COUNTY TICKET.

For County Treasurer,
FRANK OTLEWSKI.
For County Clerk,
G. H. GIBSON.
For County Judge,
A. J. B. FAIRBAIRN.
For Sheriff,
A. O. HENDRICKSON.
For Superintendent,
E. C. KIRK.
For Surveyor,
WALTER MOON.
For Coroner,
A. S. MAIN.

The republicans of Sherman county have a good county ticket to vote this fall. All the nominees are of long residence here and have filled many positions of trust. The candidate for county judge A. J. B. Fairbairn was at one time county treasurer of Sherman county having been appointed to fill vacancy. He made one of the most efficient and trusted officers the county has ever had.

The nominee for treasurer Frank Otlewski is a resident of Sherman county since 1879 and settled down with scarcely any means. He has by hard work and strict economy built up a comfortable home, has a large stock farm and considerable property around him. If elected Frank will make an accommodating and trusted officer.

The junior editor of this paper, G. H. Gibson, and nominee for county clerk, being somewhat delicate about blowing his own horn, left it incumbent upon the writer, the senior editor, to tell of his sterling qualities as to integrity, ability, honesty, punctuality, trustworthiness, deportment, etc., etc. In a brief sentence we will state that he possesses all of these qualifications and merits the support of every republican in Sherman county and then some. In fact he ought to be elected—and will be.

E. C. Kirk, of Elm township is a man especially fitted for the position to which he has been called upon by his party to fill, that of county superintendent. He possesses a splendid education and has the credentials to show it.

Judge Moon for surveyor and Dr. A. S. Main for coroner are two of Sherman county's best citizens. Owing to their large acquaintance and popularity they need no introduction. Both gentlemen are men of high moral standing and are well qualified for the positions named.

Wonder who it was that made it possible to pay off so much of the bonded debt of Sherman county in the past few years? We think that the publishers of the newspapers have donated liberally to the county general fund by doing work for many years past at half price and in many instances for less than half price. Mr. Badura has been in office for four years and in no instance has it ever been recorded where he has taken less than legal fees for services rendered.

County treasurer Badura has just posted large threatening notices to the tax payers of the county to pay their personal taxes or they will be distressed, and in this he even includes the taxes of 1900 which are not yet delinquent. Frank seems to have an eye single to those distress fees and to have forgotten that he was elected on the plea of being a reformer in the interest of the farmers and tax-payers. It is all right to distress those who can, but do not make an effort to pay their taxes, but the idea of including the 1900 tax is preposterous.

County treasurer, Frank Badura has paid strict attention to business since his term of office and we predict that could he be retained in office eight years longer that the county bond holders would get every cent due them and he would collect all his fees if all the land and the personal property of the tax-payers had to be sold under the hammer to raise the money. The more distress warrants issued the more fees you know.

The Norfolk asylum was almost totally destroyed by fire last Friday. The fire originated from a defective gas pipe running through the tunnel under neath the building. Two of the inmates were burned to death. The others and nearly all the contents of the building were saved. With the exception of the west wing the building is virtually destroyed. The walls of this part of the ruins can be used in rebuilding but the rest of the masonry will have to be cleared away. It seems that at present, however, there are no funds available with which to rebuild and it looks as though the matter will have to be deferred until the legislature meets and makes an appropriation for that purpose. It would seem to us that this building should have been insured as the amount of insurance would doubtless have been sufficient to meet immediate demands in caring for the many patients and to commence, if not to complete the building of a new structure.

LETTER FROM THE NAVY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24, '01.
DEAR FATHER: I will again endeavor to pen you a few lines. I am well and having a nice time and hope the folks at home are all enjoying yourselves. Well the training ship Mohecan is in the bay. She will most likely take out apprentices this time as the landsmen all jump they will hereafter remain on white ships. Delightful news came to two hundred of us boys today so do not be surprised if you get a letter stating that I am off on my first cruise for the other side of the world, as the word from Washington, is that the Mohecan will take us out the 20th of next month. I hope it is only so. The vessel can carry two hundred and seventy-five apprentices. The Philadelphia has just come out of dry dock at Mare Island and is in the bay. Charles Cramer is in the hospital. He is troubled with some throat disease and his neck is swollen so that he can hardly talk. The rainy season has begun here and it rains most of the time. The band is playing on the portico, they will play every night this week as they did not play any last week. The flags are all placed at half mast for thirty days on all public buildings. On Thursday when our president was laid to rest, a salute of 20 guns was fired from a four inch gun. The strikers are raising Cain again. They attacked two teamsters and killed both their horses and burnt their wagons, each with a load of dry goods, broke one fellow's arm and bruised his face and broke the other fellows jaw bone. The police found a lot of lead slings, revolvers and other weapons which they had. A new draft of ten came from the north to-day. We will put them through the first degree to-night. A committee of twelve has been appointed in Oakland and San Francisco, to collect money for a monument to be erected in memory of our late president. To day while out in top sail, we noticed the Bay City ferry stopping in the middle of her run and dropped a life boat to take on a man who had attempted suicide. The largest ocean steamer on the Pacific, the Hancock, is anchored near the ferry line. A party in Frisco, are making arrangements for putting down an ocean cable from here to the Philippine Islands by way of Hawaii and China. The company is capitalized for $100,000. Mr. Mackey the president of the company, say it will be finished inside of two years. Our new swimming tank is done and the carpenters are at work putting on the roof. It is 30x60 and is made of cement. A large signal house and plant will be built on the other side of the Island, which will be run by electricity. We have two large dynamos on the Island now. A large hot house and more buildings for officers will be built also. Well as it is dark and I am tired I will close with regards to all. Yours Respt.

LETTER FROM COLORADO.

LIVERMORE, Sept. 22, 1901.
DEAR NORTHWESTERN: You will please change the address of my paper to the above named place. I came here from Ft. Collins, yesterday, it is 30 miles north west of Collins. The place I am at is a stock ranch, belonging to a wealthy Englishman and runs 500 head of stock. He has a beautiful frame house with surroundings to match it. A beautiful mountain stream goes tumbling towards the valley, just back of the house. After I have been here long enough to get acquainted and see the points of interest, I will write you a more extended letter. This leaves us all well and with best wishes I am; Yours as ever.

London Prisons Vintshlag.

One by one the old London prisons are vanishing. The last to disappear was Millsbank, and now Coldbath Fields, with its huge and gloomy gateway of which but a vestige remains, is almost equally a thing of the past. The postoffice octopus, whose tentacles are far-reaching in the district of Mount Pleasant, has taken possession of the "House of Correction," which was opened in 1794, and closed its doors to the guilty public in accordance with the provisions of the Prisons Act of 1877.

London Wants a Carnegie.

In London, the capital of the empire and the richest city in the world, there is no university at all, except on paper, and most of our great manufacturing towns are content with a mechanics' institute. Prof. Starling says rather bitterly of our legislators that they have no "other idea of a university than as an introduction to polite society." An association of millionaires who have won that introduction by different means might so spread the zeal of Mr. Carnegie as to shame parliament into imitation.—Illustrated London News.

stood Death Off.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure electric bitters saved his life. This remedy expels malaria, kills diseased germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates the liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous disease, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c cents at Odendahl Bros.' drug store.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. He Owe His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Newmantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral.—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or ship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by Odendahl Bros.
