

Entered at the Loup City Postoffice for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

The Lord does even up some things in this world. Printers children are always immune from kidnaps-ers.

The senatorial contest at Lincoln, will soon be in full blast and we can see no good reason why the northern part of the state should not be considered as the plums are passing.
We have three available candidates either of whom are well entitled to recognition, Hon's A. E. Cady of St. Paul, M. P. Kinkaid of O'Neil, and senator Curry of Sargent. They are all splendid men whom to know is to trust and neither have ever been connected with questionable deals. The people of this part of the state should demand a place on the senatorial delegation for one of them.

Edward Cudaby sr., the millionaire meat packer of South Omaha, shelled out the $25,000 ransom asked for by the kidnapers of his son. The money was paid readily under pressure of threats made by the outlaws to put out his sons eyes with acid if he did not do so. This heinous crime, committed against good government and humanity, is even condoned by some parties in this community by saying that Mr. Cudaby had made his money easy and was a millionaire and there was no real harm in getting it away from him as as long as the boy was returned safe.

Can it be possible that educated men would so far forget themselves as to tacitly white wash the robbers of our firesides, yet such seems to be the case.

The village board, by a special act passed a resolution to prohibit public gatherings in the village and to keep out all persons known to have been exposed to small-pox. It may be necessary to take some steps in this direction to insure the health of our citizens, but if it is, the most dangerous points should be the ones most guarded, and this, it would seem, comes from the train service, and traveling public. Now, from the resolution passed there is no one prohibited from coming to town from any point, except those who are known to be exposed. Is there any sense in such a resolution? We may be dull of comprehension but we fail to see by what means the people are protected by pursuing such a course. All people coming from or passing through other places where the disease is known to be, should be stopped from coming into our village, until such time as all danger of introducing the disease is past. There is much more danger of small-pox being brought into our midst by the traveling public than there is of its spread by public gatherings in a place where the disease does not exist. We think that the honorable board should call another special meeting and give us this protection or else recind the whole business. As it is we have absolutely no protection and are paying a marshall for nothing.

A glimpse of the luxury with which rich Americans surround themselves is given in the January issue of The Ladies' Home Journal, under the title "Housekeeping in a Mil-lionaire's Family." If this issue of the Journal is a fair sample of what that popular magazine intends to give its readers in the new century its already wide field of usefu-ness will be greatly enhanced. One of the striking features of the January Journal "The Baltimore Billie Who Made the Most Brilliant Match of any Girl in America" recalls the fact that a Yankee "Queen" once sat on a Vice-Regal throne in Ireland.
There is a little play for amateurs, "The Little Women Play," adapted from Miss Alcott's story. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps brings more humor into the domestic complications of "The Successors of Mary the First." Charles Major tells a thrilling "Blue River Bear Story," and Clifford Howard contributes another chapter of "The story of a Young Man." "A Winter Service at Church," by W. L. Taylor, and A. B. Frost's "Town Meeting" are page pictorial features that will be received with great favor. Edward Bok has an article on "The Two Centuries and This Magazine," giving a short review of the history of the Journal. There are also many other features that will prove useful and helpful to home-makers. By Curtis Publishing Company. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev.
S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va. contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing.
He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose! I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public."

At a special meeting of the Village board held Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking such steps as might be deemed necessary for protecting the city against the introduction of smallpox, the following resolution was adopted:

It is hereby resolved by the Chairman and Board of Trustees of the Village of Loup City, Nebraska, that the facts as set forth in the petition presented does exist and from the reason of such conditions existing, the said board hereby orders, for the protection and health of the citizens of said village, that:

All public gatherings of what-so-ever kind be and are hereby ordered to be discontinued until such time that the Village Board shall deem it safe to rescind this order. And if at any time it is brought to the notice of the proper authorities that parties have come into the village from infected places, and that they themselves have been exposed to the small-pox or have symptoms of the same, then it shall be the duty of said authorities to return them from whence they came or provide a place of quarantine for such parties, and continue said quarantine until such time that a certificate of a practicing physician can be given them that they are free from such disease.

By motion the above resolution was read and passed by a unanimous vote.

