Tendency of the Times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases, in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and coughing in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.

The Literary Society met Monday night as per announcement. The program and paper were very good. The subject for debate,Resolved that wood is more useful than coal, after being debated upon, was decided by the judges in favor of the negative. The subject for debate next Monday night is: Resolved that the Indians have more right to this land than the White Men. Come everybody. Admission 5 cents.

We have made arrangements with the publishers of the Young People's Weekly one of the best periodicals of its class, so that we can furnish said paper in connection with the Press-Journal each one year for the small sum of $1.25 for both papers, or to those in arrears on subscription who will pay what they owe and 25 cents extra we will send the Young People's Weekly one year. Those who have paid in advance for the Press-Journal and want a first class paper for the young folks can come in on the deal also, by paying 25 cents extra.

The Young People's Weekly has reached its marvelous success and attained a circulation of over 210,000 copies a week because its contents interest young readers. Its popularity extends to thoughtful parents who recognize in it one of the best aids in keeping young folks in healthy touch with the active world, giving them a taste for clean, vigorous reading, and presenting truths in their most attractive form.

And still the cold weather continues. If it continues much longer, there will be a good many cows laid down over to get up again. The stocking who doesn't much feed will not have very many cut the winter spring arrives. As the stock is packed so hard it is almost impossible for the cow to get the grass which is not very plentiful. It looks very hard to keep the yearlings out on the prairie during snow, and finding not very much to eat. Another important thing is water. With feed and water a cow will not starve but take other away and they will not live. To starve to death is worse than freezing to death. A stock grower should always have plenty of shelter, and feed and be prepared for a hard winter; then if the winter is severe you are prepared and will win the winter, but if you have no feed in your yard and put up two or three tons of feed and then the winter proves to be a very severe one it will probably ruin you in the stock business.

A SONG OF SNOW.

Sing a song of snow now,
Now it's coming down,
Millions of fleecy flakes
Falling from the sky,
When the ground is covered,
And the hedge and trees,
There will be a gay time
For the Chickadees.

Boys are in the school house,
Drawing on their slates,
Pictures of the coasting place,
And thinking of their skates;
Girls are nodding knowingly,
Snuggly about,
Thinking of a gay time,
When the school is out.

Three o'clock, four o'clock,
Boys go to the bell;
Get your hats and coats and wraps,
Hurry off, pell mell!
Bring along the coasters all,
If you want some fun;
Up to the hill-top,
Jump and slide and run!

Steady now! Steady now!
Each in his place!
Here we go, there we go,
Down on a race!
Sing a song of snow time,
When the flakes fall;
Coast time, skate time,
Best time of all!

—The Angoulo.

We were pleased to visit Gordon on last Saturday and Sunday, for we have passed through this town several times at night but did not have the pleasure of stopping and forming the acquaintance of her citizens until this trip. We found our old friend O. H. Griswold at his post of duty and ready with a happy greeting for his old friends and new ones. We are glad to say Mr. Griswold has a good business and a lovely home, and we surely enjoyed the Sunday afternoon talking of by gone days when Mr. Griswold was one of our worthy citizens. Mr. Griswold's many inquiries of his old friends gave us to understand that he had not forgotten even one of them. Mrs. Griswold is standing at the helm of the old shop of Zion as she did in Harrison, and she had a great many questions to ask concerning her class of boys that she taught in the Sunday School when here. We can say boys' year old teacher has not forgotten you. We are pleased to say that Mr. and Mrs. Griswold are happy and contented in their new home. We finally gathered up courage enough to board the Lyon in his den, but to be had gone, but we found the general Herbert Bottenberg in charge and in a few words he explained the absence of the proprietor. We enjoyed a short visit with Mr. B. and we hope on our next visit to Gordon we may be able to meet the Lyon for we have been in his den and found everything most pleasant and inviting and we are glad to say that Lyon is a place for loafers, something we have not found in any other print shop in our travels. This simple invitation caught our eyes upon entering his sanctum, "Loafing department on the roof, take the elevator," and as we found no loafers they must have taken the elevator.

