

AN INHERITANCE IN WESTERN CANADA.

Indian Reservations and Other New Districts to Be Opened Up This Year.

In the Great Saskatchewan Valley and the Fertile Plains of Assinibola.

To the Editor, Dear Sir: The past three or four years have demonstrated to a large number of Americans the value of the grain-growing and ranching lands of Western Canada. Tens of thousands have taken advantage of the offer made by the Canadian government as well as of the exceedingly low prices asked for lands by the railway, colonization and other companies. The experience of those who have been settled there for some little time is of a highly gratifying character. So much so that the Canadian government, who has control of the immigration into Western Canada, has decided to open up some new districts this year in the well known Saskatchewan Valley and also in the fertile plains of Assinibola. These Districts are entirely West and in close touch to largely settled communities as well as being situated on some of the most important lines of railway. They are within easy reach of markets, schools, churches and other social advantages. In some of these districts lands may be homesteaded as well as purchased outright at very low prices. Now as to what can be done on these lands. The evidence of the settlers in the neighborhood of the lands now about to be opened for settlement (some of them being located in one of the best Indian Reservations) goes to show that the very best results have followed even the most indifferent methods. Cases are given where farmers having gone there with most limited means, barely enough to erect a small house and break up a little land, have in three or four years time become prosperous, all debts paid and money in the bank. The soil in the Districts mentioned, Assinibola and Saskatchewan, is a rich black loam, fifteen inches to three feet deep. As a settler says, "It appears like the accumulation of decayed vegetation and ashes for centuries (the sub-soil is a stiff, putty clay)." On this soil it is possible to raise from 40 to 50 bushels of wheat to the acre, oats 75 to 100 bushels, all of which bring good prices at the local market. For mixed farming these new districts are probably among the best in Western Canada. Stock fatten easily on the wild grasses. Hay is plentiful, and prices splendid. Another settler writing to a friend in Iowa says: "The climate is all that could be desired, plenty of rainfall in summer, with no hot, dry winds. On the 28th of September I saw prairie flowers in full bloom, sweet corn, potato and tomato vines that had not been touched a particle with frost, and the winters are milder than those in the State from which I came. After the holidays the winter sets in clear and cold, with plenty of snow for good sleighing; no high winds or blizzards are known. Horses live out all winter and pick their own living, while cattle live all winter in open sheds and around the hay ricks. Wheat, oats and barley are the principal grain crops. Potatoes and all other roots and vegetables do well, the yield being enormous as compared to those in the States. Wild fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries, cranberries, gooseberries and all varieties of currants yield in abundance. As a reader of your valuable paper for a number of years, I feel that I should inform you of the progress and advancement being made in Canada within the past few years, and the inducements and advantages that will follow settlement in Western Canada. Those who desire information can do as I did, and apply to any Agent of the Canadian Government, whose name I see appears in advertisements appearing elsewhere in the columns of your paper, and when writing ask particularly about the Saskatchewan Valley or Assinibola Districts.

Yours truly,
Old Reader."

A New Yankee Industry.

The Massachusetts Frog Company has just been incorporated in Maine, with a capital of $5,000, its object being declared in the application to be "to buy, sell, breed and import frogs and like animals."

Hail Insurance.

From the reports filed in the insurance department of the state the past two years it would seem as though this class of insurance is one of the most important classes carried in the state of Nebraska. One of these hail companies alone has paid the enormous sum of $105,053.42 in losses during the past two seasons. No other insurance company in the state has paid such a large sum for losses as this one hail insurance company. The management of this company has been more economical than is usually the case with insurance companies. Otherwise it would not have been possible to pay such a large sum for losses. While several hail insurance companies have ceased to do business the past two years on account of not paying losses, the United Mutual Hail Insurance Association of Lincoln, the one above referred to, stands out alone with the proud record of which the officers of any insurance company could feel proud, having paid $12,000 more for losses than was paid by all the other hail insurance companies combined in the state. We can therefore recommend the United Mutual of Lincoln to anyone wishing good protection to his growing crops or to any agent wishing to write hail insurance.

VISITORS NOT WANTED.

People Who Want to See Greenland Must Get a Royal Permit.

Greenland is governed in a grandmotherly way by Denmark, but, as it consists of a group of colonies which would not under any circumstances attract many tourists or traders no outsider complains of the exclusiveness of the Danish authorities. Trade always has been and still is monopolized by the state and only government vessels are allowed to sail in Greenland waters. For foreign travelers also Greenland is a closed country unless the traveler in question has beforehand obtained the rare distinction of obtaining the permission of the Danish government. The monopoly of the trade is said to protect the Greenlanders from being deceived by unscrupulous merchants. The administration settles a fixed price both for the goods the Greenlanders purchase and for the products they sell. In this way all are treated in the same manner and the business being carried on by the state is a guaranty that the natives are not imposed upon. Furthermore, the members of the administration are enjoined to take care that the natives do not leave themselves short of produce by selling more than they can dispense with, so that they are not destitute of needful food and clothing when the slack time arrives. The native Greenlanders never has been, neither is he now, able to purchase a single drop of spirits from the administration. The exchange of goods between Greenland and Denmark is as a rule carried on exclusively by means of the nine vessels belonging to the Greenland Company—viz., five brigs, three barks and a small steamer, having a total register of about 2,000 tons net. Several of these vessels, which are suitable for sailing through drift ice, make two voyages a year, and the steamer as a rule three voyages. One of them the brig named the Whale, is nearly 100 years old.

