OLD KENTUCK IN LINE

GOLD DEMOCRATS SELECT THEIR DELEGATES.

Eight Hundred in Convention With Col. Breckenridge as the Main Orator-His Reappearance in Public Life the Occasion for One of His Best Oratorical Efforts - The Delegates Selected at Large.

Kentucky Sound Money Democrats. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 22.- Ken-tucky Democrats who are not in sympathy with the Chicago platform raised their standard yesterday, and the Bourbon state will lead the procession to Indianapolis. The convention which met at Music hall contained some 300 delegates, who filled the central portion of the hall set apart for them, while on the stage were many of the men who have fought Democracy's battles in the state for a quarter of a century. Two seasions were held. In the afternoon temporary organization was effected. The selections of the various districts for committee, electors and delegates were presented and an address was delivered by Col-onel W. C. P. Breckinridge that aroused a whirlwind of enthusiasm. The eloquent colonel's reappearance The eloquent colonel's reappearance into public life was the occasion for one of his best efforts. He pitched into the Chicago platform with might and main, and declared it was the duty of Kentucky Democrats to com-pass the defeat of Bryan and Sewall, whose election, he declared, would be the greatest calamity that could be-fail the people of this country. The platform, which was unani-mously adopted, aroused frequent out-bursts of enthusiasm. It was a severe arraignment of the Chicage platform, arraignment of the Chicage platform, which was declared to be "revolution-ary and destructive of Democratic principles." The candidates were de-nounced, Mr. Bryan as a Populist and Mr. Sewall as a "subsidized ship-builder, and a high protectionist." It contains a strong presentation of the principles to enunciate which the gathering was called, namely, the maintenance of an honest and stable maintenance of an indust and stable currency on a gold standard; a tariff for revenue only; low taxation and economical expenditure, civil service reform, the duty of the government to protect the citizen and property from lawlessness, an independent and unintimidated judiciary, the condem-nation of "special privileges, sumptu-ary legislation, governments of sortit. ary legislation, governmental favorit-ism, bounties and other forms of pa-ternalism and Populism," and a hearty indorsement of the national Democratic administration. Every mention of Cleveland or Carlisle during the afternoon or evening was eted with an outburst of applause.

The delegates at large are Gen. S. B. Buckner, A. J. Carroll, W. P. C. Breckinridge and W. F. Browder.

STREET DEBATES.

Indianapolis' Police Judge Holds That Orators Must Be Let Alone.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 22.-A great crowd has collected each day for ten days on the postoffice corner liscussing the financial question. This frequently lasted until midnight. As fast as one speaker wearied another filled the gap. The police made numerous and futile efforts to scatter the disputants and finally made several arrests. Two cases came before Judge Cox of the city court and the last time, with much impatience, he discharged the defendants, holding that there was no decision by any court, high or low, where it was held that a man violated the law by discussing politics in the street. "On the contrary," he continued, "all of the decisions are the other way. The right of free speech is fundamental in our con-stitution, and must not be denied. No police force can stop it. It is the right of American citizens. This is a time when perplexing questions are puz-zling the people. They are questions of vital importance to the common people. It is only by ample discus-sion of the questions that confront them that they can learn properly to exercise their right of franchise. They have a right to discuss the questions and the court will protect them." The court also criticised the policy of the police in interfering with these street corner talks by using the ord-inance against sidewalk obstruction as an engine of oppression. He warned the officers that further arrests would be useless, as the defend-ants would not be punished.

CAUSE OF SUNSTROKE

New York Scientists Discover That Heat Evolves a Blood Poison.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.-The cause of sunstroke has been definitely discovered, according to the claims of officers of the state pathological institute. They have made investigations which show that, instead of the sun's rays being the direct cause of sunstroke, as has all along been believed by the medical profession, the internal chemistry of the body and its secretions are so modified by atmospheric conditions of excessively hot weather that some of these secretions become abnormal, either in quality or quantity. and are absorbed by the blood and act as virulent poisons.

