The digging was witnessed by two of our citizens and their is no doubt that said rock has been dug out in Sherman County. Mr. Gibson has the rocks on exhibition. The Rommie Dental Company will visit Loup City March 30th, and will stay until April 3rd. Their headquarters will be at the St. Elmo Hotel where they will extract teeth without pain free of charge from 9 to 9:30 a. m. and from 1 to 1:30 p. m. each day to demonstrate to the public that they can and will do what they advertise with their painless and harmless Auasethetic. A very strange phenomenon is noticeable all over Nebraska. Although there has been but little rainfall in the state during the past year, there is an abundance of subsoil moisture. Wells that have long had little or no water in them are now favored with a liberal supply of the liquid. Streams are also higher than usual. In excavating in this city the subsoil has been found to be well supplied with moisture. It is difficult to account for the presence of this moisture. Some attribute it to the heavy snows in the mountains. No matter what the cause is the fact remains and makes the crop outlook for the coming season exceptionally bright. The great difficulty that Nebraska farmers have had to contend with the past year has been the lack of subsoil moisture. It would seem that this discouragement will not trouble them during the coming year.—Mason City Transcript.

Thorngate, editor of the Arcadia Champion was doing business at Loup City last Saturday. While in the city he made these headquarters a pleasant call. The three Daddow brothers, John Long, Frank Brewer and John Vandergrift were candidates who took first and second degree in the A. O. U. W. Lodge last Thursday evening. T. L. Pilger has had a force of seven men at work fixing up his farm south of town. He has thoroughly repaired the house, erected a new windmill and fixed up the yards and corrals in good shape. We understand that the members of the K. P. Lodge of this city were taken greatly by surprise at their meeting last Wednesday when their wives walked in, each with a basket full of all the good things to eat that the market affords. The surprise was much enjoyed by all present. While digging anchor post hole for to plant a windmill on the farm of T. L. Pilger, about a mile south of town it was noticeable that the farther down they went the more moist the earth became. The ground was very damp from the start and at the depth of four feet it was almost wet enough to make mud balls. This is another unmistakable evidence which tends to prove that the theory is correct regarding the ground being supplied with moisture from underneath. Old Mrs. Peters has been very sick for the past few days. It is reported to us that she was alone in her home for three days and scarcely able to help herself in any way. This is not as it should be. If her daughter who is living not a block away does not see fit to help or care for her it then becomes the duty of those having such matters in charge. We learn later that a number of ladies of the town have done what they can to add to her comfort. W. T. Draper returned last Friday from a two months trip to Iowa where he and his wife had been visiting friends and relatives. When Mr. Draper left here he thought to stay for a year or more but he was seized with a violent attack of Nebraska fever and came back satisfied to spend the remainder of his days this side of the Missouri river in old Nebraska land. He says that if he crosses that majestic stream again it will be under very pressing circumstances. Mrs. Draper remained for a two weeks visit with her daughter and will return in the early part of April. Wednesday evening some twenty members of the Eastern Star lodge gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Landers, the occasion being for the purpose of presenting to Mrs. Landers a beautiful coffee-pot, in recognition of her untiring efforts for the good of that order. The evening was most pleasantly spent in a social way, and an elegant repast, in which the new coffee-pot played a prominent part, was served. Those who have ever sat at Mr. and Mrs. Landers' table, can bear witness to the elegance of the spread. The party remained until a reasonable hour, when they departed each declaring that a most enjoyable evening had been spent.—Arcadia Champion. The Chicago Tribune of March 12th devotes nearly a column of space to giving an account of the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Emma Penepacker, of that place, a few days previously. Mrs. Penepacker is the wife of Sam'l S. Penepacker, a former resident of Arcadia who is now engaged in the law business in Chicago. The cause of the woman's disappearance is given as dementia caused by poor health. The article gives the following description of the missing woman, "Mrs. Penepacker is 34 years old, the daughter of William Hommeyer, an old resident of Kansas City, and was married in 1883. She has been sick most of the time since, having frequent spells of hysteria, and for several months has had fits of melancholy."—Arcadia Champion.
