When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by Odendahl Bros., druggists.

Herman Johanson had a bad runaway last Friday. He came to town and purchased a new stove, took it home and just as he got it out of the wagon his team started and ran around over the prairies for some time and then crossed the bluffs at the reservoir came down the hill crossing the bridge which spans the ditch at the Sharp property and ran to the residence of Mr. G. H. Scott, and there run straddle of a fence post and one horse was thrown to the ground, and the remaining part of the wagon hung on the post. No damage except to wagon in many pieces.

The following program will be given by the Sherman County Teachers' Association on Saturday, November 12 1898, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Roll Call—Quotations.

Song—"America."

"First Chapter of World in Matter," conducted by C. F. Johnson.

Guitar Solo by Lillie M. Hood.

Discussion of Primary Language, led by Miss Burrowes.

"First Chapter of Adam's Essays," conducted by M. H. Mead.

LILLIAN M. HOOD, G. S. LEININGER, Secretary. President.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well now does her own house work, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at Odendahl Bros. Drug Store. Only 50 cents and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it. A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is worldwide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention the LOUP CITY NORTHWESTERN, and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. for a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Fatal Accident.

Mrs. John M. Taylor, received a telegram from her husband, who is employed by the Omaha Elevator Co. building and repairing elevators, that their son, John Taylor Jr. had fell from an elevator at Elkhorn, and was so badly injured that he died that evening. Yesterday's Omaha papers say that he fell thirty seven feet and struck on his head and shoulders and that he was taken to the hospital where he died. Mr. Taylor was twenty-four years of age and has lived in Loup City for twenty years, he having come here when but four years of age. He was a sober industrious young man and one whose whole life seemed to be spotless. Johnny, as he was familiarly called by his associates, will be mourned by all who knew him. His grief stricken parents have the deepest sympathy of all. The funeral services will be held at the M. E. church this afternoon at 3:00 p. m.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich. tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by Odendahl Bros. Druggists.

About a score of Ladies swooped down on the Gibson marionette last Friday afternoon with baskets well filled with the good things of this world and announced to Mrs. Gibson, who by the way, thought that church must have adjourned to her house or the sewing circle just let out, that they had come to stay for the afternoon and had brought their supper with them. They asked for carpet rags, knowing that an editors home was the place to find them, and produced needles and thread and set to work and by supper time the room looked like a cannon ball factory. At the proper time the table was arranged a delightful supper eaten and enough left to supply us with a veritable picnic for a week, which of course the Ladies left with our better half knowing well that a printers family don't often have a feast, for all of which we were thankful.

EDNA WILLIAMS, Teacher.

Will Callen of Washington township, was among those who spent a pleasant half hour at our sanctorium Tuesday. Mr. Callen is one of Washington townships prosperous young farmers that knows prosperity when he sees it.

All Eyes Turned to Lincoln.

The Omaha exposition has closed and all eyes are now turned toward Lincoln, the capital city where the legislature will soon meet. The institution of new state officers, the election of a United States senator, and other matters of much importance will make Lincoln the center of state interests and every Nebraskan will want to read the old, reliable standby, The State Journal, during the coming year. As a special inducement to secure new readers, The Semi-Weekly Journal, printed every Tuesday and Friday, will be mailed from now until January 1, 1899, for $1.00. This is a mighty long time for the money and the sooner you send your dollar the more papers you get. There isn't any other paper in Nebraska that gives so much for the money. It is twice as good as the old fashioned weekly. Try it. Address, The State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

Three Doctors in Constipation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what medicine is best to be chosen for a medicine in first place, what experience tells you is best to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e., Theory) says is best to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken.

A Wise Answer.

It takes but an ordinary man to return an angry answer to an insult. The extraordinary man is he who, under such circumstances, holds himself so well under control that he controls his adversary also.

