F. W. Mills as a "peanut king" has had an interesting career. He began life as a peanut vender on a train. When only 12 years old he had contracts with several railroads running out of Chicago for the exclusive right to sell peanuts on the trains. This lad of 12 had grown men in his employ. Mills, the peanut vender, is now the employer of more than 600 men. He is manager of a company that makes slot machines, which supply salted pea-

Fields of Wheat in Which the Shocks Were So Thick It Was Almost Impossible to Drive Between

To the Editor: A gentleman from Duluth made a trip through a portion of Western Canada last summer and writing of what he saw, says:

"Wheat, for instance, will average twenty-five or thirty bushels to the acre. I saw shocks so thick in the field that it would be almost impossible to drive between them. Winters, it is said are longer than near Duluth, but the Japan current, warm chinook winds and dry atmosphere make the winters comparatively mild."

Thousands of such testimonials are to be had from settlers who have taken advantage of the low-priced lands of Western Canada. During the present year new districts will be opened up in the Saskatchewan valley and advantage should be taken of this at once. Information can be had from any agent of the government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in your columns. Yours truly, asked by tourists on the railroad snow and winds blind and overwhelm. trains which labor through the canyons and over the passes of the Great Divide is the cause of the bare streaks on the mountainsides, where spaces of varying width have been cleared of timber, bowlders, everything which protruded above the surrounding surface, making a path as distinct and cleanly cut on the sides as if some Titan of the hills had drawn a mammoth rake from peak to base. The explanation that it was caused by a snowslide answers the question, and seems, no doubt, commonplace enough to the tourist. Those who leave the rails and flare over the mountain roads and trails during the summer months grow to have a certain respect for the mighty forces that can strip the side of a mountain and pile up timber and stone in the valley below sufficient to warm a city's houses and to pave a city's streets; but the man who really appreciates the strength and destructiveness of a snowslide is he who from choice or circumstances remains in the mountains through the cycle of the seasons-the man who sees Nature's wheels go round. Smallest Pony on Earth.

Snowslides In Rockies.

A pony, from Iceland, is exhibited at Paris that stands only thirty inches high and it is regarded as a wonder. But he is a freak of nature. In Corea the ponies are all freaks apparently. Clive Bigham in a book of travel in China and Korea, says that no description can ever summarize all the remarkable characteristics of the Korean horse, or rather pony. He is, to begin with, only the size of a large Newfoundland dog. He is a past master at buck-jumping. He never fails to kick or bite any human being or other animal that he can reach. This is so much the case that at night he has to be slung up by the girths under his body, his hoofs just off the ground, while he spends his time squealing and trying to savage his stable companions, when not drinking the hot, mashed-up bean gruel that forms his only subsistence. In the daytime, however, he is a good beast of burden; but no amount of coaxing ever appears to change his disposition, and he is always equally delighted to punish the leg that mounts or the hand that feeds him.

Variety may be the spice of life, but her rains are cloud-bursts; her heat most men seem to prefer cloves.

Couldn't Wear Shors.

Sumpter, Ill., June 10th .- Mrs. J. B. Flanigan, of this place, had suffered with dropsy for fifteen years. She was so very bad that for the last three years she has not been able to wear her shoes. She had doctored all the time, but was gradually getting worse.

Last winter Mr. Flanigan, who was very much discouraged, called for some medicine at Mr. J. J. Dale's drug store in Carmi. Mr. Dale persuaded him to have his wife try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and he bought six boxes. His wife used five out of the six, before she was entirely cured. She is now as sound and as well as ever she was, completely restored to health, and free from any symptom whatever of dropsy.

To say that Mrs. Flanigan is pleased at her wonderful deliverance does not half express her feelings, and she and Mr. Flanigan are loud in their praises cheerfully recommend the use of Pe- The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and of Mr. Dale for recommending this wonderful remedy to them.

Clem G. Moore, Editor of the Advocate-Democrat of Crawfordsville, Ga.,

writes the Peruna Medicine Company as follows:

Gentlemen-"After four years of Intense suffering, caused by systemic catarrh, which I contracted while editing, and traveling for my paper, I have been greatly relieved by the use of Peruna. I gave up work during these years of torture, tried various remedies and many doctors, but all the permanent relief came from the use of Peruna. My trouble was called indigestion, but it was catarrh all through my system, and a few bottles of Peruna made me feel like another person, noting the improvement after I had used the first bottle-Peruna is undoubtedly the best catarrh remedy ever compounded.-Clem G.

Captain Percy W. Moss, Paragould, | runa as a remedy for catarrhal trouble Ark., says: "I think Peruna is undoubtedly the finest and surest catarrh cure ever prepared, and it has taken but two bottles to convince me of this fact."
