A "Book of Facts concerning the early settlement of Sherman county." by Geo. E. Benschoter, of the Loup City NORTHWESTERN, has been received at this office. It is neatly printed and the subject matter is interesting. Not the least interesting part of the book is a sketch of the lives of prominent citizens of Sherman county .- Valley

We are indebted to Geo. E. Benschoter for a copy of his "Book of Facts concerning the Early Settlement of Sherman County." We have read the book carefully and fine it very interesting as well as instructive. Many of the naratives stated therein are familiar to us as we have resided in Sherman county since the spring of 1875. The book conmorning with the following teachers tains eleven pages descriptive of Sherman county's natural advantages and resources. There are seventy-six pages in all, and the book should sell like partment; Miss Nightingale, Second Pri- stock in the Klondyke mines .- Times-Independent.

> The move made on the part of the village board to replace all the old street crossings as fast as they give out, with stone is a step well taken. The most expensive part of the village management has been the constant repairing of these crossings. A good crossing, built of new lumber will last but a short time and we are informed costs nearly as much as that built of stone. The stone that s now being used is about six inch es thick and it would seem there is no wear out to it, at least it will last for many years to come. One car load of stone has been purchased and with it two street crossings have been permanently built. Let the good work go on.
