

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

Fried's Soup. Cut up very finely any fresh vegetables such as carrot, turnip, an onion, two leeks, some celery and the heart of a small cabbage. Put them into a saucepan, with four ounces of butter or good beef dripping, and one ounce of brown sugar. Sprinkle them with pepper and salt, and cook them gently for about twenty minutes. Then add a pint and a half, or rather more, of weak stock or water, and let all boil gently for an hour. Fry some bread, and serve as croutons of dice with the soup, which has been placed in a hot tureen.

Bread. Work into a quart of flour a tablespoonful of shortening, wet with a quart of warm water, add a tablespoonful of sugar and a half yeast cake dissolved in warm water. Beat hard for ten minutes, then cover and set aside all night. In the morning work in two quarts of sifted flour, kneading for ten minutes. Cover and set to rise for four or six hours, or until light. Make into loaves, kneading each of these for five minutes. Cover with a cloth and when very tight bake.

Fig Pudding. Put into a bowl a cup each of fine bread crumbs and milk and stand for an hour. Add a quarter-cupful of powdered sugar, a half-cup of granulated sugar, three eggs, beaten light, and cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Last of all, stir in a cupful of minced figs well dredged with flour. Turn into a greased pudding mold with a closely fitting top and boil for about three hours. Turn out and eat with a hard sauce.

Plain Sponge Cake. Into the beaten yolks of five eggs stir a cupful of sugar and a teaspoonful of flour that has been sifted three times with a teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat for at least fifteen minutes, before adding a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and then fold in lightly the stiffened whites of the eggs. Bake immediately in a loaf-pan in a good oven for about three-quarters of an hour.

Strawberry Ice Cream. Place a pint of cream in a saucepan with half a pound of sugar and set over the fire to heat, when the sugar is dissolved stand aside to cool; add another pint of cream. Mash a quart and a pint of ripe strawberries with half a cupful of sugar and let stand an hour; then strain the juice off, pour into the cream, mix well and turn into the freezer.

To Remove a Tight Glass Stopper. Wrap round very hot rags or flannel, wrung out of boiling water; or pour a little salad oil on the top and let it remain a week, then pour more oil and let it remain; when the oil has soaked between the bottle and stopper it will come out so easily that if the bottle be turned up, the stopper may be shaken out.

Almond Nougat. Boil together a pound of sugar and a half gill of water until the syrup is brittle when dropped in cold water. Cover the bottom of a well-buttered tin with shelled and blanched almonds split in half. When the candy is done add to it a teaspoonful of lemon juice and pour it upon the nuts in the pan. When it cools out into squares.

Oatmeal Bread. Set a sponge overnight, as for white bread, and in the morning work into it two cups of oatmeal, with a teaspoonful of molasses. Knead long and hard and set to rise. When very light make into loaves and set in a warm place for an hour or until light. Bake in a steady oven. Cover with paper the first half-hour.

Short Suggestions. Ammonia painted over woodwork will deepen its color. Don't allow grease to burn on the outside of your fryingpan. Kettles may be thoroughly cleaned by boiling potato peelings in them. Never put a table linen that has fruit stains into hot soapuds. It sets the stain. Don't throw or drain vegetables in the sink. It will necessitate your calling a plumber, as pieces will get into the pipes. To have a custard pie of an even, nice brown when baked sprinkle a little sugar over the top just before putting into the oven. When cooking green vegetables a small particle of soda added to the boiling water just before putting in the vegetables will keep them in fresh color. One-fourth of an inch is the correct width for the hem on a tablecloth unless the cloth is woven with a border on four sides, when the hem should then be turned to make the distance between the border and edge the same as on the selvage edges. There will be no disagreeable odor during the cooking of cabbage or cauliflower if put on in cold water to which has been added a good pinch of baking soda. They must be cooked about twenty minutes after the water reaches a boil and the saucepan should be left uncovered during the entire process.

Clayton T. Teetzel, of Chicago, will have charge of the courses given in physical training in the summer session of the University of Michigan for 1904. Mr. Teetzel was graduated from the law department of the University in 1900. The three succeeding years he had charge of the work in athletics at the Michigan State Normal College. During the summers of 1901, 1902 and 1903 he conducted the courses in physical training in the summer sessions of the University of Michigan. He is now a lawyer in Chicago.

