Recanvass of the Amendment Vote Will Now Interruptedly Go Forward—Legislature's Time is Up, But There is Yet a Great Deal of Work in Sight.

The Nebraska Assembly.

SENATE.—The senate on the 23d became involved in a parliamentary tangle over the bill providing for a new dormitory for the Peoria normal school. Today the senate introduced some of this hasty work. The dormitory appropriation was recalled, and the measure must henceforth take its chances. Through the vote which was passed, the measure was reconsidered by a vote of 17 to 14. In the afternoon the senate took up regular routine business as soon as it had been called to order. The senate went into committee of the whole, with Mr. Goding in the chair, to take up the consideration of senate file No. 23, which had been made special order for this afternoon. Fritz of Thurston, author of the bill, tried to have the name of Fritz of Keith substituted for that of Mr. Goding, but the motion failed to carry, and Mr. Goding took the chair. Senate file No. 23 provides that all county officers shall hold office for the period of four years, and that all county officers now in office shall hold office until 1909. In other words, the proposed law extends for two years the term of office of all county officers. The committee made short work of the bill. After it had been read Mr. Fritz offered an amendment which limited the term of office to a single term. It was agreed to without dissent. Then Mr. Mutz offered another amendment providing that the first election of county officers under the proposed law should be held in 1907. This was also agreed to by a vote of 14 to 7. Mr. Bent reported that the committee had reported the bill back to the senate with the recommendation that the bill be indefinitely postponed. To this Mr. McGinnis offered an amendment that the bill be recommended for passage. Finally the bill was recommended to the committee on Judiciary. Senate file No. 2, the anti-compact insurance bill, introduced by Mr. Haller, was placed on its final reading and passed by a vote of 28 to 1. Senate file No. 30, introduced by Mr. Goding, to amend the irrigation law, was read the third time and passed. House roll No. 23, the bill to amend the law relating to the organization of the county commissioners of Buffalo county. Up to this time the passage of the bill had proceeded without interruption; but from this time on the afternoon proceedings, so far as bills on third reading were concerned, were badly hampered. After the bill was read and found to be radically defective in construction or in the manner in which it had been introduced.

SENATE.—The senate devoted the session on the 24th entirely to the several normal school propositions. It transpired very early in the day that a combination had been effected for the purpose of establishing not two normal schools, one at Scottsbluff and one at York. Long before the day closed, however, the combination went to pieces and all normal school bills were killed for the session. Mr. McGinnis said that the necessary for a normal school was apparent to everybody. Scottsbluff was forty miles from the center of the state. It was not possible to the people of twenty counties. The buildings were sufficient for all the normal schools in the country for many years. He contended that such a school at York would be superfluous as that city was the center of the normal school of Nebraska, which furnished ample facilities for the training of teachers in the south and central part of the state. There was a strong feeling of opposition to the favoring of York and other Scottsbluff. Mr. McGinnis closed the debate with a plea for the normal school proposition. At 4:30 o'clock a vote was reached on Haller's motion that the committee recommend to indefinitely postpone the normal school bills. It was agreed to by a vote of 16 to 11. This kills all normal school propositions for this session. Mr. McGinnis moved that the vote by which the bill No. 33 was passed last Monday be reconsidered. This motion was declared to be out of order. The bill was in the possession of the senate. Mr. Caldwell moved that the house be requested to return the bill to the senate. He said that there was good reason to believe that the bill, which proposed to restrain the crime of gambling, had been passed in ignorance of its true purport. There was a strong feeling of opposition to the bill. When the bill was returned the vote by which it was passed was reconsidered and the bill sent back to the committee of the whole. A committee consisting of Talbot, Goding and Howell was appointed to confer with a like committee of the house relative to fixing a day for final adjournment. The senate then adjourned.

SENATE.—The senate on the 25th resolved itself into a formal sitting committee on the forenoon. The approaching end of the session was evidenced in the hasty scramble of individual senators to get their favorite bills in under cover. Bills on third reading were introduced as soon as the chaplain had said his prayers. But one bill was ready, house roll No. 14, introduced by Burket of Lancaster. It makes grave robbing a felony and punishes the misdemeanor. The bill was ready to pass. Mr. Mutz brought up his bill, senate file No. 104, providing for the dividing of the Fifteenth judicial district into two districts, and moved that it be referred to a third reading. This motion was brought on a first-class controversy. The motion to advance the bill was not agreed to. The bill was taken up for a second reading and was engrossed for its final passage. This is one of the important bills of the session, and it has attracted but little attention. It authorizes the attorney general to commence an action to recover from the sureties of a bonded agent running to the state in the county in which the sureties reside. At present such suits have to be commenced in Lancaster county. The bill was advanced to third reading. On motion of Mr. Sprague of Lancaster, senate file No. 281 was ordered engrossed for third reading. It is a bill for reorganizing school districts in Nebraska under contract to maintain a school in the capital at the expense of the State file No. 28, which next received consideration, provides for the exclusion of bonded taxes in the computation of aggregate school taxes. The bill was recommended for passage. The enrolled copy of the bill was presented and signed by the lieutenant governor. The senate bill, relating to the use of the hospital for the insane at Lincoln a quarter section of state land in any county of the state was passed. The announcement that the governor had signed the recent bill was received and the bill was ordered engrossed.

