ASHTON LOCALS

J. C. Schaapp made a trip to Loup City and return on business Thursday.

Quite a delegation of Ashtonites went to Farwell Thursday to attend the "house warming" given by Rev. L. E. Humphrey, the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Farwell and this place. All report having had an elegant time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smelser, Mr. C. F. Beushausen and Miss Blanch Paige, and the Misses Neibler, drove over to Rockville Friday evening to attend the "Mother Goose" social.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Taylor returned from an extended trip through the eastern part of the state on Saturday evening.

We notice that John Rapp sr. and Jacob Rapp are here from Oklahoma.

J. E. Conklin made a flying business trip to Loup City, on Monday.

W. M. Smelser visited the hub Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Wichman went to Loup City Monday, returning the same day.

Aug. Sonstrom drove over to Rockville Sunday for a short visit.

Miss Fay Fair of Rockville was visiting her sister Mrs. W. M. Smelser, the fore part of this week.

Mr. J. C. Todd of Elba, was a visitor of our bustling town Tuesday.

We see home made bills out saying: "Fourth of July ball game, Ashton vs Arcadia, Bicycle Race, Pony Race, Dance day and night." No one seems to know who is the author, and the business men disclaim any part of it.

The sad news arrived Tuesday morning that Mr. Thos. Woiwlawicz had lost one of his sons. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at the Catholic Church. Our heart felt sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Wm. Knutzen drove over to Loup City Tuesday on business.

A large number of friends of Miss Barbara Plumer congregated at her home Tuesday evening to help her celebrate her birthday, and happy occasion it was too. All wished her many happy returns of the day.

Peter Jepsen, the enterprising merchant from Rockville was seen on our streets Wednesday.

I. M. Polski of Loup City was seen shaking hands with old friends here Wednesday morning.

A very quiet school election was held here Monday night, Mr. Bartholemew Lukaszewski was elected director in the place of Mr. J. P. Taylor.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor, at high noon on June 28, 1899, Mr. Earl H. E. Kendall of St. Paul, Nebr., and Miss Eva M. Taylor of Ashton, Neb. were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Lewis E. Humphrey.

The bride wore white organdy over cream colored silk, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom's costume was of the conventional black.

The couple entered to the strains of wedding March, executed by Miss Nellie Angier, and took their places beneath a large wedding bell made of white flowers, with a large and commodious bay window.

After the ceremony all present partook of an elegant dinner prepared for the occasion.

The young couple left amid a shower of best wishes, and rice of course, on the 2:40 P. M. train for an extended wedding tour through the West, after which they will make their home in St. Paul, Nebr.

Mr. Kendall comes to us as a model young man of sterling qualities, with very bright prospects for the future while Miss Taylor has lived among us the greater part of her life and has a host of friends who wish her all the joys possible.

Only the two families and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony.

They go forth into the world with the congratulations and best wishes of all.

I. C. U.

STORM AFTER STORM.

Wind, Hail and Rain Do Great Damage to Crops and Other Property.

Storm of Friday.

A heavy rain and wind storm prevailed here last Friday evening, which in certain localities developed into a cyclone and done considerable damage, north and east of town, where the storm was the worst. W. R. Mellor's barn blew down and scattered over 40 acres. Mrs. Wharton's barn and other out buildings were completely wrecked and shingles and chimney torn off the house. T. M. Reed's barn was also laid low. Wm. Sharp's barn was more or less damaged also the barn of Lewis Bechthold. A. M. Bennett and Carl Anderson both had their wind mill blown down and W. H. Morris' wind mill was evidently picked up and lifted completely over some tall trees and dashed to the ground. A freight car was blown off the U. P. track. Peter F. Erlanson had a large two and a half story barn completely twisted into kindling wood. His boy was sleeping in the barn but came to the house just before it went. Mr. Frank Otlewski's large frame barn was also completely smashed to pieces and other damage done about the place. He had a steer so badly hurt by the flying timbers that it had to be killed. A hail storm visited the west side of the river in Webster and Washington townships and we learn that Charles Larson, W. M. Leininger, A. L. Baillie, Anderson and McFadden, George Lee and others experienced severe damage. The rain fall which extended nearly all over the county was very heavy and the corn crop is booming.

Storm of Sunday.

Last Sunday afternoon one of the severest storms that ever visited Sherman county struck and devastated the western part of it. The storm seems to have gathered near Lee Park, and followed down Clear Creek striking Litchfield, about 4:30 in the afternoon. The wind was not as furious on reports as some we have experienced before but there was a number of wind mills blown down, some houses unroofed and several barns destroyed. The water came down in a regular deluge and our informant states that it was three feet deep in the streets of Litchfield. The hail was very large and broke every window glass that faced it, thereby making the damage in that berg very heavy. The storm seems to have covered an area of about 25 miles square and very little crop is said to be left in its track. The hail reached within six miles of Loup City, cutting the crops of M. H. Smith and Henry Rensink and others on its east line. The storm in the Loup Valley consisted of rain with a stiff wind but no damage was done by the rain in the valley as there was but little over an inch fell, but the water which fell south west of this place and east of the divide came rushing down the canons until at the forks of Brown creek, and in the draw on Charles Van Aels' farm the volume of water was 35 feet deep and was about 5 feet deep in his house. It moved his barn a short distance and destroyed some $60.00 worth of Swiss cheese and much of his farm machinery. It struck Geo. McFadden's farm next sweeping every thing before it that was smaller than his house. His corn crib, ice house and a self binder was carried half a mile and about 60 head of hogs were drowned. Mr. A. Sutton had 53 head of cattle in a pasture in the track of the water, 33 was still there the next morning, the balance were missing.

Storm of Monday.

Monday evening at about 7 o'clock clouds again began to appear in the west and gradually grew more ominous sending most of our people to cellars and cyclone holes. The rain began to fall about 9 o'clock and continued amidst awful lightning and severest of thunder until 11 o'clock. The conditions were terrorizing, sometimes as calm as death with that suspense which accompanies it, and again the earth trembled and reverberated from the deafening peals of thunder. The wind did not at any time reach alarming proportion. There was 2 1/2 inches of water fell and coming as it did upon an already soaked earth the flood was alarming for those living on the lower lands.

Very few bridges are left standing over the smaller streams and a great amount of grading is washed away. No hail accompanied the storm and when the clouds began to break a great suspense was lifted from all.
