Wreck Scene Like a Battlefield.

Dead and Injured Men Are Strewed About On The Ground, Near Buffalo, Kas.

Buffalo, Kas., April 23.—A north-bound Missouri Pacific stock train crashed into the rear end of a work train just north of this town at 7 o'clock last evening and eleven men were killed and twenty-five injured, ten of the latter seriously and four probably fatally. All were Greeks and Italians, except one, Peter Frey, who has lived here several years and was a boss on the work train. The cause of the wreck is given as misreading of orders. The work train consisted of flat cars and a caboose, all filled with laborers. The men on the flat cars escaped. The work train was backing into town for the night and both were running at good speed. The heavy freight engine did not leave the track, but plowed the work train off the track, leaving little of it except the car wheels and kindling wood. Doctors of Buffalo assisted by townspeople did heroic work among the injured until the wrecking train with surgeons of Neodesha and a corps of half a dozen physicians from Coffeyville and Independence arrived. The dead and injured were taken to Coffeyville, the latter to be temporarily cared for at the hospital there. The scene of the wreck for several hours looked like a battle field by the dazzling light of the burning debris with dead men strewn about the ground, where they had been left after being taken from the wreck.

The Noble Groom Got Debt Notices

Pittsburg, Pa., April 23.—The Earl of Yarmouth, who was wedded to Miss Alice Thaw, had a disagreeable experience at his hotel shortly after his return from the court house where he had gone to procure his marriage license. When the earl entered the hotel Schenley at about noon he was confronted by two constables who served him with a writ from the high court of justice, Kings bench division, London, England commanding the earl to cause an appearance to be entered for him within forty days in an action at the suit of the Revisionary and General Securities company limited. In the bill of particulars, the plaintiffs claim is for principal and interest due from the defendant under a covenant of the defendant contained in an indenture of mortgage dated September 8, 1902. The amount due under the covenant on December 11, 1902, is £300; interest at 20 per cent from date until March 26 1903 £175.2. The plaintiff also claims interest on £300 at 20 per cent per annum until payment or judgment. The earl apparently took the matter coolly and at the conclusion of the reading he said: "That's all right I'll attend to it."

Mob Attacks Camp

Thebes, Ill., April 23.—An unknown negro, seventeen years old, was lynched by a mob of angry farmers near the village of Santa Fe Sunday for attempting to assault the ten-year old daughter of farmer Branson Davis, and this was followed by a general onslaught upon a colony of negroes living in tents who were engaged in bridge construction work. The tents were burned and many negroes were killed. Hundreds of shots were exchanged, but no whites were hurt. Branson Davis lives one-half mile east of Santa Fe, a small village near here. While his ten-year old daughter was in the barnyard today the negro accosted her. She ran but he seized her and her screams brought her mother to the rescue. The negro fled. Officers were notified and were soon in pursuit. News of the assault speedily spread among the neighboring farmers and resulted in an angry mob starting in search of the assailant. The negro was meanwhile captured by officers and was being brought to Santa Fe when the mob of farmers was met. A scrimmage resulted, during which the farmers secured the negro. He confessed to the crime, but begged for mercy. Without a word the mob started with the prisoner toward the new bridge being constructed across the Mississippi, where he was hanged to an oak tree without ceremony or delay. After the body had dangled in the air a few moments it was riddled with bullets. The officers endeavored to disperse the mob but their efforts were unavailing. A rush was made for a colony of several hundred negroes employed on bridge construction work and living in tents near the bridge. The negroes saw the mob coming and opened fire. A fullscale followed and the whites fired with effect, as many of the negroes were shot down. None of the whites were injured, and it is not known how seriously the negroes are wounded. The mob pressed forward, not withstanding the steady fire until the negroes turned and fled toward a nearby wood taking their wounded with them. The mob then fell upon the tents and burned them. After accomplishing a general work of destruction the mob dispersed. Extra police were sworn in and tonight the village is under heavy guard. Excitement is intense. Santa Fe is a village in the extreme southwestern portion of Illinois, near the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad.
