There was quite a large attendance at district court this week, and His Honor soon disposed of the docket, there being only two jury cases and the others were judicial.

We understand that the fences on government land in the south part of the county are being taken down by the owners. It seems that this law is a dead letter no longer.

HERE AND THERE

Dr. Spindlo the Crawford dentist.

Eggs will be taken for trade at Lowry's.

We are glad to say that Mr. A. Rands is slowly improving from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. He was unable to help himself for about three weeks.

James Everson made the Press Journal office a pleasant call while he was here attending court as a juror. Mr. Everson added few words to the long list of Press Journal readers.

The Chardon Times, owned by Clark & Ricker, is for sale. Anyone wanting to go into the newspaper business would do well to see these gentlemen, for they have a good paper as well as a good location.

Deputy County Assessor John Jones took his book out Wednesday as that he can begin work on April 1. Mr. Christensen will make a good guesser and will give an account of the property in his territory.

Mr. H. Wickersham and family are domiciled in their new home, and all seem to be very well satisfied. We hope that property may smile upon them abundantly and that their new friends may be many and true.

The attorneys attending court this term were Messrs. W. H. Fleming and J. E. Porter, from Crawford, A. W. Jones, A. G. Fisher, of Chardon, and N. K. Graves, of Lincoln, and G. Guthrie and M. J. O'Connell, of Harrison.

Grand Ball

There will be a dance at the Opera House on Monday evening, April 4. Everybody invited to come and have a good time. R. C. Lunn, Manager.

Our weather prognosticators in the north west predicted a dry summer. Well, it is dry now, but we can't tell just when things are going to turn loose, so we are not losing any sleep over the matter for it won't help things one way or the other.

L. J. Ebert renewed his allegiance to the Press Journal this week. Mr. Ebert has been a supporter of his Moral Educator for a number of years and he knows a good thing when he sees it. Drop in again Mr. Ebert, we are always glad to see you.

We see that Fillmore county republicans have instructed their delegates to vote for J. L. McBurn for state superintendent of public instruction. In our opinion Nebraska hasn't a more competent man for that responsible office than Mr. McBurn.

Ex County Commissioner J. W. Meng was attending court this week. Meng is familiar from our streets was welcomed by his many friends. He served his people faithfully for five years as an officer, and as a citizen his interest in the affairs of the county have not decreased in the least. Such should always be the case with a loyal citizen. We wish our county had more such men as Mr. Meng.

Ex County Clerk W. J. A. Roun was attending court this week and shaking hands with his many friends in Harrison. Mr. Roun was excused from jury service for the past four years, but as soon as he was a private citizen again they nabbed him for a juror. Mr. Roun made an excellent clerk of the district court, as well as county clerk, and his face was not an unfamiliar one in the courtroom.

A. P. Rosenberg and daughter Hilda were taking in the sights in Harrison this week, and attending court at the same time. A. P. did not forget the poor printer while here, for which we feel thankful. If all subscribers were thoughtful of the printer, as is Mr. Rosenberg, hisarder would be better supplied, and there would be no need of wasting stamps on delinquents for there wouldn't be any.

The coroner's jury at Alliance returned a verdict that H. Miller came to his death from a shot fired by James Connelly. We hope the removing of the body to Alliance, and the request being held by a coroner from another county will not complicate matters. The Pioneer Grip claims the reason for moving the body was that they could not get the coroner from this county but this was wrong, for as soon as the message was received the coroner started for the scene of the killing, but upon arriving there he found that the body had been removed to Alliance and the inquest held there as above stated.

BODARC CLEANINGS.

Henry Zimmerman took a load of potatoes to Bodarc Saturday.

Louis Wohlfetter is busy hauling lumber from the saw mill.

Z. F. Anton is hauling posts this week to the old Knott place for M. J. O'Connell.

The robbers and maulers Jerks have come and several of the old goods have passed during the present week.

Every one is looking to get the water started in their ditches as from present indications we may expect a dry season.

Having been on the sick for the past week we have not had outside the opportunity or inclination to gather news.

The services at Bodarc last Sunday were well attended and those who were there speak well of the discourse delivered by J. B. Burke.

It is requested that all interested remember that Bodarc Sunday School will be reorganized Sunday April 5. Quarter dues will be distributed in time for all to be prepared, and we hope for a full attendance. M. A. G.

COTTONWOOD ITEMS.

Mr. Padgett of Whitcox was again in this locality buying potatoes, this time offering 70 cents but did not succeed in getting any.

There were only ten persons in attendance at Sunday School. We presume it is because it was an account of the wind storm.

The young folks report having a good time at the Adelia dance. Those in attendance from the valley were: M. D. Worthington, Miss R. E. Kutz, Mr. and Mrs. Parks, Joe and Blaine Boorb and Edwin Roun.

Frank Carlson had quite an accident the other day. While returning from a neighbors where he had been to purchase a dozen eggs he slipped and fell, breaking the eggs. As he was out at Sunday School it is suspected that he ate the eggs.

Mr. Howard has been in this neighborhood trying to establish a dipping tub. As there are plenty of cattle on the cottonwood it is hoped that all interested will help to push the matter to a successful termination.

Frank Spase left the valley Sunday to work for Fred Macomber on White River.

