A. Boone, THE Jeweler. Miss Edie Walworth has a new bike. C. L. Drake has started the town herd. M. P. Ford started for Utah this morning. 10 pounds best Oatmeal for 25 cents at Gasteyers. Kaffir Korn $1.85 per hundred pounds at Watkinson's. A solicitor for the World Heard was in town yesterday. Jacob Albers was doing business at the hub Saturday. N. B. Thompson was a pleasant caller at this office last Saturday. For Harness and anything in the Harness line see T. M. Reed. The rain fall in this locality for the month of April so far is 6.28 inches. Richard Baker, of Clear Creek did business at the county seat last Tuesday. Sheriff Patton made a business trip to J. W. Heapy's place on Clear Creek last Wednesday. Every one come out and hear J. G. Tate's lecture announced in another column of this paper. For Millet, Barley, Alfalfa and anything in the way of Field or Garden seed call on T. M. Reed. C. Smith has rented the lots south of this office, and intends to raise quite a garden the coming season. Mrs. F. W. Cline started for Schaler, Iowa last Tuesday morning for a month's visit with relatives. John Oltman moved his saloon fixtures into the old W. T. Chase drug store building last Saturday. The song by the male quartette was well rendered last Sunday evening at the League meeting held in the M. E. Church. The Juniors of the Baptist church gave a very interesting entertainment last Sunday night. The program was well carried out. If some one of our subscribers will bring us in a dozen box-elder or ash trees we will give them proper credit on subscription. Superintendent C. F. Johnson has purchased the Thos. Johnson residence property in the north east part of town and is materially improving it. F. W. Fuller called in to see ye editor last Friday having just returned from the Omaha republican State convention where he went as a delegate. J. B. O'Bryan wishes us to announce that he has the finest thorough-bred Jersey bull in the Loup country which he will stand at his farm this season. Don't fail to see him before breeding. G. H. Scott has the contract and is now moving the old Chicago lumber yard buildings, which have been purchased by Superintendent Johnson. They are being moved onto his residence property in the north east part of town. O. S. Brown made ye editor happy by paying two big art wheels on subscription last Tuesday; and this is the way he done it. He hauled us four nice loads of gravel for a walk in front of our new residence. Just as good as the cash in hand. Thanks Mr. Brown. The best blood medicine for twenty-five cents—enough for the whole family. Get a package of Simmons Liver Regulator, the best spring medicine and the best blood medicine, because it is the best liver medicine. If your liver is active it will throw off all impurity in the system, and all depression of spirit. Wake up your liver, but do it with Simmons Liver Regulator. J. H. Zellin & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. King Solomon's Notion. That "There is nothing new under the sun" does not always convey the truth. Especially is this true as regards the new composite cars now operated daily via the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwestern Line between Salt Lake City and Chicago. These handsome Buffet Smoking and Library Cars are entirely new throughout of latest design, contain all modern improvements, and are well supplied with writing material, the leading daily papers, illustrated periodicals, magazines, etc. The fact that these cars run daily via "The Overland Limited" and that the Union Pacific was the line west of Chicago to inaugurate this service should commend itself to all. See that your tickets read via "The Overland Route". The dance and entertainment given at the opera house last Friday night under the auspices of the Loup City orchestra was a complete success and was attended by a good sized crowd. The drama entitled "Bread Upon the Waters," must certainly have been selected especially to please all. The characters in the play were, W. R. Mellor, J. S. Pedler, F. W. Cline, Lawrence Smith, E. A. Brown, Mrs. W. R. Mellor, Mrs. F. W. Cline and Miss Janette Hamilton. All did first class. Brown and Pedler furnished more fun than you could shake a stick at, and captivated the roll every time they entered and left the stage. Mr. Mellor played the heavy part, personating the doctor. He did himself great credit. The ladies carried their parts well. The play itself was well worth the price of admission. It was quite lengthy and all had heavy parts.