SENATE.—The senate on the 27th did considerable business. The lieutenant governor handed to the clerk and had read a communication in which he announced the appointment of Canada of Kearney, Ryker of Adams and Brady of Buchanan as the members of the recent commission, provided for in the bill which received the approval of the governor. The house bill, received from the senate, which authorized the commissioners of public lands and buildings to select lands in the old Fort Randall military reservation as a base land for industrial purposes, was introduced by Mr. Murphy. It was taken up and discussed and recommended for passage. House roll No. 267, Gaffin's bill to amend the law relating to the organization of political organizations, or using their influence in electioneering, was recommended for passage. The bill was taken up and discussed. Miller's bill providing for the taxation of express companies within the state of Nebraska was also taken up and discussed. Mr. Mutz moved to strike out the amendment making the companies a per cent of the gross earnings and make it one-half per cent of the net earnings. The motion was adopted. Mr. Murphy offered an amendment exempting from the tax on express companies the express companies which are organized and conducting almost exactly the same provisions as the express companies which are exempted from the tax. Mr. Goding's bill to amend the law relating to the taxation of express companies was also taken up and discussed. The amendment failed to carry. He then offered an amendment changing the rate of tax to one-half of 1 per cent. The amendment offered by Mr. Talbot was adopted, and the bill was recommended to pass.

HOUSE.—In the house on the 23d the committee on privileges and elections reported house roll No. 63, the new bill relating to the powers and duties of the attorney-general in cases affecting the state, to be engrossed for third reading. The report was adopted. Bills on third reading having been passed, the house took up the consideration of the appropriation bill, which was read and passed. The vote stood 84 yeas to 4 nays. Early in the afternoon the house took up the Young voting against the bill. House roll No. 60, the claims appropriation bill, was read and passed by a vote of 76 to 8. House roll No. 253, providing for the payment by counties of the premium on the bonds of county treasurers, where these bonds are executed by a surety company authorized by law to execute such bonds, passed by a vote of 60 to 29. House roll number 254 provides for the payment out of the state treasury of the premium on the state treasurer's bond, when the bond is executed by a surety company authorized by law to execute such bonds. The premium not to exceed one-third of 1 per cent per annum of the penalty stated in the bond. The bill was passed by a vote of 60 to 29. House roll No. 261, by which the emergency clause was struck out of the compiled statutes of Nebraska, 1886, and relating to bonds required from persons having contracts with the state, received 32 yeas and 38 nays against its passage with the emergency clause. Roll was again called upon its passage. The emergency clause was struck out, and the fate of the bill being very uncertain. Rich moved a call of the house. It was called and the house adjourned. A board of public works consisting of three members, citizens of the county, to be selected by a vote of 50 to 25. House roll No. 301, by which the emergency clause was struck out of the compiled statutes of Nebraska, 1886, and relating to bonds required from persons having contracts with the state, received 32 yeas and 38 nays against its passage with the emergency clause. Roll was again called upon its passage. The emergency clause was struck out, and the fate of the bill being very uncertain. Rich moved a call of the house. It was called and the house adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills on third reading were the first thing in order in the house on the 24th, and house roll No. 47, Gaffin's bill to permit county agricultural societies to participate in the Missouri-Mississippi exposition and to provide for the expense of county exhibits, was passed by a vote of 61 to 28. House roll No. 262, providing for the payment of the salary of the state banking board, and state bank examiners, and providing for the regulation of such institutions, with penalties for violation, false statements or entries; also providing that receivers of such banks may be removed by the state banking board, was passed after the emergency clause had been struck out. House roll No. 23, the bill to amend the law relating to the organization of the county commissioners of Buffalo county, was passed by a vote of 61 to 28. House roll No. 263, providing for the payment of the salary of the state banking board, and state bank examiners, and providing for the regulation of such institutions, with penalties for violation, false statements or entries; also providing that receivers of such banks may be removed by the state banking board, was passed after the emergency clause had been struck out.
