a city of millionaires. Since Grover Cleveland has praised him, Henry Ward Beecher must occupy a pretty low place in the estimation of Colonels Bryan and Watterson.

France has frenk legislators, too. One of them has just evolved a bill to tax tom cats because they wantonly destroy the song birds in the parks.

The Duluth man who goes up and ing. down pulling people's teeth against their will should not be too harshly condemned. That is not so bad as pulling people's legs.

Dr. George Sauerwein, a German philologist, writes peotry in thirtysight different languages. Dr. Sauerwein may as well be given up. His is widently an incurable case.

Since a great many society ladies find that they cannot belong to the order of Daughters of the Revolution, let them get up a new organization of "Mothers of the Next War."

A Texas man would place a tax on the impecunious nobles who come to this country looking for wives. But just what punishment would that be to the nobles? The unfortunate girls would have to pay the tax.

The Austrian archduke who gave up his title and hereditary claims a few weeks ago in order to elope with a nusic hall singer has been deserted by the latter. Without his title and fortune he probably seemed like a different man to ber.

In his own words: "I was born in Indiana, I grew up in Illinois, I was educated in Rhode Island. 1 learned my law in Springfield, my polities in Washington, my diplomacy in Europe, Asia and Africa, I have a farm in New Hampshire, and deskroom in the District of Columbia. The first ancestors of whom I ever heard were a Scotchman who was half-English and a German woman who was tight grip on what religion he has if half-French. My mother was from New England, and my father from the South. In this bewilderment of origin and experience, I can only put on an aspect of humility in any gathering of favorite sons, and confess I am nothing but an American!"

It will be a dull world if the time ever comes when women are too busy to be pleasant. "Is your wife entertaining this winter?" said one man to another. "Not very!" replied his witty if disconsolate friend. Under the brilliant repartee lies a melanchely confession. Unhappy the busy man whose wife is not "entertaining" this winter and all the winters! The empty-headed woman is certainly a trial. She grows less common every year. But her place is too often taken by the woman with head and heart filled to overflowing with the problems of m demi life, and she may not be much more skillful than her silly sister in dealing with the every-day needs of husband and children. A tired doctor, coming founded thereon is held to be a mere he refreshed by conversation on civit reform or on the enrichment of the high-school course, or even on the latest German theory of the Homeric and thorship. If he is not heartened wisely for his next day's work he is too likely to become himself a victim of the dist ease, and he may well have as his ep' tuph at the hands of his inconsiderate wife. Mest confirmed criminals are beyond the power of reformation. This man never should have been liberated after his first crime. Releasing him from prison was simply turning loose upon society a monster to commit the most horrible crimes. It nation it would have been justified in imprisoning him for life. His punish ment in every instance was a farce. He was tried, convicted and sentenced with all the solemn dignity of the law, but it was time and money thrown away except that during the period of his imprisonment he could not prey upon society. ## THE UNITED STATES "IS."

"The United States is," or "the United States are."

For years the contest has waged at noun "United States," indicative plural of the same verb.

The battle of the grammarians has not been without interest to the general public; but now they may lay aside their arms and enjoy a truce, for the fcoted girl, who carried her father's Committee on Revision of Laws has, it reviewing the Federal statutes, decided that "the United States is." The singu lar present of the verb "to be" will therefore, be used in the forthcoming edition of the revised statutes, and from the legal viewpoint "the United States are" will cease to exist.

This change will, we take it, meet with the approval of the people at States is," that cannot fail to be pleas ing to a prond and patriotic people bad hustand as for a good one.