We hear that Aubrey Howe is out at night now since he has taken to being a hunter. While riding a had one the other night he kicked out the bedroom window. We advise him to move his bed to the center of the room so he ride in a circle.

A little joke is told on M. D. Worthington. Being out late one night and sleeping all day he was still too tired to get up for supper, when Frank Carlson served supper to him in bed, consisting of eggs on toast. He was eating and nodding now and then, when he suddenly declared that those were the best chicken dumplings he ever ate.

A. L. Myers has moved from his home near Five Points to the Shaw place, where he will farm this season.

We hope that Hay Seed has not of fended Timothy. No doubt being busy with her garden and chickens is the cause of her silence. HAY SEED.

Hunter Happenings.

Plenty of sand and every body around this country is getting quite gritty.

Mrs. Basset was down the road Friday evening.

Grandma Baldwin is visiting at East Andrews at present. She expects to stay a week or two.

Mr. Christensen and friend, Mr. Olson, went to Hot Springs, S. D., Wednesday of last week. Mr. Christensen came back Friday morning.

Mr. Jones came over from Six last via Harrison Saturday, going back Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hageman and children came over from Saw Post via Harrison. They stayed at East Andrews over night visiting friends there and at Hunter and South Hunter, going home in the evening after the sand storm had quieted down. We enjoyed their visit very much.

War Bonnet Topics.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Plunkett has been quite sick for some time. Dr. Phinney was called last Saturday but was unable to afford him any relief.

There was no Sunday School this week owing to sickness.

Lindley Paddy stopped over night with us Monday. He went up to Wyoming on a mission to Henry Moravak, conveying the intelligence that his sister Lucy was very sick. Upon his arrival back here both he and his horse were completely played out, and he was finally persuaded to remain all night.

Mr. Pencer and daughter were out from Lincoln and ate dinner on their respective claims on the Divide Saturday, returning to Lincoln in the evening. This is a long ways to go to eat your dinner.

Mrs. George Rocks is staying with Mrs. Johnson at present.

Edward and Nellie Scott visited with their aunt, Mrs. Dime, on the Divide Sunday.

We understand that Jack Finley took one prize at the masquerade and Miss Fills Norrish one. We believe a lady from War Bonnet took a prize last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke called on Mr. Plunkett last week.

Mr. Dunlap is busily engaged with his strawberry vines already. We expect to feast on strawberries and cream this summer.

We felt quite lonely last week as our Press Journal failed to appear and nothing to read.

Carey Items.

The meadow larks are here.

Alvert, Millers and Jim, Mackem are attending court at Harrison this week.

Mrs. Jane Griffin is helping Mrs. Bee-man cook for the men at the new saw mill.

Farming is in full swing.

W. Grove shipped a car of fat steers last Monday.

Mr. Jas. Walpole is the possessor of a new wagon.

The Post Top literary society will hold their closing meeting next Saturday evening at district No. 8. Miss Bosse Powers will aid in the program by having the last day of school exercises at that time. Her school closes the Friday

Woman Suffrage From a Colorado Point of View.
In Colorado the statute of justice that crowns the city hall, court house and capitol is not a lie. For the capitol in Washington and forty one other states of the Union the figure of St. Paul would be more fitting than that of the Goddess of Liberty. Unfettered tradition and prejudice Colorado has dared to do right. She has given to woman what Solomon gave to Sheba—"whosoever she asked," and she has no regrets and no desire to recall the gift. After ten years of experience equal suffrage in Colorado needs neither apology nor defense. No harm has come to either woman, man or state. Woman have not misred in the pool of politics. She is purifying it. She has raised the atmosphere of the polls with- out lowering herself, at the polls. Woman are as free from insult as in the vestibule of a church. Now and then a woe may take a man's view of politics and use a ballot corruptly, but for every corrupt woman in politics, you can find one hundred men equally as foolish and with more power for wrong doing. Last year one poor deluded woman was caught repeating, and among the ants there was more rejoicing over that one that went astray than over the sixty and nine that were true. The professional politician says that the woman vote is uncertain. No greater tribute could be paid. In the uncertainty the gangster can read his doom. The nation runs riot in generosity to the kin from beyond the sea. It is time we turned to the best half of American citizens and naturalize our Miss Anthonys and Mrs. Stones; the Red Cross knights, like Miss Barton; the Helen Gauds, Jane Addams, and the Mrs. Gatts. These are of more worth to the destiny of our country than the steaming cargoes of a thousand steamships.—Ex-Governor Alva Adams of Colorado.

Rate as Human Food.
A successful rat show was held at Cheltenham, England, recently. There were sixty exhibits of black, gold, gray, white, plebeal and tan rats. They are not yet part of the live stock of the farm, but as vermin were fattened by the ancient Romans a British farm journal thinks there is just a chance that rats might be bred for table use.

The Lavender of Life.
The world goes all too fast, my love; I am tired of the restless race, And my heart has gone back to the rose in a quiet garden place— To the moist and the mossy sundial And the yew, where the shadows steal To the love at the lattice window And the song at the spinning-wheel. The world goes all too fast, my love, With its dance and revel and wine; And my heart has gone back to the hollyhock. And an oak-framed love of mine— Gone back, gone back for a hundred years. From a world of greed and strife, To the harp and the brooder's rapience And the lavender of life. —English Country Life.