CLOSING YEARS OF LIFE.

The Writer, Approaching 60, Finds Consolation in the Church.

"I have read the Spectator many years, but I do not remember an article having impressed me more than the one published in your issue of the 15th inst. on 'The Things Beyond the Tomb.' There are abundant reasons in favor of anonymous writing, but one feels really anxious personally to thank the writer for this paper, so full of insight and sympathy. I was most struck with his observations on the views men take of death. I believe it to be quite correct that no sane man would like to live his life over again. At my age (approaching 60) I can, as it were, see the end of my life approaching. The prospect gives me no fear. As one grows older the outlook becomes clearer and calmer. I have been a doubter, but like my forefathers, I can now find consolation in the services of the church. It is astonishing how the ordinary affairs of life seem to adapt themselves to your added years. One's pleasures are quieter but quite as enjoyable. To live in the lives of your children, to watch their progress, the development of their minds, is one great source of pleasure. Then one has music, reading, gardening, etc. May I also add that I took the advice of an old friend some years ago, who said the two things most likely to give pleasure in declining life were to learn whist and play the violin. These are simple things and within the reach of all but the very poor. The writer of the article quoted with approval a verse from one of Baxter's hymns. There is, however, a verse in the same hymn still more appropriate to my state of mind: 'If life be long, O make me glad, The longer to obey; If short, no laborer is sad To end the toilsome day.'—Letter in London Spectator.

Conscription Rampant in France.

Russia, with a population of 129,000,000, has an army reaching, on a peace footing, to 860,000, and in war time to 3,500,000. Germany, with a population of 52,000,000, supports 585,000 soldiers in time of peace, and when necessary can be brought up to 3,000,000. The French army, in peace time, is 615,000 strong, the second largest in the world, and 3,000,000 men can be put into the field. These figures mean that in France every soldier fights for fifteen civilians; in Germany, every soldier fights for seventeen, and Russia finds one soldier in every thirty-seven persons. With a demand for such a supply of fighting men, conscription is rampant, and every able-bodied Frenchman is liable to be called upon for service.—Cosmopolitan.

Bill Everts Outdone.

Ex-Senator William M. Everts is no longer the champion framer of long sentences. He frequently made a record of 500 words, but has been far outdone by Rastus S. Ransome, a New York lawyer, who, in a will case recently put a hypothetical question 4,000 words in length. Boiled down all this means: "Assuming the testimony to be true, was she sane or insane when she made her will?" It took just thirty minutes to ask the question.

The World's Rulers.

There are over sixty "rulers" in the world, and it is surprising to find that the presidents outnumber the kings. There are twenty-four presidents and only twenty kings. But the balance is more than made straight by the emperors, sultans, mirandas, rajahs, khedives, amers and other potentates, who prefer their special title to that of king. Only one reigning monarch in the world, if we except her most important majesty of China, is a woman. This is Queen Wilhelmina.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PERUNA.

Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

Letters From Women.

Every day we receive letters from women like the following. Women who have tried doctors and failed; and women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

Miss Katie Klein, 6125 Bartmer avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna has done me more good for catarrh than the best doctors could. I had catarrh so bad, but after taking Peruna it is entirely gone, and I feel like a different person."

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter. Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I am sincerely grateful for the relief I have found from the use of Peruna. I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My druggist advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful."

"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

A constant drain of nervous vitality depleting the whole nervous system causes the mucous membrane surfaces to suffer accordingly. This is the condition called systemic catarrh. It very nearly resembles, and there is really no practical difference, between this condition and the condition known as neurasthenia, or nervous prostration.

Man is the wonder of nature.—Plato.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Peruna a True Friend to Women.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, writes the following from 324 S. Division street, Grand Rapids, Mich.: The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen—"I earnestly recommend Peruna to any suffering woman, as it cures quickly. Last year I had a most persistent cough which nothing seemed to cure. Two bottles of Peruna did more for me than all the doctors seemed to do. In a couple of weeks I found myself in excellent health, and have been enjoying it ever since. Hence I look on Peruna as a true friend to women."

Peruna is equally efficacious in curing systemic catarrh or catarrh of the stomach. Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Mary Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and president of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, also speaks in glowing terms of Peruna. A letter recently received from her by The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, reads as follows:

"I am glad to call the attention of my friends to Peruna. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week.

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats.

Diseased nerves are traceable directly to poor digestion, and poor digestion is directly traceable to catarrh. With the slightest catarrh of the stomach no one can have good digestion.

Very few of the many women who have catarrh of the stomach suspect what their real trouble is. They know they belch after meals, have sour stomach, a sensation of weight or heaviness, a fullness, irregular appetite, drowsiness, gnawing, empty sensations, occasional pain—they all know this; but they do not know that their trouble is catarrh of the stomach. If they did they would take Peruna.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes catarrh from the stomach the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong, and trouble vanishes. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—poor digestion. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause! Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
