General Gomez, the Cuban patriot will visit the United States in the interest of his country.

Carrie Nation has made $15,000 by her crusade, but she has been a frost to all the towns she visited.

It is now expected that our army in the Philippines will be reduced by at least 20,000, which means a saving of at least $20,000,000 in army expenses.

The German General, Schwartzkopf, lost his life in the fire which recently destroyed the part of the Chinese imperial palace at Peking, in which Von Waldersee had his headquarters.

A trio of American heiresses who married European titles a few years ago are just now discovering that they were badly buncoed. They should have come to Nebraska and got something for their money.

Next Sunday is the day named for the beginning of President McKinley's great trip around the circle of the United States. While our ruler starts off with great pomp and a shake of the hand for all he meets, the crowned heads of Europe are shutting themselves in armored palaces and dreaming of dynamite bombs.

Aginaldo has issued a manifesto to his people requesting them to lay down their arms and help the United States to establish the humane and civilized government for the Philippines which they have already begun. This is a wise move on Aggy's part but it is not yet announced how George Fred Williams, Atkinson and W. J. Bryan will view it.

A special to the State Journal from Butte, Neb. says that the jury after being out all night in the case of Fred Braley, who was charged with an assault with intent to commit rape upon a young woman by the name of Mae Allgor, returned a verdict of not guilty. Before discharging the prisoner Judge Harrington administered to Mr. Braley a reprimand that he will long remember. The Judge stated that the evidence would have warranted either a verdict of not guilty or of conviction, and stated that he might consider himself fortunate that he was not found guilty, because if he had been he would have received a severe sentence. Braley has a wife and child. The judge reminded him of this fact and said he ought to so conduct himself that it would not be necessary for him to bring his wife into court and disgrace her.

The speech of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, chancellor of the exchequer of Great Britain, last week, placed that country before her people in a much more sorry plight than was expected. His deductions informed them that the cost of killing a Boer in each case had been to England, $5,000, and while their victories had been glorious ones a few more of them would ruin the country. Englands outlay has not nearly reached that of her Napoleonic wars which did not seriously embarrass her, but the end is not yet. neither can her wise men divine it. The American colonies were eight years in forcing her to acknowledge their independence, and if the Boers continue making the showing that they are now for half that length of time their salvation is assured. And why should the Boers lay down their arms as long as a hostile Englishman is in their country? Dewet may be crazy as has been announced from London, but a continuation of his way of presenting his madness to John Bull will compel a recognition of the South African Republic in the near future.

SUICIDE.

JOHN MILLER ENDS HIS EARTHLY CAREER

Takes Strychnine and Soon Dies from the Effects of the Poison.

John Miller, a German farmer, living with his son Henry near Vir durette, this county committed suicide last Friday afternoon while on his way from Loup City home by taking strychnine. A bottle containing the deadly poison was found on his person which was conclusive evidence of his intent to thus end his life.

He was found by John Biemond by a sod building near the Parl school house, in Clay township, about 6 o'clock, p. m. When Mr. Biemond came up to him he was jumping around in great agony and when asked what was the matter held up the bottle and said he had poisoned himself. Mr. Biemond wanted to take him in the wagon and to where he could get help. Miller would not go and said that he wanted to die, but urged Mr. Biemond to go and tell his son William living about a mile away. As soon as possible Mr. Biemond carried the news to Mr. Miller's son, and in the mean time Mr. Delyster, who was living near by to his assistance, but before he got to him he was dead.

The old gentleman was a man 58 years of age and seemed to be brooding over domestic troubles which no doubt unbalanced his mind.

The facts, as we learn them, was that he came to town on Wednesday with his son Henry and after staying with his daughter Mrs. Herman Jung until Friday, fully prepared himself to put an end to his troubles. Just before going to dinner at the Jung residence he went to Odendahl's drug store and bought some strychnine, registering for the same and stated that he wanted it to kill gophers as he was going to do some plowing and would put it into the gopher holes. He went to dinner with Mr. Jung but did not seem to have much appetite. Mr. Jung told him to lie down and take a rest and perhaps he would feel better after a while. He did so but after a short time got up and came down town and was seen leisurely walking around in different parts of the city, when about half past two o'clock he strated towards home. When he reached the Deyster farm house he went in and filled a long black bottle with water, then he went to the sod house above mentioned and there, it appears, mixed the deadly dose. He also had with him a whiskey bottle, the contents of which, it appears, he had taken to nerve himself up. Apparently he had taken a portion of the whiskey and strychnine and mixed it with the water in the long black bottle and from it had taken the poisonous dose.

Mr. Miller leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters. The funeral took place at the Miller farm last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and he was buried in the Evergreen cemetery north of this city.

The gold in the treasury at Washington, has reached the enormous amount of more than a half billion dollars and is still accumulating. No other government in the world possesses the ready cash that Uncle Sam does and with one exception, Russia for a short time, no country ever did possess such a vast amount of money at one time. Contrast this with '96 and argument would be superfluous.

The poor almond-eyed celestial finds himself in the position of the spider and the fly, with the exceptions that he has no choice left except to walk in and be devoured. The greedy governments of continental Europe seem to be determined to fleece him of even his britch-clout and make a slave of him for generations to come. Germany demands seventy millions, while Russia asks ninety, France comes in with a bill of forty millions and the little leeches that did not have a corporals guard in China, demands in the aggregate thirty five. England, the world renowned vampire asks but twenty-four millions and Uncle Sam thinks that twenty-five will heal his sores. Russia has made the modest demand of one-third of the empire on the side to entirely smooth their ruffled dignity and if Japan, China's hereditary enemy, had not shown her teeth in the emphatic manner she did Manchuria would be Russian territory. Japan is far seeing enough to know that if Russia gains possession of Manchuria, her future will be misty, therefore the little island will fight to the bitter end. Let the allies once leave China and self preservation will cement that country and Japan, and the Russian Bear is liable to discover that the Ural Mountains are a congenial back yard fence.

He Kept His Leg Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford Conn., scratched his leg with rusty wire inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two year he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 1-2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For Eruptions, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival in earth. Try them Odendahl Bro's will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

Maxion Kooke manager for T. M. Thompson a large importer of fine millinery at 2658 Milwaukee Avenue Chicago says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to work during the day. One of my tailors was taking Chamberlains Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very much pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by Odendahl Bros.

A Testimonial from Old England

I consider Chamberlains Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlains Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by Odendahl Bros.
