Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deed are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in the community who might truthfully say: My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by All Druggists.

SUBSERVICENCY OF THE SLAV.

No Thought Beyond the Pleasing of Their Superiors. Of the subservency of Russian court officials many stories are told. It is said to pervade much of the whole Russian official world, reaching in the lower ranks the highest point of absurdity and idiocy. A Russian writer says that when a student of the Royal College of Perceptors in Moscow he witnessed the following scene: "The director of the college, M. Barsky, came in the evening to our rooms to see whether the students were at work, as some of them were wont to leave the premises without permission. At the entrance he met the headie, a retired soldier. Director: 'Are all your students in?' Headie: 'Exactly so, your honor.' D—'Is Abramvotch in, too?' B—'Exactly so.' D—'You are a liar, you villain!' B—'Exactly so, your honor.' The scene continued in the same strain and it appeared that the director had just before met Abramvotch out in the street, he being wont frequently to absent himself without permission."

Rich Women in Feud.

Mrs. Jeanette P. Goin is one of New York's richest women, but is never seen in society, for which she expresses vast contempt. Mrs. Goin owns an immense deal of valuable real estate. Adjoining her home on Fifth avenue is that of Mrs. Perry Belmont, who built an extension some time ago, thereby cutting off Mrs. Goin's light and air. The latter thereupon quietly purchased a lot around the corner, on which she built a high stone fence. Mrs. Belmont's extension has been much darkened in consequence, but Mrs. Goin declares her fence will remain until Mrs. Belmont's extension shall have been taken down.

Women Dentist Retires.

Dr. Elvira Castner of Marienfeld, near Berlin, who was one of the first German women to come to this country to study a profession closed to her in Germany, has given up her profession of dentistry after many years of successful work, and is devoting herself to a school of horticulture for women, founded by herself. There are now a number of women dentists in Germany.

Hint Proof.

"You must not imagine," she said, "that I would be willing to sit here alone with you if you were not so big and strong, and able to pick me up in your arms as if I were a mere child—in case anything happened." Then because nothing happened she told her friends that he was dull-witted and probably had a soul like a withered lemon.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TRIBUTE TO HIS LAWYER.

Negro Convict's Idea of Who Sent Him to Prison.

A joint committee of the recent session of the Louisiana legislature visited the state penal farms at Angola and Hope for the purpose of reporting on the work done by the board of control. The members of the committee spent considerable time talking with the negro convicts, and presently one of the negroes recognized a member of the committee, who is a rising young lawyer in New Orleans. "So you know Mr. B—?" Inquired one of the committee. "Yas, sah, I know Mr. B— mighty well. He's de one sent me heah," replied the dorky, a grin spreading all over his face. The member of the committee had not heard of Mr. B— officiating as a prosecuting attorney and he wanted to know how he came to send the convict there. "He was my lawyer, sah," explained the dorky.—Louisville Herald.

GOOD JOKE ON "FITZ."

Comedian Made Capital Out of Prize Fighter's Bald Head.

Bob Fitzsimmons, the ex-prize fighter, has many friends in the theatrical profession. Whenever he enters a theater the management usually arranges that the popular pugilist is conducted to the best seat in the house. Should vaudeville or comic opera occupy the board on Fitzsimmons' entry then the comedians do not hesitate to make capital out of his presence. While "Fitz" was in a Chicago theater recently one comedian said to another: "Do you know that Fitzsimmons is as strong as Samson?" "I don't believe it." "He is. Why, he could come up here, and, like Samson, bring down the house. I say he's stronger than Samson." "Prove it, prove it," shouted the doubting actor. And while Fitzsimmons sat there contentedly rubbing his bald head the comedian explained: "If 'Fitz' can bring down the house without any hair on his head, what could he do if he had hair like Samson's?"—Detroit Free Press.