War Bonnet Topics.

Peggy got snarled under last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke, Garley and Mary and George visited our Sunday school Sunday week ago. We were all very much pleased as our superintendent was absent. Mr. Burke took charge of our Sunday school that day. He made us a nice speech in the last which will be remembered by us all. We will look forward with pleasure to when he will come again.

Mr. A. C. U. I have no special desire to be back to Bodarc but it looks like a shame for us to miss a place of worship to be here even on Sunday, especially when a lady is willing to lead the Sunday school, but I know for well enough to know it was so limited here.

Ed Garrison went to Harrison last Saturday.

Nels Anderson had to build his own fire last week his wife was visiting with John Anderson's family.

Joe Leasing has seen in the part of the country looking for a dinner for a wedding date in the near future.

Ed Leasing was visiting at Bodarc a few days last week.

Tom Plunkett and Bill Harvey were at Scott's Sunday.

Tom Plunkett attended the dance at Lyon Zimmerman's, and reports a fine time. Hosted furnished by Schaefer Bros.

Mrs. Edie Dumm had the misfortune to lose a cow, cause either old age or heart failure, or a little of both.

S. S. at Gustava Noreth's next Sunday at 1 P. M. All are invited.

A bad penny always returns, likewise Ed Harvey.

John Marking is working at the S-E at present.

I think our ground hog or hedge hog or even S. S. C. C. must have seen his shadow, from the weather, but there will be no snow or stock out able to make a shadow if this weather continues much longer.

S. S. at our school house as usual next Sunday at 2:30 P. M.

PEBBY.

Andrews Happenings.

Mrs. S. C. D. Basset visited our school last Monday. She gave us a good talk that will long be remembered. She had a magnet and showed the school how it would draw or attract needles, tacks, etc to it, but how it would not attract the rusty ones. She likened God to a magnet only with greater power, "And if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." If we are rusted or corrupted by sin God will not permit us to enter heaven, but will cast us from him. The wages of sin is death but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Mr. Frank Lewis and wife visited Mrs. S. E. Jones Sunday and spent the day very pleasantly there.

Mr. J. D. Proctor went to Harrison Saturday and brought the mail with him.

Mrs. J. D. Proctor received a valentine present eleven little chickens from an old hen.

There was a dance at Mr. and Mrs. DeSombiers the 14th. Though the night was far from pleasant yet many nevertheless attended. A large and delightful supper was given. There were cakes, pies, puddies, coffee & etc.

It was considered the best supper given here. As the night grew colder and colder the crowd stayed until about 8 the following day. Mrs. DeSombier insisted upon them having a lunch and coffee before they started home. They kept the dancing up all night and all had a good jolly time. Some had the misfortune of freezing their fingers and ears their nose and their tears going home.

Mr. Tom Jones took his first trip to Agate Monday and brought the mail back with him.

The ground hog is a thing of the past.

Mr. Tom Jones went to Harrison Wednesday. The train did not return so he bravely walked the distance.

We sometimes hear of young fellows walking that distance to see their best girl, but rarely ever of married men taking the trip especially when the snow is heaped up so that passengers can not get through. We all admire his pluck and the good life the wife that makes the home so pleasant and attractive for him.

There is a great demand for sunshine this winter, and the sun seems to think it can't supply the quantity desired so it goes off to welcome other hand, and laugh at our lamentations. Some go to Harrison for the Harrison Sun, each Saturday, but the snow lays on the ground heaped up so much as ever; Hows that?

Mrs. Haggerman went to Harrison on business on the morning passenger. She returned the same evening. Floyd visited the school that day.