I have Horses to sell or trade. T. M. REED. An abundance of rain so far this spring. E. A. Brown and family took a spin in the County Sunday. Mrs. L. E. Walworth made a business trip to Chicago last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Travis made a trip to Ravenna last Sunday. Hot bed sash for early plants, cheap at Watkinson's Hardware Store. Jas. Dau, of Boelus brought five living wolf puppies to town last Tuesday which he had dug out of their den near that place, Saturday last, but he failed to get the old mother wolf. J. G. Tate, the Grand Master Workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Nebraska, will lecture at the opera house on Wednesday evening, April 29th. Everybody is invited to attend. Admission free. A large amount of beautiful forest trees have been set out by our citizens on the fair grounds. Considerable grading has also been done and an artificial lake made. Some of our citizens went down to the grounds to-day to plant more trees and set out willow cuttings along the bank of the lake. Dr. F. E. von Koerber, of Omaha has permanently located here and has opened up his office in the old post office building one door east of Oden Dahl Bros drug store. Dr. von Koerber is a graduate of the Omaha Medical College and comes to us highly recommended by Dr. Sumner Davis, of Grand Island. He has fitted up a neat office and is now permanently settled for business. It is quite remarkable the number of "prairie schooners" that are making their way west again this spring. Last week we were at Grand Island, and the first of the week at Broken Bow; on each trip there seemed no end to the covered wagons on the road. They were going singly and in companies, and there were lots of them. We don't remember to have seen so many since along in the middle eighties. And every one we met, we wanted to shout back to them, "That's right, come back home again, where it rains, and stand up for Nebraska."—Greely Leder. We received $1.50 through E. A. Draper as payment on subscription to this paper which is being sent to Mrs. R. F. Fickling, a non-resident land owner, at Cambridge, Ill., who has been a cash subscriber to one of our weekly papers for the last twelve years. All non-resident land owners should take a local paper. It will keep them posted as to the crop conditions, the amount of rain fall, the value of their land, and the enterprises going on, and in fact a thousand and one things that they are most interested in. The Loup City Schools and the people of the village observed Arbor day in a very appropriate manner last Wednesday. All four schools banded together and carried out a very instructive and pleasing program. After the crowd gathered at the primary school building they were led by the band to the public school block in the north part of town where each school participated in the program. The exercises were opened by Prof. Mead, Principal. Each school did remarkably well and reflected credit on both pupils and teachers. Short addresses were made by Judge Wall and R. J. Nightingale. One of the principal features of the program was the planting of a tree by each of the four schools. The high school planted a beautiful Ash tree and named it after the author of Arbor day, J. Sterling Morton. The school board have in the past three years spared no pains or expense in planting trees upon, and otherwise beautifying the new school block, and the four trees planted last Wednesday will materially add to its beauty. The Loup City Cornet band are entitled to credit for the part they took, and the music rendered during the afternoon.

A HORRIBLE FIND. Two Skeletons Whose Discovery Points to a Believed Tragedy. A curious discovery was lately made by a vine-grower in the department of the Charvats, says the Belfast News-Letter. Adjacent his property are the ruins of an ancient chateau, which has been left to its fate for centuries. As part of one of the walls of this old pile was slowly crumbling, an approaching collapse, the peasant obtained permission to remove it and a few days ago he set to work to demolish it. After toiling for a couple of hours, to his amazement he came upon a couple of skeletons, the necks, arms and legs of which had been tightly bound to each other by iron links. They were in an erect position and it was evident that they were the remains of men who had been immured hundreds of years ago. The wine grower lost no time in drawing the attention of local antiquarians to his discovery and a careful investigation revealed further the presence of fragments of clothing which had been almost reduced to dust, as well as of a rusty weapon and two pieces of wood. The skeletons