PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

The Rubber Stomach Man.

F. M. Spaw, 19 years old, a school teacher of Alto Pass, Ill., has exploded all physiological theories regarding the capacity of the human stomach by eating and drinking in one evening, in addition to his regular supper, one can of tomatoes, one can of peas, one can of sardines, seven glasses of soda water and two quart bottles of temperance drinks. This is only one of many like achievements by which he has astonished his acquaintances.

A Strike's Effect in Amsterdam.
The printers' strike at Amsterdam has had a peculiar result in the journalistic world. From April 25 to April 30 no Amsterdam newspaper appeared, but from that date the managers of nine newspapers agreed to print a single sheet, calling it the Extraordinary Journal.

The President's Favorite.
President McKinley's liking for the red carnation seems to be unflagging. He has a dozen sent from the White House greenhouse every day and nearly always wears one when out for his daily drive.

The Place of Pink Pearls.
One of the most important industries of the Bahama islands is the gathering of pink pearls. It is the only place in the world where these pearls are found. They are not taken from the oyster shell, but from a shell resembling a large snail shell, called a "conch." These pearls, when perfect, bring very high prices. It is said, ranging from $50 to $5,000.

Heeded Duty's Call.
A Chicago girl writes to a friend about her hero, who is a soldier in the Philippines. She says: "I got a letter from him. He is getting along splendid. He has been assigned to the guardhouse for five days. Says it is a pretty hot place; but then, you know, he never shrinks from his duty. Ma and I are naturally proud to hear of his promotion."

For a Ruskin Monument.

Admiral of the late John Ruskin is moving for the erection of a memorial to the great critic. The spot most in favor is Friars Craig, Derwentwater, England, the view from which Ruskin used to regard as one of the finest in Europe. The memorial will probably take the form of a suitably inscribed early British cross of native stone.

Successful Havana Paper.
Senior Coronado, owner of the Cuban newspaper El Discusion, published in Havana, and the most influential journal there, is in New York buying presses for an enlarged circulation. He sells now between 24,000 and 25,000 papers a day at 5 cents a copy.

A Massachusetts Medal Winner.
The first medal of the Paris salon of 1900 has been awarded to M. D. Despradelle, professor of architecture and design in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who had for his design "The Beacon of Progress."

Not All Prize Fighters.
While the Queensberry family is generally associated in the public mind with prize fighting and personal eccentricities there are members of it who have achieved distinction in other and more conventional directions. One is the Hon. John Douglas, C. M. G., who has recently published in Brisbane a very interesting history of Thursday Island, the sentinel guarding the northern approach to Australia, where he has been government resident for the last fifteen years.

After Thirty-Nine Years.
General Wheeler is in the United States regular army again, after an absence of about thirty-nine years, caused by his resignation to enter the military service of the southern confederacy. A graduate at West Point in 1859, he was not long on the active list before, and he will be on it even a shorter period this time. General Wheeler was born September 10, 1826, and is nearing his 64th birthday, the retiring age in the regular army.

Remarkable Record as a "Planter."
Wexford, Ireland, has lost one of the most remarkable of its citizens in the death of Fred Hyland, an undertaker, at the age of 85. For sixty years he was an undertaker in Wexford and it is calculated that during that time he buried over 5,000 people.

Thackeray Prices.
A complete set of "The Snob" and "The Gossamer," with all of Thackeray's contributions, was sold for $600 in London lately. "The Orphan of Pimlico" brought $77. "The Corsair" (New York) $82, and "Vanity Fair," 1848, $61.

HAS A FAMOUS MADSTONE.

