A Wall Atlas Free.

The Lincoln Daily Star has just issued a handsome Wall Atlas of five pages, size of page 28x28 inches. It consists of a fine map of Nebraska with statistical information in regard to county areas, population, etc.; a map of the United States with information regarding area, population, legislatures, etc.; a map of the Eastern Hemisphere and another of the Western Hemisphere. The maps are all of the latest date, handsomely lithographed in colors, making a useful and valuable premium. This Wall Atlas will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will send $1.50 to The Daily Star for a six months' subscription. The Daily Star is Nebraska's favorite evening paper. Its motto is: "All the News, All the Time." It publishes four editions daily, at 11 a. m., 1 p. m., 3 p. m., and 4 p. m. It is the greatest newspaper bargain in Nebraska. Its telegraph news, its state news, its editorials and local news are the best to be found in the state. Try it for six months. Send $1.50 and you will receive the Wall Atlas free. THE DAILY STAR, Lincoln, Nebr.

Good Blood in Their Veins.

Ethnologists of the Smithsonian Institution have investigated the Filipinos, with results that are of rare interest to science, says Scientific American. They have called attention to the fact that in the veins of the tribes of the archipelago flows the blood of all the races and varieties of man.

LEGAL NOTICE

IN DISTRICT COURT OF SIOUX COUNTY, NEBRASKA.
 In the Matter of the Estate of SAMUEL MARSTELLER, Deceased.
 ORDER FOR HEARING.

On reading the petition of Charles F. Coffey, administrator of the estate of said deceased, praying for license to sell his real estate described in the petition, for the purpose of paying the debts of said deceased, and the expenses of administering upon his said estate, and it appearing therefrom that there is not sufficient personal estate of said deceased in the hands of said administrator to pay the debts now outstanding against said deceased and the expenses of administering on his estate, it is therefor ordered, hereinafter by the undersigned district judge that said petition be heard at chambers in the village of Rushville, Nebraska county, Nebraska, on the 25th day of September, A. D. 1903, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and that all persons interested in said estate do then and there appear to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administrator to sell a portion of the real estate of said deceased, described as follows: The south west quarter of section thirty five (35) in township thirty three (33) north, of range fifty four (54) west, and the north west quarter of section three (3) in township thirty one (31) north, of range fifty six (56) west, in said county, Nebraska, and that a copy of this order be published for four successive weeks in a public newspaper to be published in said county of Nebraska, and generally circulating in said county of Nebraska.

Dated Rushville, Nebraska, Aug. 26, 1903.
 A. W. MILLER, W. H. WEAVER,
 Attorney for the Plaintiff. Judge of the District Court.

Take a walk through any of the communities of the country, and you will almost believe that the birds are slowly but surely passing away. You pass the last resting place of man who blew down the gun to see if it was loaded. A little further down the hillside is buried the man who tried to see how close he could get in front of a moving train. In strolling about you pass the modest monument of the hard girl that started a fire with her own hand and the grave covered mound of what remains of the boy that pulled the gentle tractor's tail. The tall sheet of the man who been out the gas, overshadows the boy who jumped from the train to save a ten rods walk. Sable by sale lie the ethereal creature who always kept her eyes fixed to the last days and the intellect that who rode a bicycle one miles in ten minutes. Here resides the doctor who took a dose of his own medicine and just over there with the top of a shoe box driven down by his head lies the old fool that married a young wife.

Rant over yonder, in the mountainous corner, the gentle breeze sigh through the weeping willows that is not over the lovely bed where lies the fellow who told his mother-in-law that she had, down there in the parlor's fire with his feet sticking out to the cold drafts of winter and the hissing rays of the summer sun is stretched the earthly remains of the magnified regulator who tried to flick the editor while the broken bones of the man who would not pay for his paper are piled up in a corner of the fence. Over by the gate resides the boy who went swimming on Saturday, and the old woman that kept being prodded side by side with strychnine in the cupboard. Those with others are quietly waiting for Gabriel to follow his great awaking trumpet.—Ex.
