The Gold Standard or the crime of '73. Is the romance which made Billy Bryan famous. Now he is going to snag his craft on the mistakes of the war department.

Desperation is being depicted upon the countenance of the wild eyed Godess of fusion. That time for "fooling all of the people some of the time" that they used to tell about is drawing to a close.

How easily, even the misplacing of one little letter will sometimes turn facts to falsehood. Last week the Times Indp., wished to state the fact that Greene was done brown at every debate so far. But got an "h" instead of a "w" hence the error.

Bill Allen, and Bill Greene are the two windiest winners the fusionists have in Nebr. Two old line democrats whose official life depends on their ability to keep fusion going. Bill Allen talked fourteen hours, and Bill Greene talks all the time unless those frequent attacks of tonsillitis injures his voice.

The populist papers in this state have not regained any of the self respect they lost ten years ago when they began to vilify everything, and every person that would not howl ealantly with them. The people are fast declining to be duped by their abusive rot. The nearer they see the end approaching the dirtier becomes their filthy emanations until one would imagine that the American people outside of the pop party were all criminals. The man who can't see any good out side of his own party needs watching he is looking for something.

A man in Illinois by the name of Damm who belonged to the Modern Woodmen, died last spring and his wife wishing to express her gratitude to the order for their kind treatment and prompt payment of his benefit certificate, wrote a letter to the camp ending by saying that the Woodmen had the sincere thanks of the whole Damm family.

Below we give two noted populist speeches that were delivered by two different representatives from Sherman county during the session of the legislature which they were members of.

First speech in the early nineties; "Mr. Speaker, I move that we unhitch for dinner."

Second speech four years later; "Mr. Speaker, I'm from Sherman county and I own 640 acres of land." (collapse) Those speeches are published by request and their authenticity guaranteed.

The principle issues in the campaign this fall by which the present state officers will endeavor to persuade the voters to allow them to retain their hold upon the state government is their claim to economy in the affairs of their offices during the past two years. If their broad assertions could be true they are the greatest money getters the country has yet discovered, that is, if you take their figures for it, commence where they wish to start you in and leave off where they feel inclined to stop. By an ingenious manipulation of figures they seek to convince the voters of this state with the idea of the immense amount of money they have saved them during the past two years by their wonderful economy, and at the same time leave the inference that the republican officials had squandered everything in sight. For this purpose the secretary of state, and the treasurer and auditor, each arrange matters so that they are credited in certain items with the same monies, and thereby show economies where none exists. The secretary of state makes it appear that he has credited in fees, and turned over to the state the net sum of $20,944 and that his republican predecessor during the same period of time had only turned over the measly sum of $1,677 as fees collected by him.

That those figures are correct no one will dispute, but this expert juggler in figures very adroitly stops in time that the unacquainted will not see the gloved hand underneath and is thereby led to believe that the republican secretary had not accounted for large amounts of fees collected, but had put them down in his pocket. But an inquiry into the matter developed the facts that a law enacted by the last pop legislature was responsible for the whole business and not this emaculate "reformer." The law now increases the amount of fees to collect from one hundred, to one thousand per cent. This may sound large, but careful inquiry shows that in many instances where no fee was charged at all for executing certain papers the new law makes it from one to five dollars, and where one dollar was charged before ten is the fee under the new revenue law. And further that he fails completely to tell the voters, whom he is trying to deceive, that $13,500 of those fees were collected from the Union Pacific railroad alone for filing the new articles of incorporation. A vast sum that does not come every year and would not have passed through his hands under the old law, but would of been paid directly to the treasurer. Further comment should be unnecessary. All their claims are on the same line.

Colonel Bryan, it is announced has consented to open the Illinois campaign with a speech at Chicago, upon the mistakes of the administration in our war with Spain. When Lincoln was informed during the rebellion that Grant was a hard drinker, he asked the kind of liquor drank by Grant, as he would like to send a barrel of it to each of his Generals. Lincoln knew that Grant was making a success of the campaign and his answer to the disgruntled critics was worth more than a two hours speech. Mr. Bryan, as well as the yellow Journals knows that the administration made a grand success of the war with Spain, that the war was prosecuted to a close much quicker than they dared to hope for and cost much less than they dreamed of. They should know that their foolish and dishonest attempt to make capital out of the few mistakes that was under the circumstances unavoidable will be a flat failure and will hold them up to the gaze of the world and the judgment of the people of the United States as aiming to gain prestige for themselves by detracting from acts which the whole world applauds. Free silver is dead and the "mistakes of the war department" is the only hope for campaign thunder the elements of fusion know of. There seems to be no mistakes in the manipulation of the government, the republican policy seems to be about perfect and is leading us on to ultimate triumph over all obstacles. But the deluded man that has been voting for fusion directly and democracy indirectly at the dictates of Mr. Bryan, a life long democrat, will discover sooner or later that Bryan is the greatest mistake that an omnipotent God has allowed to flourish on Nebraska soil since the grasshopper scourge.

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. We are willing to trust in his answer.

For twenty-five years doctors have prescribed our Emulsion for paleness, weakness, nervous exhaustion, and for all diseases that cause loss in flesh.

Its creamy color and its pleasant taste make it especially useful for thin and delicate children.

No other preparation of cod-liver oil is like it. Don't lose time and risk your health by taking something unknown and untried. Keep in mind that SCOTT'S EMULSION has stood the test for a quarter of a century.

work from the kindergarten up through the State University and is pronounced by leading educators of other state as one of the finest educational exhibit they have ever seen. The New England Journal of Education, published at Boston and Chicago, in its issue of July 14 makes the following comment: The educational exhibit of Nebraska at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition, Omaha is one of the best, if not literally the best, ever made in the United States." Great credit is due to the thousands of educators and pupils of the Nebraska schools who so faithfully co-operated with us in making the exhibit a success.

While we all are proud that Nebraska has the lowest per cent of illiteracy we feel that this exhibit is right in keeping with the high standing our state has attained.

The work is neatly arranged and tastefully decorated. Visitors can find seats where they can rest and examine the work. You can "Stand up for Nebraska" perhaps in no better way than by taking your freinds with you to see this exhibit which no doubt is as fine an educational exhibit as was ever put up by any state