Mr. Zerkel one of the reporters of this paper can not comprehend the vast limits of this great thriving populous city unless he comes to view it for himself. If he should ever decide to take a journey to this notorious city, he should write and engage a guide to assist him in this delightful trip through the winding streets, and purely gates of Andrews. Mr. Bert Black the overseer of the goods will kindly inform him when he can come and see the city at its best. Some people prefer to view it when the moon throws its light on the river reflecting the long row of lights from Andrews beyond. Others like to wander along the banks of white creek at midday viewing the fish as they sport in its water, and see the men hastening here and there for a good square meal after their hard morning toil. By employing a guide he would be perfectly safe, and have no fear of being kidnapped unless he should captivate the eyes of one of Andrews' belles.

Mr. Chris. Christensen, Mr. Wm. Haggerman and Mr. B. Sheppard went to Harrison on busness Monday last week.

Mrs. Chris. Christensen went to Harrison Saturday returning the same day.

Mrs. S. C. D. Basset returned to her home here Friday evening on the passenger.

Mr. W. Hovey and Dick Hovey from Sheep creek visited their sister and family a few days last week and had a good time but a long cold ride going back on horse.

"RUBS AND BLOSSOMS"

Forests in Europe.

A recent official report states that forests in Russia now cover a gross area of 464,348,000 acres. Among European countries Sweden comes next with 44,478,000 acres of forest. In Rumania, the forests cover 56 per cent of the whole imperial area. The Swedish forests occupy 44 per cent of the total area, and the Austro-Hungarian 32 per cent of the territory of the dual monarchy. Reckoned by the population, there are 4.9 acres of forest to each inhabitant in Russia, 9.5 acres in Sweden, 10.4 acres in Norway and .69 acres per head in Germany.

Expensive Chicken Potpie.

Eating $50 worth of chicken potpie at one meal is an extravagant way of living, especially for a resident of West Manayunk, where millionaires are scarce articles. A few years ago there lived at Pencoyd a young man who was just making his start in the world, but has since become one of the wealthy men of the country. In his early career he became very fond of game chickens and invested $50 in a gamecock of the choicest fighting strain. He turned the cock loose with a lot of common hens, and in his life hours enjoyed many battles with birds owned by neighbors. He came home from a business trip one day and enjoyed a chicken dinner prepared by his wife that he thought was the best meal he had eaten for many days. "Nice chicken," he remarked. "Yes," replied the wife; "I got James to kill a couple of old roosters down at the barn." He finished the meal, took a stroll out to the barn and found his pet had disappeared and that he had eaten a $50 potpie.—Philadelphia Record.

AND JONAS FINALLY MOVED.

Bore Responded to Style of Urging to Which He Was Unaccustomed.

The wind blew from the north west, driving little snow flurries here and there along the street, and pedestrians sought shelter in doorways from the biting blasts. A down the almost deserted street there came a horse and wagon, driven by a dried-up little Jew, who crouched upon the seat, seeking to protect himself from the fierce wind. His beast was a woe-begone animal with forefeet in the grass and too weary to fight against the wind. To the repeated "git up, Jonas," of his master the aged beast gave but weak responses and finally came to a dead stop.

"Git up, Jonas," said the Jew, as he flapped the reins across the horse's back. Jonas stood stock still, his head bobbing dejectedly.

"Git up there, Jonas, vat's de matter mit you?"

Jonas nodded, opened his eyes and then relapsed. Then the Jew jumped to the ground, stamping and swinging his arms for warmth. He went forward, and taking hold of the bridle, waited in a beseeching tone as he tugged.

"Jonas, please, Jonas, git up. Mine Gott, do you want to freeze? Ach, such a stupid horse. Git up, Jonas."

The Jew rubbed the horse's nose, but the beast would not be moved. Then, losing his temper, the Jew belabored the beast verbally and physically, planting well directed kicks here and there about the animal's anatomy. Beyond a few grunts the horse was immovable. The Jew pulled and he pushed and he kicked and he swore, all to no avail.

At last, in despair, he mounted to the seat, picked up the reins, and, snapping them violently across the horse's back, walked.

"Jonas, I ask you; commence, commence."

The horse looked around at his master indignantly, and then, after more urging and oaths and prodings, started on his weary journey.
