HOW MANY EXTRAS, PLEASE?

We have set the matter in our write up this week to an uncommon measure for newspaper work, but we do so in order to save putting it up again for our Book of Facts. All the matter so arranged as it now appears in this issue will be compiled in the book with the other matter previously published in THE NORTHWESTERN, together with the foot notes heretofore mentioned, and which have not yet reached the public. We have several hundred extra copies of this issue and will furnish extras to any who desire it for the small sum of five cents per copy. The book will cost you fifty cents, and if you want copies to send to eastern friends will make you reduced prices on extra orders. We expect to have the book done about the first of August; it may be sooner. The reason we have taken so much time in compiling this book, which will consist of a little less than a hundred pages, is because we have not had means to hire help on the mechanical work, and so have done a greater part of the work ourselves as we could spare the time from our other duties. For the biographical sketches such as appears on another page we charge $2.00 each. If there are others who wish to be represented in the eight hundred copies of the book we should be pleased to do so at this very low price. Copy for sketch or at least a statement of dates and facts must reach this office not later than 10th of July, and if everybody waits until the last day somebody will get left, because we cannot handle the copy all at the same time. Hand yours in as early as possible, and in as condensed a form as possible.

BIKES AND BREAKS.

Bicycle riding on the streets of Loup City has become so reckless that it has been necessary for the village board to pass an ordinance prohibiting those indulging in the pastime from riding on the sidewalks. The ordinance should also provide that all bicyclists procure lights for their wheels when riding after night. Among the casualties which have occurred during the past week from bicycle riding are:

A collision between Dick O'Bryan and Frank Smith. Cause, riding without headlights. Result, Dick unharmed; Frank badly bruised and unable to get up; was carried home.

A runaway of Mr. O. D. Hanson's team. Damage, wagon tongue broken, the slivered end of which pierced one of the beautiful animal's front feet, tearing the flesh from the bone and rendering the noble steed useless.

Master Arthur Brown was run over and three of his toes lacerated, which he has since been carrying in a sling.

John Daddow's team was frightened by a wheel, the innocent country life which farm horses lead preventing them from knowing the harmlessness of a bike. The damage in this case was a broken buggy tongue and a severe shock to the rural animals' nerves.

This is all for this time. Hoping soon to hear of some good effects from the passage of the ordinance above referred to we are respectfully in favor of a better system of regulation regarding the bicycle craze which has recently invaded Loup City.

HARD LUCK.

The St. Paul Republican says that Victor McCracken, Andy Smith, and James Toman, three young lads of that town experienced a series of remarkable adventures in Omaha, Nebraska's metropolis last week. Some time ago the lads packed a lot of old revolvers, brass knuckles, etc., into a grip and started out, presumably to kill Indians. Arriving in Omaha they hired a room and unpacked their belongings, laying out their arsenal of weapons on a table. The implements of warfare were seen by a peaceably inclined boarder who suspected the boys of being professional highwaymen and complained to the police, who promptly arrested the whole outfit on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. Their youthfulness was in their favor and they were released with a warning to leave the city, but while endeavoring to carry out the instructions of the court young McCracken was held up and robbed of $10. Toman lost his grip in the shuffle and went back to request the matter to the authorities. He entered the police station by a rear door and stopped in the corridors to talk to the prisoners, when he was caught by an officer who searched him and found a pair of brass knuckles. After spending the night in jail he was permitted to go his way minus his weapon.

Adam Schupp, the grain and stock buyer, says that he expects to ship out of Sherman county during the next year 3,000 carloads of grain, to say nothing of the large amount of cattle and hogs. He says that the present indications for good crops will warrant him in making this statement. He has elevators at Loup City, Ashton and Schupp's siding, and is only one of the several grain buyers in Sherman county.

If a man had a $50 bull pup he would look after it carefully, and not let it run around at night all over town, says an exchange. But if he has a boy it is different. He is turned loose at a tender age, to go to the devil, and then people wonder where the great army of tramps, bummers, loafers, dead beats, gamblers and drunkards come from each decade. They are generated from the pure seed, gathered from our homes, and sown broadcast on our streets and alleys. It may be that your boy is making a growth in that direction. At all events the boy ought to be given an equal showing with the bull pup.

Mr. Hickman has the nicest field of corn so far reported to this office. It is without weeds, stands ten inches high and has but very few missing hills.

When the poor eastern renter who pays from $4 to $5 per acre for land learns the very important truth that three years cash rent would buy a farm in the great Loup country he will take the first opportunity to break away from the rent habit and buy a farm of his own. Read the advantages which Sherman county offers to the eastern renter printed on another page in this issue.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELEE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle today? For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZERA LEWIS, of Houston, Texas, writes: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."