Persia once possessed such a man and was clear sighted enough to make him a judge. He was the chief judge of Bagdad in the reign of Caliph Hadee and his name was Aboo Yusuph. He was a very wise man, for he knew his own deficiencies and was actually sometimes in doubt as to whether he possessed sufficient wisdom to give a just decision in cases peculiarly shrouded in mystery.

It is related of him that on one occasion, after patient investigation of facts, he decided that he had not sufficient knowledge to pronounce on the case before him. There was in his presence a pert courtier, one of those men who take long to learn that wisdom and impudence are not closely related.

"Pray, do you expect that the caliph is to pay you for ignorance?" he asked, hoping to place the judge at a disadvantage.

"I do not," was the mild reply. "The caliph pays me—and pays me well—for what I do know. Were he to attempt to pay me for what I do not know the treasures of his empire would not suffice."—Youth's Companion.

A Fascinating Stranger.

"A Worcester man," says the Worcester Gazette, "who makes frequent trips to Europe fell in with a fascinating stranger the last time he was across. The stranger, who may be designated as Ferguson because that does not sound at all like his real name, was an American, his manners were those of a gentleman, and he seemed to be well supplied with money and to know a great many people worth knowing. In conversation with the Worcester man one day Ferguson said: 'Worcester is a charming city, and I have some very dear friends there. I presume you know Colonel E. J. Russell? He is an old and highly esteemed friend, to whom I am deeply indebted for many favors.'"

"When the Worcester man returned home, he met Colonel Russell one day and in course of conversation remarked that he had met a man in Europe who said that he was an old friend, Colonel Russell thought for a moment, and then he replied: 'Oh, yes, I remember Ferguson very well! I ought to, for he lived with me for seven years once. It was when I was warden of the state prison at Charlestown, and I will say that Ferguson was one of the quietest and best behaved prisoners that I ever had.'"

A Lost Opportunity.

The Chicago Record says that some time ago a young organist secured permission to practice on the big organ in the Auditorium. An elderly man walked in and took a seat a few rows away from the musician. The young organist noticed him, and was encouraged to "show off" and do a few tricks of playing for his audience. He rambled on for an hour, and the elderly man sat there, apparently impressed. The young man tired at last and was about to lock the organ when the elderly man approached him and said in broken English that he wished to play for a few minutes.

"They don't allow any one but an experienced organist to touch the instrument," said the young man loftily. With a little gesture, suggestive of meekness and humility, the stranger presented his card, "Alexandre Guilmant, Paris."

Then it was time for the young organist to swoon. He had missed the chance of his life. For an hour he had been entertaining the great master with homemade drivel.

Where to Carry Stamps.

"Business men have various ways of carrying their postage stamps," said the stamp clerk the other morning while sitting in his chair at the stamp window in the general postoffice. "A good many men who post their letters here always have one or more stamps about them. Some of them carry their stamps in stamp cases, but the economical man carries his stamps under the band of his hat or in his pockets."

"The other day a young man called for 'five twos,' and, putting one on a letter which he had to mail, he took out his watch and opening the back of it slipped the remaining stamps into the case. They don't stick to the cover, and that is about the best way one can carry stamps if he has a watch."—New York Sun.

Vindication.

"Are you not ashamed to look your children in the face?" hissed the unhappy girl.

Her father bit his lips; that done, he cut loose.

"I will no longer endure to be unjustly reproached!" he cried. "You kids get your pug noses from your mother's folks!"

Sinking into a chair, he wept weak tears, not strong enough indeed to phase the colors in the upholstery.—Detroit Journal.

Egotism.

Synnex—So you love Miss Sugar-knee?

Sweexo—I do.

Synnex—You love her because she loves you, and she loves you because you love her. Bah! That amounts to the same thing as each of you being in love with yourself.—Boston Transcript.

Perhaps She Came Down Too.

She—So you are engaged to Miss Spiry?

He—Yes, but it's a big come-down for me.

She—Why, I thought she was such a sweet girl.

He—She is, but she rooms on the first floor and I'm on the eighth.—New York Journal.