are to be placed in the Bordeaux museum, and great pains are being taken to insure their transport in the same position as that in which they were found. There is no doubt that some tragedy of the middle ages, of which possibly some record may survive, led to the confinement of these unfortunate victims in the manner described. It is a matter of course that the strange discovery is engaging the attention of antiquarians in that part of France, and it is by no means improbable that some clue to the mystery may be forthcoming ere long. A Galvanic Caterpillar Tearer. An electrician has invented a curious device to prevent caterpillars from crawling up trees. The scheme is simply to run alternate wires of copper and zinc around the trunk of the tree at a distance of about half an inch apart. When the wires have been placed in position Mr. Caterpillar starts his ascent. He strikes the copper wire, poles his little nose over it and continues. Half an inch further up his feet strike the zinc wire. Immediately the current is carried through his body. With a howl of pain Mr. Caterpillar drops to the ground, or if the current be strong enough remains a prisoner until the reaper comes. An Incurable Parrot. An old maiden lady who strongly objected to "followers" had as a companion a gray parrot with a wonderful faculty for picking up sentences. One day the old lady had cause to severely reprimand one of her maids for a breach of the "follower" ordinance. This so irritated the girl that, as a wind-up to the recital of her wrongs in the hearing of her fellow-servants and Polly, who happened to be with them, she exclaimed, passionately: "I wish the old lady was dead!" The parrot had no time in showing off its newly-acquired knowledge when next taken into the drawing-room, to the alarm of its elderly mistress, who superstitiously thought it was a warning from another world. She at once consulted the vicar, who kindly volunteered to allow his own parrot, which could almost preach a short sermon, sing psalms, etc., to be kept for a short time with the impious one, in order to correct its language. To this end they were kept together in a small room for a few days, when the lady paid them a visit in company with her spiritual adviser. To their intense horror, immediately the door was opened the lady's parrot saluted them with the ominous phrase: "I wish the old lady was dead!" The vicar's bird responding, with all the solemnity of an old parish clerk: "The Lord hear our prayer."—Feathered Word. A Grand Spanish Christening. At an interesting christening recently in the Spanish village of Heras, near Santander, although the parents of the babe belong to the lower orders, the priests donned their most magnificent robes and the altar of the village church was one blaze of light. The Alcalde and the other local authorities were present, for the infant was the queen's godson, child of Maximilian Pedraza, the nurse of Alfonso XIII. Maximina returned a short time ago to her home in Heras. She is a rich woman for one of her class. She has built a pretty cottage, where her fortunate husband sits and smokes his pipe and pretends to be looking after "his own property." Maximina receives ten pounds a month from the queen, besides other bounties, and her children will never lack patronage as long as Maria Christina lives. Her old-fashioned chest of drawers are full of fine linens. Her necklaces and earrings will be heirlooms for her little daughter, the foster sister of King Alfonso. Queen Christina was most pleased when Maximina's son was born the other day. She wrote that she would be the child's godmother, and that it should be Alfonso, after the king. That is why the village of Heras has witnessed such a grand christening.—Chicago Tribune. LOVE'S TRIALS. DAUGHTER (mushing)—"Papa, Alfred has been with you for an hour. What did he want?" Papa—"He asked me to lend him 500 francs—the idiot."—Le Figaro. BINGO—"Twenty years ago I was married at high noon in a dress suit. Kingley—"Well, things are different now." BINGO—"Not much. I still have the same suit."—Pomona Times. MISTRESS (to cook)—"You know, Marie, I cannot allow you to receive your pretended cousin in the kitchen every evening." "You are very kind, mum, but he's so very, very, mum, he won't step into the parlor!"—Charivari. THE GROUND OF HIS OBJECTS.—The Young Man—"Gracie, what is it your father sees in me to object to, darling?" The Young Woman (wiping away a tear)—"He doesn't see anything in you, Algeron. That's why he objects."—Chicago Tribune. BIRD COLDS BE GONE.—The oculician's wand is not more potent than Dr. Humphrey's Specific "T" for colds. For sale by all druggists.