A Suburb of Hades—A lively and breezy individual from the Windy City drifted into one of the uptown hotels yesterday and used the public telephone to talk to a friend in Brooklyn. When he was through he offered the young woman at the switchboard ten cents. "Twenty cents, please" she said. "Twenty cents!" he shouted indignantly; "twenty cents! Why in Chicago we can telephone to Hades for ten cents."

"Yes," responded the operator sweetly, "but you know, that is in the city limits."—New York Mail. The forestry department of the University of Michigan has received and placed in its laboratory a gift from the Marble Safety Axe Company, of Gladstone, Mich., of a set of samples of the company's manufactures for woodsmen. The set includes safety axes, axe sheathes, cutting knives with sheaves, compass, pedometer, gun cleaners, and a kit.

Strawberry Sandwiches.—Cut medium sized strawberries in two, sprinkle with sugar and let stand for an hour or two. Butter thin slices of bread very generously with perfectly fresh sweet butter and add the sliced berries.

The Vienna school of artists as "secessionists" has installed an exhibit in the Australian pavilion at the World's Fair. The work of these artists, while being severely criticised by orthodox artists, presents many points of interest and is sure to attract much curious attention. Harry Lehr will not visit the St. Louis Exposition this summer until these savage leopards are cured of their taste for lapdogs and like delicacies.—Washington Post.

Cure for Backache. Randolph, Neb., May 20.—Cedar Co. has seldom heard of a more wonderful cure than that of Mrs. Lucy Nicolls, of this place. For a long time Mrs. Nicolls suffered with very severe pains in the back and almost instantly these pains left her. She has tried doctors and everything, but nothing had helped her till she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills did me so much good I can't tell, it was so wonderful. My back hurt me all the time, I doctored and tried everything, but did not feel any better. I thought my life was short on earth, but now I feel like a new person. I used a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I do not feel the slightest ache or pain. I can turn and twist any way without feeling it, and I feel so proud of it I cannot hardly express my gratitude to Dodd's Kidney Pills for what they have done for me."

Sycamore is a very durable wood, a statute from it now in the Museum at Gizeh, Egypt, is reported sound and natural in appearance, although nearly 6,000 years old. Delightfully suggestive of the "1890" period is barge—a thin, open mesh fabric that may be had in a variety of colorings and novelty effects.

The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restless sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recommended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—Miss FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warrenton St., Boston, Mass.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Free to Twenty-Five Ladies. The DeLancey Starch Co. will give 25 ladies a round trip ticket to the St. Louis Exposition, to five ladies in each of the following states: Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri who will send in the largest number of trade marks cut from a ten cent, 16 ounce package of DeLancey cold water laundry starch. This means from your own home, anywhere in the above named states. These trade marks must be mailed to and received by the DeLancey Starch Co., Omaha, Neb., before September 1st, 1904. October and November will be the best months to visit the Exposition. Remember that DeLancey is the only starch put up in 16 oz. (a full pound) to the package. You get one-third more starch for the same money than of any other kind, and DeLancey never sticks to the iron. The tickets to the Exposition will be sent by registered mail September 5th. Starch or sale by all dealers.

STAGE REALISM.

Trouble of a Too Sympathetic Woman in New Jersey. "I never go to theaters" said a New-Jersey temperance woman. "I'm too sympathetic. The last time I went to a theater was twenty years ago. Partly in one act, and I'd have died with her if my husband hadn't carried me out."

"You'd get over your sympathetic feelings if you went often nowadays," her friend said. "No, I wouldn't," she replied. "I tried to get over it at school, but it grew. I used to be considered good in recitations and dialogues, and one time our class gave 'Ten Nights in a Bar-room.' I was Sam Siade's wife, and I so hated that man I couldn't eat. I got as thin as a rail. And when the play came off, and the glass struck the little girl's head, I was so overcome with the horror of it that I screamed until the people in the audience thought the little girl had been really killed."

"Was that your last appearance?" "No, I tried it again. 'The Lady of Lyons' I think it was, although I'm not sure. Anyway, I was the wife of a rich man, and he died, and his partner beat me and the children out of all our money, and we went from bad to worse, and the children were ragged and starving, and I had no bread to give them—poor little wretches, how hungry they were!—so I made up my mind to kill myself with charcoal. One night I sent them away and lighted a charcoal stove and lay down beside it and died. Truly, as I stand here I died. I can remember a couple of men climbing over the footlights, and the audience standing up all excited. When I came to I was at home in bed, where I had been for nearly a week."

