The village board has called in $2,000 more of our water work bonds. This makes a redemption of more than one half the original indebtedness of the village as there were $7,000 taken up at other times and during the past 5 years. The original bonded indebtedness consisted of $2,000 railroad bonds and $4,000 water bonds. The railroad bonds were first paid off and now $7,000 of the water bonds have been redeemed including the two thousand now called. We still have $7,000 more water bonds outstanding and with less than half the usual amount of interest to raise, with five more years of economical administration at even a lower rate of levy we will be out of debt. But by continuing the present modus operandi of our city fathers and making the levy the same as for some years past, which surely would be endorsed by our citizens, three years will most likely clean up our indebtedness.

Everybody got a present and the babies were all delighted with their supply of candy. At the end of the exercises Mrs. Samuel Hancock was called to the front and a large box, weighing nearly 200 lbs. filled with presents of all kinds was presented to her. She was very much effected with the magnificent gift and a thankful tear welled up in her sympathetic eye. The Ladies of the G. A. R. undoubtedly outdone all trees in the city this year.

ABOUT THE GREAT AUK.

Last of a Noble Race of Birds Has Disappeared.

A few days ago an egg of the great auk was offered for sale in London and after a spirited competition was knocked down for $1,222. The price seems enormous, but when it is remembered that there are only, as far as known, sixty-five of these eggs in existence the wonder ceases, as there are many more collectors, whose collections would not be complete without this coveted possession. The eggs, of which a single one alone was laid in a season, were deposited on a ledge of rock close to the sea, as the inability of the bird to travel on land would preclude it from seeking a nesting place far from the shore and the baby auk would be enabled as soon as possible to slip into the sea. The great auk is believed to be extinct. The latest account of a living specimen was given by the late Dr. Fleming, who in 1821 was cruising in the Hebrides and observed one, which had been caught by some fishermen in the sea near St. Kilda. It was brought on board the yacht by the sailors and tied by the leg—a big bird of about three feet in length with a large beak and wings of very small size, with which it made no attempt to fly. Its waddling gait was most ungainly and difficult on the smooth deck, but when, still tied by the leg with a long rope, it was allowed to seek its food overboard it was astonishing to see the rapidity with which it swam under water. The wings, used as propellers, with rapid beats, aided by the feet, drove it through the sea with incredible swiftness, and the boats had hard work to keep up with it. The amusement at length met with disaster, as one day when exercising in the usual manner the rope broke or became detached and this last scion of a noble race disappeared to be seen no more.—Chicago News.

Beat Out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48 I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension, for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is so quagailed as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Odendahl Bros.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen.—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in that ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,