On the first day of the recent heat plague, Dr. Ira T. Van Gieson, direc-tor of the State Pathological institute, assisted by two physicians, began in-vestigations. The conditions were peculiarly fortunate for the success of the prosecution of their work. A record was kept of all cases and ex-periments were made on acute cases. Animals treated with an infusion of blood from living cases just after they had been sticken by the sun had con-vulsions within an hour and a half and usually died. The physicians are convinced from the results of these experimments that sunstroke is really blood poisaning.

The Populist Situation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.-Chairman Butler, of the Populist national committee, was asked the following ques tion last night: "In view of your statement to the effect that the Populist candidates are Bryan and Watson, and will be until the close of the campaign, and will be earnestly supported to the end without discriminations for or against either, what will be the position of your committee with reference to those States where Democrats and Populists have fused by the latter taking the State ticket and the former all of the electoral ticket?"

"We have no official information," he replied, "that this has been done in any state; but if it has been done, or is contemplated, the national committee will not approve or recognize it. The highest law of any party is the action of its national conventions. No man or state organization car, be disloyal to such supreme authority without arraying itself in direct and without arraying itself in direct and hostile opposition to the national convention. Our national convention nominated Bryan and Watson by an overwhelming majority, and it is the bounden duty of every loyal Populist to support both of these candidates earnestly and loyally; and, besides, Watson stands for what Bryan stands for, and therefore Bryan and Watson is the only ticket that represents the principles that the People's party believe in and have contended for from the beginning. "Does this mean you will insist upon a straightout Bryan and Watson ticket in every state?

No; but it means that wherever Populis's and Democrats join forces on the electoral ticket there must be a due and proper recognition of each party's candidate by a just and equit-able division of electors supporting the candidates of the respective par

No Putting Off Watson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. -Senator Butler of North Carolins, chairman of the national committee of the Populist party, arrived here to-day to attend a meeting of the Populist managers this afternoon. Five members of the executive committee are here, the others hawing sent letters of excuse. It was decided even before the executive committee met that the national headquarters should be here and it is headquarters should be here and it is probable that rooms in Wormley's ad-joining the Democratic subheadquar-ters will be secured. One of the matters which may be brought up is the vice presidency, though it is known that the executive committee will listen to no proposi-tion looking to the withdrawal of Watson from the ticket. Senator But-ler said that if Sewall had stood for what Bryan did before the people, neither the holding of the Populist party organization together nor any-thing else would have prevented the fomination of the whole Democratic ticket by the Populists. As it was, Sewall did not represent the Populists and under no circumstances would they consent to vote for him. He thought that Watson stood a better chance of being the next vice presichance of being the next vice presi-dent than Sewall.

Another matter to be settled is the notification of Watson. Mr. Butler is chairman of the notification commitchairman of the notification commit-tee. He says that nothing definite has been arranged as yet. He says he has been so busy with affairs in his own State since the national convention adjourned that he had little corre-spondence with members of the notidestion committee.

The situation in North Carolina was the subject of several conferences after the arrival of Chairman Butler. One of the Democratic leaders spoke very positively about the matter. He said that if Mr. Butler thought he had very positively about the matter. He said that if Mr. Butler thought he had the Democrate in a tight place and could drive a hard bargain with them he would find they would not stand on it and would make a straight fight. They did not propose to be buildozed into giving up anything. The conference between Senators Jones and Butler was not very fruit-ful as no conclusions were feached upon the subjects finder discussion. The Democrate are not satisfied with the fusion propositions in several Southern states and, on the other hand, the Populists do not like the offers which have been made to them in some of the Western states. It is not likely any definite conclusion will be reached until after the return of Senator Jones from Chicage. After this the Populist executive committee went into session. The meeting was devoted almost emitively to receiving reports and to an inter-change of view as to the condition of the dempaign.

He did not mean by this that the voters would be bought, but that the Republicans would get their literature more largely circulated, would have more speakers and would have more and better informed usen at many places who would be able to defeat the Demo-crats in argument. He noticed at the stations and other places where there were groups of men arguing the silver question, that it was a general thing the Republican was better informed and could array his argument with more effect, and when he got the better of his Democratic antagonist he was likely to carry the crowd with him. This he attributed to a large circulation of literature and special work of the Republicans, who were posting men everywhere. He thought that this was the only feature wherein the Republitans were succeeding and said he had no doubt that all this would be counteracted by the Demo-
