BREEZES FROM CENTRAL CITY.

This is fine corn growing weather and the farmers are very busy trying to get the corn ahead of the weeds. We had our first mess of string beans today, but they did not come out of our garden. Where the water did not stand gardens are very good. Am glad to report F. W. well again and at work. Freddie has had the measles pretty hard but is around all right again and Bessie is down with them, she is a sight to behold and she had them when she was about a year and a half old, so this is rather unexpected. Phibs had never had them, but she accuses Bessie of being very selfish and taking them away from her. There are a good many taking the measles the 2nd time and usually pretty hard too. The last Press-Journal brings the good news that the S. S. convention at Bodarc was a success and we too would have enjoyed being there. We know of two earnest workers that were greatly missed at that gathering, as before they have been such leaders and this is the first Sioux county convention held without them. The one has gone "home" to his God, who he so faithfully served, and we know Mrs. Rice will find something to do for the master where ever her lots may be cast. We were so glad of her letter in last Journal, for all his friends are glad to know of these last days. "Fitting, fitting, away, away, All that we cherish most dear, There is nothing on earth that will stay, Roses must die with the year." Very few farmers have had time to attend the state S. S. convention on account of the work being so behind. C. C. will not celebrate only by picnics, the majority will go to Grand Island, June 29, 1903. Clo.

HE GAVE THE PARTICULARS.

How a North Dakota Man Described a Piece of Land.

"In making a deal last year," said a Detroit speculator, "I came into possession of the deed to a certain piece of land in North Dakota. The value of the real estate was put at $600 and I paid taxes on it in January and in February I wrote to the post-master of the nearest town to send me particulars concerning my holdings. I sent him $2 for his trouble," said the speculator, according to the Detroit Free Press, "and he earned the money. He wrote back: "Want over to see your land. "Cussed poor road all the way. "Cussed poor road back again. "Most of your land is under water. "What ain't under water is afflicted with drought. "You've either got to wet it all up or dry it all out. "Can't burn up or run away. "Keep your taxes up and pray to the Lord. "Glad you sent me $2 instead of the deed. "If you want any further particulars I'll ship you a barrel of water."

A Strange Bequest.

By the will of William Lysaght of Monroe, Wis., Frank Mackey, a farm hand, receives a bequest of a farm worth $25,000 on condition that he shall keep testator's widow's carriage clean and supply her with fresh milk during the remainder of her life.

Original of "Little Dorritt."

Mrs. Mary Ann Cooper, the original of Dickens' Little Dorritt, is still living at the age of 90 years. Mrs. Cooper's home is in Southgate, near London. Her family lived in Johnson street, the Dickens family, and she and Charles were acquainted from early youth.

The Grocer's Dream.

The following poem, which is printed on the back of the cards used by John Mulder, secretary and organizer of the Wisconsin Retail Grocers and Merchants' Association of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, will be appreciated by retail grocers who give credit:

Last evening I was talking
With a grocer, aged and gray,
Who told me of a dream he had.
I think 'twas Christmas day,
While snoozing in his office,
The vision came to view,
For he saw an angel enter
Dressed in garments white and new.
Said the angel: "I'm from heaven,
The Lord just sent me down
To bring you up to glory,
And put on your golden crown.
You've been a friend to everyone;
And worked hard, night and day;
You've supported many thousand.
From low received your pay:
So we want you up in glory.
For you have labored hard,
And the good Lord is preparing
Your eternal, just reward."
Then the angel and the grocer
Started up toward glory's gate,
But when passing Hades
The angel murmured: "Wait!
I have a place to show you,
It's the hottest place in—
Where the ones who never paid you
In torment always dwell."
And, behold, the grocer saw there
His old patrons by the score—
And, grabbing up a chair and fan,
He wished for nothing more:
But was bound to sit and watch them
As they'd sizzle, singe and burn,
And his eyes would rest on detours
Which ever way they'd turn.
Said the angel: "Come on, grocer,
There's the pearly gates I see."
But the grocer only muttered:
"This is heaven enough for me."

Dr. Medin a Wide Traveler.

Dr. Anders Sven Hedlin, the illustrious traveler, who lately returned from a wonderful Asiatic journey, was born at Stockholm on Feb. 19, 1865. Stockholm, Upsala, Berlin and Halle contributed to his education and his first expedition was through Persia and Mesopotamia in 1886-86. In 1890 he was a member of King Oscar's embassy to the late shah of Persia, and in the same year began a journey through Khorasan and Turkestan. In 1892 he started on what proved to be a four years' expedition through Asia from Orenburg to Peking, via Lop-nor and Tibet, and his late journey through much of the same country and including severe trials in the Gobi desert was begun in 1899 and ended only last year.