26,400 PHOTOGRAPHS.

Sent to one Magazine Within 3 Months.

Some six months ago The Ladies' Home Journal offered a series of cash prizes for the best output photographs taken by amateur photographers during the summer. The returns almost swamped the Philadelphia post-office, which in three months delivered 26,400 photographs to the magazine. The photographs make perhaps the largest single collection ever sent to one particular quarter. It will require nearly a month's work on the part of the magazine's entire staff to assort the pictures and make the awards.

Now is the time when croup and lung

CHRISTMAS AT LOUP CITY.

Christmas time was generally observed by the people of this city and surroundings in a manner that will leave pleasant memories with all.
Old and young were made happy by the receipt of generous gifts from friends and relatives. Many families indulged in Merry Christmas dinners and enjoyed the privilege and pleasure of participating in family re-union. Merchants closed their places of business in order that they might indulge in the pastime, and pleasures of home society.

At the M. E. Church an entertainment was given by the Sunday School which was largely enjoyed.
A ferris wheel eight feet in diameter was erected in the church and so arranged as to revolve, carrying with it some fifteen baskets will filled with tokens of love and affection.
The program was rendered by the Sunday School scholars who gave a very appreciative entertainment.
While every part of the program was well rendered there was one feature of the program deserving of special mention, it was the rendition by two boys and three girls of "The Story of Bethlehem," Rev. Madley closed the program with a few remarks that was well suited to the occasion. Santa Claus put in his appearance at the appointed time and the large ferris wheel started journey, distributing tokens of love and affection to the many who were present to receive them.

At the Baptist Church a large crowd gathered. An Arch and Christmas tree was had. The tree was well laden with presents. A program was carried out and the presentations of present was followed by a basket supper and social time.

The Presbyterian hall was also the scene of much enjoyment, there being a good sized crowd gathered to do honor to the occasion. A short program was rendered by the Sunday School class and a basket supper and social was given.

At all of these gatherings special pains were taken to make the little folks happy and credit is due the management for keeping in mind some of the more unfortunate ones whose circumstances were such as to prevent them from otherwise enjoying the pleasures of A Merry Christmas.

CHRISTMAS AT AUSTIN.

The Christmas Tree at Austin, Neb., on Monday evening, Dec. 24th 1900 was a grand success, over one hundred persons, all residents and neighbors of the vicinity being present. The tree groaned under the enormous load of presents it contained for old and young. The program for the evening was as follows:

Song of welcome.
Address of Welcome, by John Vandegrift.
Christmas, by Vera Rentfrow.
Two Xmas, by Walter Couton.
My Xmas Pudding, Willie Wilson.
Grandpa's Xmas, by Mamie Rentfrow.
Duet, by Miss Wilson and Miss Ogle.

"The Cob Doll," by Grace Rentfrow
"Old Santa Claus," Walter Wilson.
"The Guardian Angel," by Nellie Dillon.

"When we were Happy Children," by Bert Wilson.
"T May Poll Drill."
Song, "A Xmas Carol,"
"Our Christmas," by Birdy Needham.

"A Sweet Dream," by Jasper
Rentfrow.
"Willie's and Annie's Prayers," by Ester Wilson.

Song, "The Star of Judah."
The Christmas Cross, by Myrtle Wilson.

"A Happy Time is Coming,"
by Rhea Rentfrow.
"The Diamond Wedding," by Miss Pearl Needham.

"The Xmas Sheaf of Wheat, by Verna Rentfrow.

Good night song, by the school.
The exercises were followed by a treat of apples, pop corn, candies and nuts galore.

All at once Santa Claus' sleigh bells were heard out side, but the chimney being too small for his admittance (he being of considerable size) the door was thrown open to receive him.

All together the occasion was highly appreciated and pleasing to the many present.

We understand that E. S. Ogle is contemplating going in to the drug business at Austin as Ole Santa presented him with a stock of pills and corn cure Christmas eve.

Report has it that John Carpenter will start a Biogna manufacturing plant, so don't shoot your dog yet as they will be in great demand.

Wanted.—Names for infants that were left to the mercy of Bertie Wilson and Philip Heil on Christmas eve.
