Republican Senatorial Convention.

The Republican electors of the 15 Senatorial District of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their counties comprising the same, to meet in convention in the town of Beavanna on Tuesday, the 15th day of September, 1896 at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for Senator from said district.

Buffalo county is entitled to 19 delegates and Sherman county to 9 delegates. HENRY C. ANDREWS, Chairman Sen. Com.

The Nebraska sound money men only got a smell of the Chicago convention. They were hardly permitted to remain and look on.

A Lincoln implement dealer received orders last Saturday for 100 binders to go into the southern part of the state. He also received orders for 60 car loads of binding twine.

Judge Wall made a pretty fight in the congressional convention, and if Buffalo county had of done the right thing he would have easily been nominated.

Rev. Stevens, of Litefield has been spoken of as a probable candidate for representative on the republican ticket. Mr. Stevens is well qualified to fill the position and would make us a good representative.

With but one or two exceptions the democrats have adopted a regular independent platform. One that can be swallowed head and tail by that organization, and doubtless will be if only an opportunity is afforded.

Hon. A. E. Cady the nominee of the republican party for congressman of the Sixth district, is a man of great ability and if he is elected will be heard from. He is a representative man and the people of this part of Nebraska will be represented in a most creditable manner.

The question of there not being enough money in circulation will be absolutely settled when a way is provided by which the laborer can earn a dollar and not when it can be coined free. Free coinage of silver is only to the interests of the mine owners and not to the wheat or corn producer or laborer.

The democratic national committee sent the Castor delegation from Nebraska and the Bryan delegation was compelled for a time to take a back seat. A test vote of convention on committee on credentials showed the adversities to be in the majority and said vote reversed the decision of the committee.

Wonder if Senator Teller knows that the dome-pole platform has the free trade mark on it as well as the free silver plank. He claims to be a protectionist and endorses the whole republican platform except the money plank, and yet, he seems willing to swallow both of the other platforms head and tail if only they will nominate him.

Elsewhere we give a report of the congressional convention of the Sixth district, held last Friday at North Platte. There were four candidates in the field of which Judge Wall of this city and A. E. Cady, of St. Paul were the two most formidable. Between Mr. Wall and Mr. Cady the vote was practically a stand-off, up to the 38 ballot Mr. Wall leading most of the time. When the break came however, Mr. Cady secured enough votes to make his nomination. The contest was a good clean one and all the defeated candidates pledged their support to the nominee.

"The proud boast that Iowa stands first in literacy among the states of the Union can no longer be made; neither on the stump or in the sanctuary. The more is the pity for in this semi-centennial year such a statement would come so handy. Sad to relate, or rather horrible to relate the state of Nebraska now heads the list of states in regard to reading, writing and arithmetic. The per cent of illiteracy in Nebraska is 3.1, while in the whole United States it is 13.3. The states west of the Mississippi river, as a section, lead the rest of the Union. Massachusetts, we are told, has fallen down in the scale of intelligence and that is true of eastern states generally, due to the congested foreign and semi-foreign populations in the lower wards of the manufacturing cities. Whether that condition can be improved remains to be seen. The probability is that it will grow worse."—Des Moines (Iowa) Register.

There is one clause in the democratic platform that will be hard for the Independents to endorse and that is the one raising the cry about the people paying heavy taxes to keep so many offices running. The more offices the better it suits the pops. If this had not been so township organization in this county would have been abolished long ago.

The Burlington railroad company has ordered 1,000 new freight cars to assist in moving Nebraska's mammoth crop.

The following is the platform adopted last week at the republican state convention:

The republicans of Nebraska in convention represent affirm their faith in the platform adopted by the national convention at St. Louis; the platform of a party not ashamed of its record and compelled to abandon no article of its ancient faith.

"Chief among those standard principles is a protective tariff, that cares for every American interest and secures the highest good for American labor; a reciprocity that, while seeking out the world's markets for our surplus products, will never yield up a single day's wages that belongs to the American workman; a sound dollar, as sound as the government and as unvarnished as its flag—a dollar that is good not only at home, but good everywhere trade goes, as good in the hands of a farmer or a workman as in the hands of a capitalist, a manufacturer or a corporation.