A Chicago telegram says: There arrived in Chicago today, in the vest-pocket of an ex-soldier of the Spanish-American war, an insignificant little porous stone, with which the owner declares war against hydrophobia. This "little jewel" came to Alderman George Newman of Kankakee when he was with Col. Bennett's Third Illinois regiment fighting on the coast of Porto Rico, near Guanica. The Porto Ricans didn't want it because they couldn't eat it. Newman stubbed his toe on the little heretage of the sea while bathing, and he picked it up and put it in the pocket of his blouse. He had promised to take home some stones and seashells, and he says if it hadn't been for the injury to his toe he never would have been reminded of his promise. Thus he came by the queer little spongy stone about the size of a hen's egg. When he received a fresh wound he applied the stone and it worked like magic. Then he says he began to make inquiries and ascertained that the little stone he got mad at and swore about in the sea that day was really a madstone. Newman says there have not been enough dog bites in Kankakee, so he brought it to Chicago. Within the last year the stone has been applied in thirty-five cases.

A STRIKE HEROINE.

Maud Thomas, who has leaped into fame as the Joan of Arc of the St.

MAUD THOMAS.

Louis street-car strikers, is the 17-year-old daughter of a motorman, living at 2617 South Twelfth street. She addressed a crowd of union men in South St. Louis, and then, when they had gone wild with enthusiasm, she led them on a march to the Carondelet power-house. Some of her followers even procured her a pony to ride, and the marchers took up the air of her "Chorus of Liberty" with such vim that several detachments of the posse comitatus arrived in short order. The strikers found their progress blocked by a solid phalanx of armed men, and their Joan of Arc was promptly taken into custody. She was returned to the care of her parents, who are inclined to deprecate her deed as the prompting of the ringleaders of the mob. Miss Thomas is a comely school girl and a favorite among the residents of the workmen's section of the city.

BRYAN AS A FARMER.

Col. William J. Bryan's farm near Lincoln, Neb., is attracting considerable attention. The presidential candidate can be found there any day doing manual labor like any other farmer. Next to chickens, Mr. Bryan takes an interest in the garden. He planted it, and has done the most of the cultivating. He gets out about 9 o'clock in the morning and works for an hour and a half among the onion beds and bean rows. It has supplied the Bryan household with some of its early vegetables, but the lettuce came to grief. Mr. Bryan's wife Wyandotte and Leghorn hens played havoc with his lettuce. He knows better now, and will build a wire netting around his lettuce bed when next he essays to cultivate it. Not only will he raise enough vegetables for home consumption this summer,

RESIGNATION OF FAMOUS EDUCATOR.

Dr. Rogers, who has just resigned from the presidency of Northwestern university, was born in New York state in 1853 and entered Hamilton college in 1873. He graduated from Michigan university in 1874, taking a master of arts degree. In 1877 he was admitted to the Michigan state bar and in 1880 he was given a professorship in the law school at the university. In 1885 he succeeded Judge Cooley as dean of the law school and five years later, when he came to Northwestern university, its president.

THE CHINESE MINISTER.

The most popular oriental ever accredited to the capital at Washington is without doubt Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister. It has been said that Mr. Wu was to have been called home by his government and to be succeeded by Chang Yen Huan, former representative here of the celestial kingdom, but Li Hung Chang wished Mr. Wu retained in office, and he was. Mr. Wu proposes, however, to start soon for Peru, where, and at the court of Spain, he also rep-WU TING FANG, resents his government. He will not be accompanied by his wife, who has planned to make an extended tour through the west in company with her son and nephew during his absence.

Mr. Wu is a diplomat of the first order and he carefully looks after his country's interests. He is accredited with being enormously wealthy and stands well with those in power in the "land of the Boxers." His relations with the Washington officials are most cordial, and he fulfills his mission here far better than his predecessors have done. He is considerable of a wit and after-dinner speaker and society courts his company.

Government Printing Office Will Be Busy.

The government printing office, which is the largest printing establishment in the world, will have plenty of business from now on. Nearly every senator and member of congress will want some part of the Congressional Record produced for distribution in his district as a campaign document. The government does this work at cost price, which is 25 per cent less than the best rates of the ordinary printing concern.
