A SUDDEN SUMMONS.

CONGRESSMAN W. L. GREENE DIED SATURDAY AT OMAHA

Sherman County Bar Meet and Pass Resolutions of Respect.

Congressman W. L. Greene, of this sixth congressional district died at Omaha last Saturday. He had left his hotel and was on his way to the depot in a cab with some friends. On reaching the depot where he expected to take the train for Lincoln his friends alighted and called for him to come on, but as he did not respond they stepped back into the cab. He was sitting upright with his chin drooped on his breast but was dead. An autopsy was made by the eminent physicians of the city and in accordance with the findings the inquest jury decided that death was caused by the excessive use of Alcohol. A delegation from Kearney started at once as soon as the news was received and accompanied the body home. Mr. Norris Brown his opponent in the late campaign was one of the company. Mr. Greene leaves a wife and six children.

RESOLUTIONS.

Sherman County Bar pay's Congressman W. L. Greene Respects,

At a meeting of the members of the Bar of Sherman County Nebraska, held at Loup City, on Wednesday March 15, 1899, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, that,

WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the members of the Sherman county Bar, that the Honorable William L. Greene departed this life on Saturday March 11, 1899 at Omaha, Nebraska, and

WHEREAS; We deeply deplore the loss of this eminent member of the bar of the Twelfth Judicial District of Nebraska, with whom we have been personally acquainted for a number of years in the capacity of a citizen whom we all respected. A lawyer whose intellectual resources were almost without limit, an advocate whose eloquence was powerful and persuasive; a Judge whose sense of right and justice were of the highest order in whose court the cause of the poor and lowly was as sacred as that of the rich and influential; and whom we have also known in the capacity of Representative to the Congress of the United States, in which he faithfully guarded the interests of his constituents and promoted the welfare of this great nation, and in which he found a fitting arena for the display of his great ability, therefore be it RESOLVED: That in recognition of the many virtues of our departed brother, and of his distinguished career as Lawyer, Judge and Statesman. We hereby tender to his grief stricken family our heartfelt sympathy with them in this hour of their bereavement by sending to them a copy of these resolutions; and that we also make application to the Judge of the District Court of Sherman County at the next term of said court to spread these resolutions upon the record of said court as a permanent memorial to the honored dead.

Committee on Resolutions,
R. J. NIGHTINGALE,
W. R. MELLOR,
W. H. WILLIAMS,
AARON WALL,
JOHN W. LONG,
Chairman, Sec.

Members of the Bar:
W. J. Fisher, W. H. Conger,
T. S. Nightingale, Geo. W. Hunter,
H. M. Mathew, J. S. Pedler.

Jan Maciere, who is now on a lecturing trip in this country, begins in an early issue of The Ladies Home Journal his latest piece of literary work. It is a series of popular articles in which he defines the relation that a minister holds to his congregation; how a preacher is helped by his people; how a congregation can make the most of a minister, and other phases of the most satisfactory attitude of a congregation to a pastor.

BUILD A SCHOOL HOUSE.

Attend The Citizens Meeting at the Primary School House To-Night.

There will be a citizens meeting held at the Primary school building, Friday evening, for the purpose of discussing the proposition of building a new school house. Members of the board inform us that they expect to have on exhibition at that time several different plans and specifications. The citizens should all turn out to this meeting. Let us build a school house and one large enough to accommodate the district for some time to come as well as for the present. We are now necessarily compelled to run five rooms and it will only be a question of a year or so until we will need the sixth room. If we build them now it will be built and ready for use, if it isn't built now it is but natural to suppose that it will be many years before the sixth room is made and we will be continually under the expense of running school in the old primary school building, when in fact if it were all under one roof all of the rooms could be heated by steam or hot water at practically no additional expense.

Then again we should be very careful to have these rooms large enough and well ventilated, give plenty of room in the aisles as well as for seating capacity. All these conveniences help both teacher and pupil and much better results will be attained in our schools. We are informed that the district can vote $7,000 bonds and also that there will be about $2,000 in the treasury after the schools are supplied for the school year. This $9,000 will build a school house something like our necessities demand. Let us say no more about it, but chose our plans and specifications (which of course should include a brick building) appropriate the money and instruct our school board to go ahead.

CEDEAR, (Art. No. 3)

Planting seed is perhaps, the least understood, and therefore the most difficult part of this subject. I have tried soaking in lye and planting in sand but no success has come of it. Mr. Hill, of Dundee, Ill. writes me that the seed need not be expected to appear the first year. The second year some plants appear, and so on for four years or more. Mr. Angier has had a limited experience, and he agrees with Mr. Hill.

The method is about this, gather the seed after it has had some severe freezing, pulverize the ground deeply, plant in drills at least one foot between rows, cover with earth about one and one half inches, shade well but not totally.

A good arrangement would be six inch fence boards on edge, common lath nailed cross wise with spaces about one half inch or a little more, fence board every foot, that gives four spaces, ground made ready, set on your shading arrangement, this marks the ground, remove your shade and plant seed midway between marks, replace shades. Thereafter keep the weeds out, this will make two or three weeding times each summer. Of course your shade will have to be removed while you weed out and then put back again. Better chose the cool of the day to do your weeding out. No part of this is experience with me, I am only writing what others tell. Wherever the cedar bird winters you can find young plants coming on, it seems that the bird lives on the seed, and prepares the seed to grow.

ASHTON LOCALS

Burglars Visited The Town and Carry Off Some of Its Wealth.

On Saturday morning the peace loving citizens of Ashton awoke to learn that that awful specimen of humanity had paid our little village a nocturnal visit and carried away some of the hard earned "coin of the realm." Upon hastening to the scene we found that Messrs. Taylor & Conklin were the losers, and their massive safe completely ruined, with one of the immensa doors blown off completely, and with such force as to throw it against the wall of the building with force enough to crush a portion of the wall. Papers, books, etc., were strewn very promiscuously every where about the premises. We are informed the loss was only about $16.00. No clue could be found as to who were the perpetrators of the crime.

Will Neuman made a trip to the hub Thursday.

Frank J. Taylor and Mr. Earl Kendall came up from St. Paul, Friday evening.

B. Lukaszewski took his daughter to the hospital at Grand Island, for a surgical operation.

The High school entertainment passed off smoothly Saturday evening after several postponements. Even if the weather was bad, a fairly good attendance was given the young folks. The little "coon" brought down the house and was called back by repeated encores.

John Chipps of Davis Creek was in town Wednesday.

The Danish Society shipped hogs from this station Wednesday, while the Polish Society shipped a car of cattle from here Tuesday.

W. S. Harding of Nebraska City, was a pleasant caller Wednesday.

Rev. Salem Paterson, D. D., President of Hastings college will preach in the Presbyterian church at 8:00 p. m. Sunday, March 19th. Let every body come.

I. C. U.

Miss Viola Allen, the "star" of Hall Caine's dramatization of his popular novel, "The Christian," has always aspired to be an author. She has said that there are two things which she would rather do than act; write a book, or be a trained nurse. She will now make her literary debut in an article which she has written for The Ladies Home Journal, reading and explaining fully "What the Life of an Actress Means."

Nature's Danger Signals.

Do your eyes blur at times?
Do they hurt after reading?
Are there frequent headaches?
Are the muscles around the eyes drawing wrinkles and crows feet? They are NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS.

Only when sight is gone is the terrible danger realized. It cost so little to help the the eyes. If done in time I can give them early help. Later I have to refer the work to oculists. I examine the eyes in the most intelligent and careful manner and without charge. If glasses are needed I can supply the correct lenses mounted in any manner desired.