"A foreign policy that respects the American flag and causes it to be honored abroad; that embodies the sympathy of the American people in the struggles of their oppressed neighbors for liberty and self-government, and that jealously resents any and all encroachments of the military powers of the old world upon the territory of any American republic.

"A domestic policy that accords fair treatment and generous recognition to the veterans of the Union army, that gives them preference wherever practicable, in public employment that suffers no union soldier, his widow or orphan, to be deprived of a pension, regularly granted, without due notice and as impartial as that upon the faith of which the pension was originally conferred. That provides a revenue sufficient for current expenses and the maintenance of the public credit; that allows no excuses for increasing the national debt in times of peace, and that restores our merchant marine.

"The republicans of Nebraska most heartily endorse the nomination of their first choice, William McKinley, of Ohio, for president, and of Garrett A. Hobart, of New Jersey, for vice president and pledge their enthusiastic and undivided support.

Cady Wins in the Sixth District.

The Sixth district republican convention, after an exciting contest of ten hours, made A. E. Cady, of St. Paul its nominee for congress. Mr. Cady won his victory on the forty-third formal ballot, and until the final ballot no one was able to pick the winner. The first formal ballot gave Akers 36 1-5, Beaman 37 1-5, Cady 43 1-5, Wall 46 1-5, Weston 7 1-5. Cady and Judge Wall quickly made gains until they reached the sixty mark.

When the convention adjourned for supper at the thirty-sixth ballot, Cady had 63 2-3, Wall 60 2-3, Beaman 31 2-3 Akers 14 2-3. The candidates had maintained almost this ratio since the third ballot, and it looked like a deadlock for the night, as the strength of each candidate was positive and his supporters enthusiastic. As the convention was called together after supper rumors were afloat that something was to happen. On the thirty-eighth ballot Beaman gained at the expense of Wall, but Wall's strength soon returned. Cady now gained rapidly until the forty-third, when Wall attempted to make Beaman. As soon as the break was made Dawson and Caster counties cast their solid strength to Cady, starting the stampede. The forty-third and last ballot gave Cady 89, Beaman 68, Wall 7, Akers 6. Necessary to a choice, 58.

Pandemonium reigned for a while. Frank Beaman climbed onto a chair and obtaining the attention of the chairman moved to make the nomination of A. E. Cady unanimous, which was carried with a whoop. Mr. Cady was brought before the convention and made one of the finest political speeches ever delivered in North Platte. He was cheered to the echo time and again as he arranged the democratic party for its attempts to doctor American systems. Judge Wall, Frank Beaman and Captain Akers followed with stirring speeches endorsing Mr. Cady's nomination and pledging their support.

The convention was called to order by E. A. Cook of Lexington, vice chairman of the congressional committee, who introduced Judge Morgan of Rock county as the temporary chairman. The temporary organization was made permanent and the convention started to ballot on candidates immediately.

The platform reaffirms allegiance to the St. Louis platform and the state platform. Resolutions were passed endorsing the trans-Mississippi exposition and the western Nebraska irrigation fair. It demanded the protection of the best sugar industry and the promotion of irrigation interests. There was no attempt to inject any free silver into the platform, the convention being unanimous to stand square on the St. Louis platform for sound money.

Everybody is enthusiastic for Cady and believes that the big sixth will be redeemed from the misrepresentation of the last six years in the nonentity, O. M. Ken.

The vote of the counties on the last ballot was registered as follows:

A newspaper publisher who changes his politics every time the administration changes or often if there is any pap in sight losses all his influence, emasculates himself, and has neither power to do good or harm. He advertises himself as a hyster, entirely without principle and merits only what he gets, the contempt of all his patriotic men. When a man has made such a flop once is a community it is time for him to move, when he has flopped twice it is high time for him to die. Yet we know of men who have made this ridiculous exhibition of themselves twice in the same town and still have so little sense of shame that they continue to "instruct" the same people on questions of politics and morals and have the effrontery to meet and talk with men on the streets who know their shameless dishonesty and despise them for it. Such newspaper men are a disgrace to the profession and are beneath contempt. We are very thankful to say there are not more than two or three such fellows in the business in Nebraska, and we sincerely hope you will judge the profession by them.—York Times.
