What Do the Children Drink? Don't give them ten or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Gi.AIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/2 as much. All grocers sell it.

A BUDDHIST'S DEATH.

WEIRD CEREMONY OBSERVED AT PASSING OF PRIEST.

Old Ting Ho-Sheng Died Sitting Up and

Was Put Into His Coffin and Buried That Way - Pillows Under Each house, says the Sioux City Journal. It is an exceedingly rare thing for a foreigner to be permitted to witness the death of a Buddhist priest, and it was only after a residence of nearly twelve years in China that the opportunity came to me, says a writer in Leslie's Weekly. Old Ting Ho-Sheng. head priest of the "Temple of the Spirit of Light," I had known by sight for several years, and had a more intimate acquaintance with him the summer he died, but I did not expect to be a witness of his death nor to see him die sitting up. Not only did "Old Ting" die sitting up, but he was put into his coffin and buried that way. Disease and native treatment had already placed the seal of death upon the old man, so that at my second visit I could only tell the attendants that his hours were few. Returning to the old priest's rooms a little later. I found him sitting on a broad stool facing the outer door, clad in his fine priestly robes of yellow silk. Being long past consciousness, he was supported by his attendants in this position, with his legs crossed, each foot resting upon the opposite thigh, sole directed upward-an exceedingly difficult, and, in fact, almost impossible position to assume in life. The hands were placed, palms together, up before his face, the whole attitude being that which represents Buddha in the state of Nirvana-and the old man was very near that state. The great anxiety of those in attendance was that he should not be placed in his coffin until he was really dead. Al though I could not bring him back to life, they were willing that I should judge when he was dead. Holding a small mirror in front of his face, I waited until there was no more moisture deposited upon it. In the meantime preparations were continually going on around me for further carelonger. monies. A large pile of paper "cash" had been placed outside the door, on top of which was a document I was not allowed to see, but, from what I could learn, was his history as related to his accession to the priesthood and life in it. Upon being pronounced dead a flaming torch was applied to the 'cash' by a young priest, former disciple and now successor to the lands and buildings of the old man sitting before him. No sooner was the paper well ablaze than the young man prostrated himself before it, bumping his head on the ground the requisite number of times, for every movement in next step in this strange death scene was the placing of the body in its up-

IOWA GOVERNORS.

Compelled to Provide Their Own Houses While at the Capital.

Iowa governors have followed various plans in providing themselves with homes in Des Moines during their official terms. Gov. Larrabee occupied a frame house near the state-It was not very large and rented for about $50 a month, the sum which the state allows to the governor for house rent. Gov. Boies lived at the Savery house, occupying a small room when he was in town, and when he went out of town over night he gave up the room the same as any other translent. He never entertained. Gov. Jackson, who lives in a comfortable but modest home in this city, met the demands of his position socially in a very pleasing manner, having the assistance of a wife who was very capable and successful in discharging the duties of the governor's wife. Gov. Drake lived at the Savery House, where he occupied a parlor and entertained to some extent. Gov. Shaw has filled the position socially, as well as in other respects, to the complete satisfaction of all demands. He succeeded when he came here in renting a good furnished house from a family that was going to spend a year in Europe. During the last legislative session Governor and Mrs. Shaw occupied the Pratt house on Grand avenue. Since then they have lived in the Victoria, the new Hubbell apartment house. Governor and Mrs. Shaw have entertained liberally and have taken more part in the society of Des Moines than any previous governor except Gov. Jackson. All these experiences prove conclusively that no man can afford to be governor of Iowa unless he is wealthy and has an independent income. Gov. Shaw would probably not like to tell how much it cost him to maintain the governor's office. He urged that the salary be increased for the sake of his successors, because it is wholly inadequate to meet the most unavoidable demands upon the man who would maintain the dignity of the position. Gov. Jackson declined a second term because he found that he positively could not afford to retain the office any begins in the bowels. It's the unclean places that breed infectious epidemics, and it's the unclean body-unclean inside-that "catches" the disease. A person whose stomach and bowels are kept clean and whose liver is lively, and blood pure, is safe against yellow fever, or any other of the dreadful diseases that desolate our beautiful land. Some of the cleanest people outside are filthiest inside, and they are the ones who not only "catch" the infections, but endanger the lives of all their friends and relatives. There's only one certain way of keeping clean inside so as to prevent disease and that is to take CASCARETS. Perfect disinfectant and bowel strengtheners. All diseases are all bowel troubles, appendicitis, biliousness, bad breath, bad blood, wind on the stomach, bloated bowels, foul mouth, headache, indigestion, pimples, pains after eating, liver trouble, gallow complexion and dizziness.
