Down at Tecumseh the other day a circus came to town and with it a lot of grafters seeking whom they might devour. The padlock man was there and the man with the shell game also, the Rubes came up and put down their dough and it was blandly gathered in by the grafter. One "honest" old cocker lost $700, and other honest men dropped lesser wads. Whereupon a mob organized and swept down upon the grafters with menacing mutterings, compelling them to disgorge and to thank heaven they were permitted to escape alive. Had the honest old codgers won they would have cracked their heels together instead of combining to bump the grafters. It is always wrong to gamble, when you loose.—EX.

It is said that a small Nebraska church was badly in need of repairs, and a meeting was held with a view of raising funds for that purpose. The minister having said that $500 would be needed, a very wealthy and stingy member arose and said he would give $1. Just as he sat down a large piece of plaster fell from the ceiling and struck him on the head, whereupon he hastily arose and said that he had made a mistake—that he would give $50. This was too much for an enthusiastic deacon present who, forgetful of everything, called out fervently: "Oh Lord, hit him again Hit him again"—Pierce County Call.

Hint Proof.
"You must not imagine," she said, "that I would be willing to sit here alone with you if you were not so big and strong, and able to pick me up in your arms as if I were a mere child—in case anything happened." Then he raised nothing happened she told her friends that he was dull-witted and probably had a soul like a withered lemon.—Chicago Record-Herald.
