FIRST KIDNEY PILL MADE. THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERY. THE ONLY GENUINE.

Wm. H. NEIGHORNS, the well-known jeweler of West Main Street, Wytheville, Va., says: "Some four years ago an attack of grip settled in my back, and I have suffered off and on ever since with a dull, heavy aching across the small of my back, always more severe in the morning. It was difficult for me to stoop or straighten, and if I sat down for any length of time it was hard for me to arise. I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the dull, disagreeable aching left me."

H. B. McCARVER of 201 Cherry Street, Portland, Oregon, inspector of freight cars for the Transcontinental Company, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble which had annoyed me for months. I think a cold was responsible for the whole trouble. It seemed to settle in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rooted it out. It is several months since I used them, and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

Mrs. GEORGE WALLACE, Jr., of Elmira, N. Y., wife of George Wallace, broker, of West Water Street, and living at 687 Baldwin Street, says: "In March, 1897, I was cured of kidney and bladder trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. My physician said at that time that my life could be saved only by an operation. Night after night I had been kept awake for hours at a time with terrible pain in my back, and the secretions from the kidneys were in as bad a state as possible. I suffered with hemorrhages frequently and was in a weak state. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I now gladly recommend the remedy, because during the time which has since elapsed, nearly seven years, I have never had the slightest sign of a return of the trouble."

EDITORS AND THE PUBLIC.

First Printer—"How did you lose your job?"

Second Printer—I made some queer mistakes in setting up a leading editorial. Why, sir, they were so funny that they started the whole town to laughing. Yes, sir. Never saw people so amused. And yet the editor got mad and bounced me.

That shows how genius is handicapped. No matter how much you please the public you'll get fired if you don't please the one little fraction who happens to be the editor.

To Succeed in Raising Hogs.

Hogs of 200 to 250 pounds weight are best for family use. In dressing a hog it should be so hung that it can be split down the back, and the sides allowed to separate, the head being cut off. The fat and some other surplus fat should be removed at once. This allows the meat to cool thoroughly, and it is in good shape to handle. The meat barrel should be kept in a cool place without freezing. A good way to keep the hams and shoulders after being cured is to slice and try and pack in jars, covering with hot lard. Fresh pork may be kept this way in hot weather, but it must be thoroughly cooked. While the cured meat requires much less cooking to preserve it.

Allow the hog to thoroughly cool before cutting, carefully trim hams and shoulders and split the sides in two lengthwise. Sprinkle bottom of barrel with fine salt, and rub each piece of meat with salt. Pack in barrel as follows: Water, 8 gallons; salt, 12 pounds; sugar, 3 pounds; salt-peter, 3 ounces; concentrated lye, 3 teaspoons. Boil all together and skim. After cooling, pour over the meat. Leave in brine from four to six weeks, then smoke as desired. The brine should be strong enough to bear up an egg.—Philadelphia Record.

Rain and Sun Proof Coops.

I have a chicken coop which I think suits me better than any other I have tried before. This coop is made out of cheap lumber. The bottom is hung at the back to the upper part. At the front I drive two staples to fasten the coop down so as it can be moved about. The upper part comes down over the floor all the way so that you can put a nail through the staples. The shade in the front is to keep the sun and rain out. These coops are very easy to clean.—J. C. Beraft in Poultry Keeper.

Care of Winter Apples.

Gathering and storing winter apples is an important duty that must be attended to before the heavy frosts begin in the fall. Apples that are to be kept over winter should be carefully picked and placed in barrels. After picking they should be left in the open air for some time, as this tends to thoroughly ripen them. They also pass through a sweat at first, and it is much better if they can be left exposed so that all surface moisture is evaporated. Fruit should be placed in a cool, dark cellar. In some instances where there are a few barrels of specially good apples the practice is adopted of wrapping the apples in paper. This prevents them from coming in contact with one another and will insure their keeping. It usually pays to pick over apples two or three times during the winter, so that those showing signs of decay may be discarded. Windfalls should never be placed among apples that are hand-picked. A plentiful supply of apples to be used in the family during the winter will contribute much to the general healthfulness of every member of the family.—Iowa Homestead.

A Primitive Threshing Machine.

A common sight in the agricultural districts of Hungary is two women treading out grain by means of a beam. The woman seated on the ground takes a bundle of grain and puts it under one end of the beam. When the grain is in place the woman leaning on the pole for support takes a step backward which has the effect of raising the broad, flat end of the beam, and making the other end fall in a hole made for that purpose. Then a quick step forward, with some little pressure, brings the thick end of the beam down on the wheat and flattens it out so effectively as to separate the grain from the husks.

Dairy Farm Side Lines.

Along with dairy farming naturally goes the poultry business. And a nice, clean, profitable business it is, too. Here is a fine field for the women folks. They naturally take more pride in the chickens than the man does, although now and then we find men who enter heart and soul into the keeping of poultry. There is always a good deal of skimmed milk on the dairy farm which would be apt to go to waste were it not for the hens. They are the greatest of scavengers. Every drop of the sour and skimmed milk is

A Remarkable Woman.

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Anna M. Willis, of this place, a charming old lady of 74 years, has given for publication a very interesting letter.

Mrs. Willis is widely known and highly respected, and the recommendation she gives is well worth the consideration of any one who may be interested. Mrs. Willis' address is R. R. No. 6, Kokomo. Her letter reads as follows:

"I have been troubled with kidney trouble for 20 years. It was so bad that it affected my heart and my back. It hurt so that I could not get up when down, and I began to think that I should be past doing anything. I was recommended to get Doan's Kidney Pills and purchased some at the drug store of Mr. G. E. Meek. After using several boxes, I was completely restored. I feel twenty years younger, and I am able to do all the usual work in the house and garden which a person who lives on the farm has to do, although I am 74 years of age."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, unless cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

If a garden is made on sandy soil especially in a section where nearly all the soil is sandy, the use of air-slacked lime will be found very beneficial, as such soils are deficient in lime. Gas lime will not serve as a substitute for stone lime, but shell lime is excellent, however, though the use of stone lime should be preferred. The cost is small compared with the benefits derived.
