limbs and pretending to be rheumatic.

Fireman Killed in a Wreck. Table Rock, Neb.—Fireman Morrell was killed in a wreck on the Southern division of the Burlington Tuesday night at Table Rock. The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock. Freight trains No. 22 and No. 226, both extras, met in a "head on" collision on the main track in the railroad yards, the engines of both trains being badly damaged; little injury was sustained by the freight cars. According to the Burlington officials in Lincoln the indications that the wreck was caused by one of the engineers being asleep, although further investigation may disprove this belief. As Table Rock is on the southern division only meager reports were received at the Lincoln headquarters. An investigation will follow as soon as the parties concerned can be brought before the superintendent.

It is said that Morrell the man who was killed, claimed Table Rock as his home. When in Lincoln he boarded at the Arlington hotel.

Foodstuffs Held the Germs. San Francisco, Dec. 19.—Advises received from Honolulu show that investigation proves that foodstuffs shipped to Honolulu from Japan and China and San Francisco are responsible for the cases of plague recently appearing there.

Chief Five Crows is Dead. Pendleton, Ore., Dec. 19.—Five Crows, a noted Umatilla Indian chief, has been found dead near Athens. It is supposed that while intoxicated he fell off his pony and froze to death. He was seventy years old and distinguished himself in the Banook war of 1879 by killing the famous Indian Chief Egan, of the Snake Indians. He betrayed Egan into the hands of the Umatillas, who were friendly to the whites.

FUEL REMAINS SHORT.

Operators Hold Out No Hope for Relief This Winter—Surplus Exhausted.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 19.—Officials of the Reading railway company hold out no hope for relief in the anthracite coal stringency this winter despite the reports of the company to mine and ship to its full capacity. "Under normal conditions," said one of the officials, "the anthracite production is never equal to the demand during the winter months and the Reading and all the other anthracite companies have been obliged to draw upon the stock at various storage points to help out the demands of the trade."

This year there is not a pound of coal at any of these storage points and consumers are dependent entirely upon the daily output of the mines. The big dealers in New England, who usually have in stock at this season of the year from 50,000 to 100,000 tons, are dependent entirely upon what is being shipped to them by the various companies.

Practically all the leading company's collieries are in operation. The company shipped from the mines during the last two days nearly 1,900 cars of coal. This means a daily production of nearly 60,000 tons. It is stated that the Pennsylvania railroad has 3,000 of the Reading company's coal cars on its tracks in the western part of the state as well as 2,500 belonging to the Central Railway of New Jersey, and these are urgently needed in the anthracite trade. Their non-delivery, it is claimed, is causing much delay in the shipment of anthracite to points west of Harrisburg.

Reading company officials decline to discuss the question as to whether the advance of 50 cents a ton made in October would hold good during 1903, but they admit that it will certainly rule beyond January 1, 1903, the date fixed by Mr. Baer for a reduction to the old rate.

An operator, who attended the meeting of the operators in New York stated that the advance would be retained during all next year.

Washington, Dec. 19.—A material increase in the number of cases of pneumonia and severe colds among the people of this city is attributed by physicians to the coal famine. They say that in most of the houses they visit only a few of the rooms are heated, and even many well to do residents have abandoned their furnaces.

The price of hard coal from the independent operators today was $12 a ton. Soft coal at retail brought $8 a ton and many of the dealers are unable to furnish even small lots to regular customers.

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 19.—At a secret meeting here today of the Retail Coal Dealers association of New England plans for protecting the members were discussed.

The secretary, G. W. Sears of Arlington, Mass., said: "We are discussing plans to protect the legitimate dealers against the encroachment of companies and men who propose to sell coal direct from the railroad cars. We, with expensive plants, cannot compete with them. Our association starts from Chicago and takes in the entire east. We propose to notify members of the association of sales to companies doing business from cars direct and they will be guided accordingly. It is a move for protection pure and simple."

Case Proceeds to Trial. St. Louis, Dec. 19.—Judge Ryan, before whom Delegate Sheridan, Denny, Albright, Bersch and Gutke are being tried on the charge of bribery, today overruled the demurrer of the defense to the joint information. The trial then proceeded with the testimony of J. K. Murrell, also indicted on the charge of bribery, who turned state's evidence and told about the suburban franchise deal.

Murrell's testimony was a recapitulation of the well known story of the deposit box and the $75,000 which he has related at the other hearings.

The testimony of Philip Stock, legislative agent, was confined to the same subject and they did not vary from the story he has related heretofore. He counted the $75,000 in court. After nearly every question asked the defense objected and when the objection was overruled an exception was taken.

An Iowa Man Found Dead. Boise, Idaho, Dec. 19.—The body of a man believed to be either Earl Little or Andrew Hittle of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was found near Mountain Home, Idaho. The man is supposed to have been dead several months. In his pocket was a railway ticket from Cedar Rapids to Portland, Ore., and a purse containing $100. The purse bears the name of Andrew Hittle.

Progress of Cable Ship. San Francisco, Dec. 19.—The Associated press has received the following cablegram from its correspondent on board the cable ship Silvertown dated at noon today.

"Position at noon today, latitude 23 14 north; longitude 133 30 west. Since noon yesterday 267 knots of cable have laid, making the total laid 662 knots. The weather is good and the ship's speed eight knots.

The Rev. Parker has sued Gage county for 20 per cent of the fines imposed as the result of recent closing of illegal saloons in Wymore. The fines aggregate $250 and the statutes provide for the 20 per cent allowance to those who are chiefly instrumental in closing the barsrooms that have no authority to be kept open.

Inmates in the Soldiers' and Sailors' homes at Grand Island and Milford are satisfied and in harmony with the officers, according to a report just made to the governor by John Reese, president of the board. During the year the men in the Grand Island home have increased from 348 to 415. Cheap clothing had to be purchased for the veterans owing to the limited appropriation. At Milford 100 inmates were found to be existing satisfactorily on an appropriation made for sixty-eight. The Milford home needs a hospital, as the building erected for that purpose cannot be used.