"Was there real charcoal in the stove?" "Of course not, only a lighted candle. But that didn't make any difference. I died!—Newark Evening News.

WHERE SHIPS' SAIL SING.

Reverberation of San Salvador Chimes Is Heard Through the Canvas. Phenomena at sea, both on land and sea, are by no means uncommon, as those who have traveled far by water of late some curious facts have been noted with regard to the sound-conducting qualities of ships' sails. When rendered concave by a gentle breeze the widespread sails of a ship are said to be excellent conductors of sound.

A ship was once sailing along the coast of Brazil, far out of sight of land. Suddenly several of the crew while walking along the deck noticed that when passing and re-passing a particular spot they always heard with great distinctness the sound of bells chiming sweet music, as though being rung but a short distance away. Dumbfounded by this phenomena, they quickly communicated the discovery to their shipmates, but none of them was able to solve the enigma as to the origin of these seemingly mysterious sounds which came to them across the water.

Months afterward, upon returning to Brazil, the crew determined to satisfy their curiosity. Accordingly they mentioned the circumstances to their friends and were informed that at the time when the sounds were heard the bells in the cathedral of San Salvador, in the coast, had been ringing to celebrate a feast held in honor of one of the saints.

Their sound, wonderful to relate, favored by a gentle, steady breeze, had traveled a distance of upward of 300 miles over the smooth water and had been brought to a focus by the mists at the particular locality in which the sweet sounds were first heard. This is but one of the several instances of a similar kind, trustworthy authorities claiming that this same music is often heard under somewhat identical circumstances, and especially in a moisture-laden atmosphere.

BUYING RUBIES IN BURMA.

A Peculiar Method of Bargaining for the Precious Stones. The peculiar business methods of Oriental merchants are illustrated by the manner of buying rubies in Burma. In the examination of rubies of artificial light is not used, the merchants holding that full sunlight alone can bring out the color and brilliancy of the gems. Sales must therefore take place between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., and the sky must be clear.

The purchaser, placed near a window, has before him a large copper plate. The sellers come to him one by one, and each empties upon this plate his little bag of rubies. The purchaser proceeds to arrange them for valuation in a number of small heaps. The first division is into three grades, according to size; each of these groups is divided into three piles, according to color, and each of these piles, in turn, is again divided into three groups, according to shape. The bright copper plate has a curious use. The sunlight reflected from it through the stones brings out, with true rubies, a color effect different from that with red spinels and tourmalines, which are thus easily separated.

The buyer and seller then go through a very peculiar method of bargaining by signs, or, rather, grips, in perfect silence. After agreeing upon the fairness of the classification, they join their right hands, covered with a handkerchief or the flap of a garment, and by grips and pressures mutually understood among all these dealers, they make, modify and accept proposals of purchase and sale. The hands are then uncovered and the prices are recorded.—Jewelers' Weekly.

U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA Recommends Pe-ru-na For Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

EX-SENATOR M. C. BUTLER

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Catarrh of the Stomach is Generally Called Dyspepsia—Something to Produce Artificial Digestion is Generally Taken.

Hence, Pepsin, Pancreatin and a Host of Other Digestive Remedies Has Been Invented.

These Remedies Do Not Reach the Seat of the Difficulty, Which is Really Catarrh.

EX-Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter to The Peru-na Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., says: "I can recommend Peru-na for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."—M. C. Butler.

The only rational way to cure dyspepsia is to remove the catarrh. Peru-na cures catarrh. Peru-na does not produce artificial digestion. It cures catarrh and leaves the stomach to perform digestion in a natural way. This is vastly better and safer than resorting to artificial methods or narcotics. Peru-na has cured more cases of dyspepsia than all other remedies combined, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If catarrh is located in the head, Peru-na cures it. If catarrh has fastened itself in the throat or bronchial tubes, Peru-na cures it. When catarrh becomes settled in the stomach, Peru-na cures it, as well in this location as in any other. Peru-na is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peru-na is a catarrh-remedy. Peru-na cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh.
