

When a naval attaché of the Spanish legation at Washington twenty-five years ago, General (then lieutenant commander) Corvera fell violently in love with the daughter of an aristocratic Southern senator. Whatever chance the Spaniard had was described one evening at a reception given by Mrs. Fish, wife of the secretary of state. Corvera sang a Spanish love song with such marked passion that the young woman quickly left the room, as everyone knew that she was the singer's inspiration.

THE TRADE IN OLD BOTTLES.

A New York Firm That Handles Half a Million a Day. From New York Sun: Almost half a million old bottles are handled every day by a single firm in New York city. Most of them are wine and beer bottles, but there are also hundreds of bottles used for catsup and other table sauces. The mineral waters furnish a large proportion of the full number. None of these bottles is washed or cleaned by the firm that collects them, but they must not be old and "gummy" or they will not be accepted. They are shipped all over this country, and a good many of them are sent back to Europe. Those reshipped across the water are mostly ginger ale bottles sent to Ireland, some beer or ale bottles sent to England, and wine and liquor bottles sent to France. Of course these are re-employed. The dealers here say that the French bottles are the best made. The English come next, the American next, and then the German. Comparatively few bottles are lost in transit, either on board cars or in the collecting wagons. When a wagon is loaded with cases of "empties" the driver puts a straw wrapper on each of the corner bottles at the end of the wagon. It doesn't seem as if this would be a very great protection, but it does serve as a slight buffer in case of passing ruts and knocks. The bottle shops of New York are not especially picturesque, but in New Orleans there is one which has become noted. It is visited by most tourists, many of whom carry away some squat, queer-shaped liquor bottle by way of souvenir. "The Bottle Man of Conti Street" owes his fame to Mrs. M. E. M. Davis, one of New Orleans' literary women. Mrs. Davis lives only a block or two from the haunt of the bottle man, over in the old French part of the city. When Eugene Field visited there several years ago Mrs. Davis took him around to Conti street to see the bottle man and his treasures. Field and the bottle man were mutually delighted over the meeting. The shop is a great high sort of shed, reaching from the street back 150 feet into the block. It is piled with stacks on stacks of crates full of empty wine bottles, while from the ceiling hang rows of dusty demijohns and jugs. There are shelves occupied by a medley of quaint cordial bottles, bright green and blue, pot-bellied, flat-sided, eccentric, freakish things. Field delighted in these shelves, and used to poke around in the dust and the shadows hunting up new shapes, which he carried off to add to the miscellaneous lot of stuff he shipped home from there. But there was one bottle with which he was especially delighted. It was a brilliant blue in color, with a very long, thin neck and a fat body, pressed into a four-sided shape. In the middle of one side was a seal, stamped in the glass. Every visitor in Conti street nowadays hears about Field's visit, and is permitted to gaze upon—or purchase—one of the Field bottles. After his return to Chicago Mrs. Davis wrote the poem, "The Bottle Man of Conti Street," and sent it to him. Field replied in his usual happy vein, and these autograph verses are among Mrs. Davis' treasures today.

A FATALITY AVOIDED.

(From the Democrat, Goshen, Ind.) When neuralgia is accompanied by a dull, heavy pain near the heart, frequently becoming intense, it generally terminates fatally. Mrs. Nancy Flynn, who lives near Goshen, Indiana, survived such an attack and her advice is worth heeding.

"In the fall of '92," she said, "I began to have trouble with my heart. There was a sharp pain in my breast which became rapidly worse. The doctor was puzzled and put me under the influence of opiates. These sharp attacks followed one another at intervals, and I became weak and had a haggard look. I was constantly in pain, seldom slept and had no appetite.

"At the end of two years I was confined to my couch most of the time and the doctors agreed that my death was only a matter of a short time.

"One day I noticed in a newspaper an item about a woman having been cured of neuralgia of the heart by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I concluded to try them.

"When I had finished one box I noticed an improvement in my condition, and when I had taken twelve boxes I was completely cured. These pills have done for you what we could not do," said one of my physicians, 'they have saved your life.'

"That was two years ago and my heart has not troubled me since. I believe I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I take pleasure in telling others about them."

Among the many forms of neuralgia are headache, nervousness, paralysis, apoplexy and locomotor ataxia. Some of these were considered incurable until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were formulated. Today thousands testify to having been cured of such diseases by these pills.

Doctors frequently prescribe them and all druggists sell them.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham: "I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, pains over my body, sick headaches, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

Mrs. HENRY DORN, No. 806 Findley St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham: "For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhœa. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of Vegetable Compound and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

AN OLD BULLY.

People who live in fear of his attacks.

How to avoid him or beat him off.

If biliousness isn't the bully of the body then what is? When once biliousness gets the upper hand you don't dare say your stomach is your own. "Don't you dare eat that dish says biliousness, or you'll see what I'll do." You take the dare and you do see or rather feel, the weight of the bully's revenge. The head aches, not a regular ache, but an open and shut ache. The eyes ache, not with a dull, tired ache, but with an aggressive ache, as if they were being bored by a gimlet. The stomach trembles with nausea. "The whole head is sick and the whole heart is faint." There are scores of hundreds of people who live so under the domination of this bully biliousness that they don't dare eat or drink without his permission. There's no need of such slavery. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills effectually cure biliousness.

"For fifteen years I have used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills, and find them very effective in all kinds of bilious complaints. They are mild in operation and easy to take. I prefer them to any other pill, and have yet to see the case where they have failed to cure."—A. SWANSON, Texas, Ark.

"I have used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills in cases of biliousness and general disorders of the stomach and bowels and have found them to be always reliable. They are less liable to gripe than other purgatives, and although mild in action, they are thorough in operation. They are the best family physic that can be had."—PARSON J. DUFFY, Rockport, Texas.

"Having used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills for years and thoroughly tested them, both as a preventive and cure for biliousness, I can truthfully say that I believe them to be the best medicine for the purpose and they do all that is claimed for them."—JNO. E. KOLA, Shark, Ark.

Biliousness is in general but a symptom of a more stubborn disorder, constipation. Constipation is the root of almost all physical evils, and Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills cure almost all these physical evils by going to the root. They cure constipation, and the consequent maladies, biliousness, heartburn, palpitation, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, nervous irritability, foul breath, coated tongue, and a score of other miserable maladies that have their origin in constipation. Dr. Ayer's Pills are the safest and surest remedy for all diseases of the liver, stomach, and bowels. Send for Dr. Ayer's Catechism and read the story of cures told by the cured. Free. Address the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

One Red Rose Rent for a Church Site.

A unique celebration occurs in June of every year at Manheim, Pennsylvania, according to the Ladies' Home Journal. It is known as the feast of roses, and is held to commemorate the benevolence of Baron Stiegel, who more than a century and a quarter ago leased a tract of land at Manheim to an congregation for a church site at an annual rental of one red rose to be paid in June of each year. After Baron Stiegel's death the rent was never demanded until a few years ago, and now it is formally paid to one of the baron's descendants. The occasion is known as "the feast of roses," and the quaint ceremony attracts the greatest interest.
