Where the Public Looks On.

Shearing lambs on Wall street is less profitable than it was a year or two ago; the wool does not grow so fast as it has been clipped, and some of the lambs are getting wise. At the height of the speculative boom a good deal over $50,000 was paid for more than one seat on the Stock Exchange. Recently a seat was sold for $75,000, and on Friday one was sold for $20,000. There is one form of business that can shrink a good deal without inflicting injury upon the country.

IDEAL CHIEF OF DEMOCRACY.

Czarina of Russia Has Good Opinion of French President.

"M. Loubet," the czarina of Russia said some time ago, "is just the ideal chief of a democracy which I pledged to myself when as a young girl I studied ancient and modern history. He is not a man of uniform. He seems to my mind clothed with a toga or other garment of antiquity." It is admitted that the present chief magistrate of the French republic is the most republican the country has ever possessed. Born a son of the bourgeoisie, Emile Loubet has risen by his own good sense to the point of working in the room of Napoleon I. and sleeping in a bed occupied by Napoleon III. Not that these honors affect the man, but he is most jealous of the dignity of his high office. This absence of a personal pride makes him a marked contrast to his predecessor, President Faure, who was laughingly dubbed "Emperor Felix" by the people of the boulevards.

The Press-Journal.

Mrs. Mollie Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when she felt an attack coming on. Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack. Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by All Druggists.

Cannon to Be in Society.

Owing to his elevation to the speaker-ship Congressman Cannon expects to take a little more active part in social doings of Washington next winter. His house is presided over by his daughter, a bright Wellesley college graduate, popular in the congressional set.

A Gentle Hint.

"I trust, Mr. Brown," said a Georgetown young lady to the young man who was about to depart, "that you will spend one more evening with us before we move into our new house." "Delighted, I assure you," replied the young man, beaming with satisfaction. "By the way, when do you expect to move?" "I am not positive as to the exact date," she answered, "but the workmen began excavating for the foundation yesterday, and we expect, if the work goes on without interruption, to be able to move in about eight or ten months."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Relic of a Bygone Age.

In his "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," Thomas E. Watson of Georgia says that one of his valuable sources of information was "the venerable Jesse Maury, now 83 years of age, but who yet retains possession of his mental and physical vigor. This most estimable citizen was a member of the volunteer escort who rode with Lafayette on his last visit to Monticello. He is, perhaps, the only man now living who can claim a personal and vivid recollection of both Lafayette and Jefferson."

THE MOVEMENT OF STOCKS.

Different Effects Produced in Different Localities.

Russell Harding, known as one of the finest of the splendid corps of officials that George Gould has gathered about him for the administration of his railroads, believes that the business of a railroad official is running a railroad, not making stocks move. He was interviewed not long ago by a reporter who asked many questions about the railroad, and finished his series with this one: "When do you think the stock will begin to move, Mr. Harding?" "It's moving now," said the general manager. "We haul several hundred cars a day into Kansas City. They complain that the conditions are not just right."

"I mean the securities—the stocks," interrupted the reporter.

Mr. Harding smiled, but said disquietedly, "I don't know anything about it. When we move stock out west it helps to pay Missouri Pacific dividends, but when they move it here it doesn't seem to help anything, except, perhaps, the Waldorf bar."—Boston Post.

Time's Changes in China.

It is only about three years since the dowager empress of China loathed foreigners and everything foreign, but in that time the Chinese court has been modernized in many ways. At a recent entertainment in her palace at Peking the Misses Yu Keng, the two daughters of an ex-minister to Paris, danced a minuet dressed as a French peasant boy and girl. On the same evening four Chinese princesses went through a quadrille, the empress looking on with evident pleasure. Not so long ago a Chinese woman who dressed as a man brought lasting disgrace on herself and her relatives.

Saw a Group of Tornadoes. At Oakley the other day the people witnessed the spectacle of five tornadoes whirling along at the same time. They would dart their scudlike tails toward the ground, leaving them up to dart again, but only one reached the earth. This one tore along up for about twenty minutes in passing over a considerable scope of country and then vanished aloft in a purple-black cloud.—Kansas City Journal.

New President of Liberia.

Arthur Barclay, the recently elected president of Liberia, is of pure African stock born in Jamaica, whence his parents emigrated to the African republic when he was still a child. He has already held several government positions there, among them those of postmaster general and secretary of the treasury. At his inauguration, which takes place in December, Mr. Barclay will become the thirteenth president since Liberia became independent in 1847.

Cure for Tired Nerves.

A note from Geneva states that a Swiss physician has invented a new cure for nervous diseases. It is tea made with melted snow; the snow is melted first and then the water is added. The taste of the tea, it is stated, is insipid and disagreeable, but soothes the nerves. It is reported that a number of nervous people have been cured by it.

Our Latest Doctrine.

In answer to Spain's claim that the $20,000 found in the captured Spanish vessel at Santiago belongs to her, Secretary Root has advanced the American doctrine of "finders keepers."—Washington Post.

Possibly You Have.

"Have you ever noticed," inquired the thoughtful theorist, "that the rich man who says there's no happiness in wealth never seems to be disposed to change places with his poor neighbor?"

Expert Parrot Cyclist.

In Berlin a parrot cyclist is drawing great crowds of admirers. The bird conducts itself like an experienced rider, working with its feet the pedals of a diminutive machine whose grooved tire runs along a tight-rope. With its beak it manages the handle bar, it carries along another parrot hanging on a traverse beneath, and thus maintains perfect equilibrium.

Rostand's Famous Waistcoats.

Rostand, who was made an "immortal" in Paris recently, is famous for his fancy waistcoats, of which he is said to own over 100. Indeed, the French papers talk more about his varicolored garments than about his literary work.

Socialism in England.

Municipal corporations in England have incurred debts aggregating $1,250,000 on socialistic lines. They run gas works, water works, street railways, docks, baths, markets, swimming, race courses, dairies and hotels.