DIED: On Thursday, April 23rd 1896, at his home in Loup City, Nebraska, of La Grippe and Pneumonia, James McGrady, at the age of 76 years, Mr. McGrady was born in Cattaraugus county, in the state of New York, June 3rd, 1820, where he remained until the year 1844, at which time he moved to Michigan, and in 1848 again moved to Prophetstown, Whiteside county, Illinois, where he resided permanently until February 26th, 1884, at which time he removed to Loup City, and has ever since resided in this county. The sickness which occasioned his death seems to have been the only serious illness of his life, and the struggle with the King of Terrors was severe and painful at its close. He died in the hope of a glorious immortality. He was married when 22 years of age to Mary Cox, of Cattaraugus county, New York and there were born to them six boys and one girl. Five of his children, the girl and four boys still survive him. His wife died in 1879. In 1884 he married his present wife, Malinda Shira. At his death and during his last sickness, there was in attendance upon him, his wife and daughter, Mrs. Belle Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGrady, and other friends whose kind and affectionate attentions helped to soothe his dying hours. The funeral services were held in the Baptist church at 2 o'clock p. m. and his remains were interred in the Evergreen cemetery near Loup City. Card of Thanks. Mrs. Malinda McGrady, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGrady and Mrs. Belle Pratt desire to express their sincere thanks to the many kind friends who assisted them during the sickness and death of their beloved husband and father. That there is now due and payable from the defendants Jan Badura and Joseph Jerabek upon said notes and mortgage and for monies advanced by plaintiff to foreclose said land from taxes the sum of $254.56 with interest on $300.00 from September 15th, 1892 to September 14th, 1893 at 8 per cent per annum and thereafter at 10 per cent, and on $250.00 from September 15th, 1891 to September 14th, 1892 at 8 per cent per annum and thereafter at 10 per cent, and on $250.00 from September 15th, 1890 to September 14th, 1891 at 8 per cent per annum and thereafter at 10 per cent, and on $31.90 at ten per cent per annum from January 24th 1896, for which sum plaintiff prays for a decree that defendants be adjudged to pay the amount due the plaintiff thereon and that in case default be made for 10 days to pay the same that said premises be sold to satisfy the amount found due. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 11th day of May, 1896. Dated this 30th day of March 1896. JOSEPH GUNDRY, Plaintiff. Attest: By R. J. NIGHTINGALE and LOUIS REIN, T. S. NIGHTINGALE and LOUIS REIN, His Attorneys. NOTICE OF SUIT TO NON-RESIDENT DEFENDANTS. In District Court of Sherman County, Nebraska, Charles A. Robinson, Plaintiff, vs. Mary Roschylnski, Joseph Roschylnski, S. R. Howell & Co., First National Bank of Chicago, T. F. McCarty, Kansas Manufacturing Company, Citizens National Bank of St. Paul, Nebraska, A. W. Paterson, William Deering & Co. and John Doe, Defendants. State of Nebraska, s. s. Sherman County, s. s. S. R. Howell & Co., First National Bank of Chicago, T. F. McCarty, Kansas Manufacturing Company, A. W. Paterson, William Deering & Company, defendants, will take notice that on the 14th day of March, 1896, Charles A. Robinson, plaintiff herein, filed his petition in the District Court of Sherman County, Nebraska, against all the above named defendants, the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by the defendants Mary Roschylnski and Joseph Roschylnski upon the east half of the south west quarter and the east half of the north west quarter of section eighteen (18), in township fourteen (14) range thirteen (13), in Sherman county Nebraska, to secure the payment of three promissory notes dated on the 24th day of April, 1892, as follows: one for the sum of $88.18 due and payable on the 1st day of December, 1894, one for the sum of $100.00 due and payable on the 1st day of December, 1895, and one for the sum of $100.00 due and payable on the 1st day of December, 1896, and there is now due and payable to the plaintiff the sum of $254.56 with interest from this date at eight per cent per annum, and plaintiff prays for a decree that defendants be required to pay said sum, or that said premises may be sold to satisfy the amount found due. That the mechanics lien in favor of S. R. Howell & Co. and the First National Bank of Chicago be decreed not to have any effect upon said premises. That the chief arising by reason of said mechanics lien and said judgments, decrees and orders be removed, and the title to said premises be returned to the defendants, Mary Roschylnski and Joseph Roschylnski. You and each of you are required to answer said petition on or before the 27 day of April, 1896. Dated this 19th day of March, 1896. CHARLES A. ROBINSON, Plaintiff. Attest: By HENRY REESE and LOUIS REIN, NIGHTINGALE and LOUIS REIN, His Attorneys.
