

MRS. J. E. O'DONNELL

Was Sick Eight Years with Female Trouble and Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never in my life given a testimonial before, but you have done so much for me that I feel called upon to give you this unsolicited acknowledgement of MRS. JENNIE F. O'DONNELL, President of Oakland Woman's Idding Club, the wonderful curative value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For eight years I had female trouble, falling of the womb and other complications. During that time I was more or less of an invalid and not much good for anything, until one day I found a book in my hall telling of the cures you could perform. I became interested; I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was helped; I continued its use and in seven months was cured, and since that time I have had perfect health. Thanks, dear Mrs. Pinkham again, for the health I now enjoy."

—MRS. JENNIE O'DONNELL, 278 East 31st St., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Women suffering from any form of female ills can be cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. That's sure.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

CHINA'S AWAKENING

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS BEING ESTABLISHED IN THE EMPIRE.

Shanghai Mercury Points Out the Great Need for a Better Understanding of the Conditions of Modern Trade—Improvement Started.

The Universal Gazette having reprinted at length the prospectus and rules of the "Pekin Industrial school," proceeds to exhort other provinces to follow so worthy an example. The founders of the school are indeed lovers of their country, says the Shanghai Mercury. One great cause of China's decadence is the distinction hitherto made between study and trades, the consequence of which is that those whose study despise those who practice the arts, and both sides suffer from this divorce of feeling and interest. The artisan is just as conservative as the scholar, and owing to his obstinate refusal to adopt new methods, the foreign article has come to like an overflowing tide. In fact, if we had been making as good articles as the foreigners they would probably never have invaded China with their commerce.

Now the basis of commerce is in the industrial arts. Foreigners often say we have the raw product, but not the finished article, and foreigners thoroughly understand the laws and principles of successful commerce. Our raw articles we sell cheap to foreigners. They make them up into finished goods and sell them to us dear and even so we Chinese are glad to buy these goods and the profits all go to the foreigner.

This state of affairs strikes Chinese patriots as deplorable. Hence translations of books on western arts and manufactures are made, but these are in w'en-li, and hence only scholars can read them. They are inaccessible to the only persons who could actually carry out their methods in practice. Hence the school of Mr. Huang in Peking is more excellent than books. For the poor may learn under instructors. At the present time, when much poverty in the north drives the poor to crime, this school will come to the aid of government by diminishing the supply of criminals. The floods in the south have done much to reduce the south to the same distressed condition as the north, and hence such industrial schools will not come amiss in the south. At present we have some factories, started by merchants and officials, but only a very few are employed as compared with the masses of the nation. Now, in Japan, every family weaves, spins, etc., and gets the profit.

Formerly we had some things to export which were better than the foreign articles, such as silk and tea. But now even these are deteriorated and the foreign article is ousting our goods in the markets of the world. Industrial schools would remedy this failure. A Japanese book which discusses the state of the arts in China says that China needs a few patriotic leaders to guide her to prosperity. These are true words, and let us hope that others will follow in the footsteps of Mr. Huang.

"Carmen" Calve's Merriest Christmas.

The laughing lips of a handsomely dressed, dark-eyed woman of striking beauty were framing joyous French expressions in a New York store the day before Christmas as a frightened looking girl of 14 was purchasing Christmas toys. The woman was Mme. Emma Calve, of grand opera fame, and the bright little girl her protegee, Edna Darch, of Los Angeles, Cal. The girl was buying presents for her brothers and sisters. The first purchase of the wise little American girl nearly paralyzed the great artist. It was a suit of underwear for her sister Florence. Then she bought a pair of white mittens for little Bessie, a neighbor's child, in Los Angeles. "Buy toys, Edna; toys!" exclaimed Mme. Calve. Thus urged, Edna bought dolls, ribbons, a tiny rattle for a cousin's baby, and many little trinkets.—Kansas City Journal.

Senator Depew's Bride's Wit.

This story is told of Miss Palmer, who is now the bride of Senator Depew. While on a visit to a school girl friend at a Philadelphia boarding house Miss Palmer was initiated into the mysteries of combination bread and cake pudding covered with thick sauce. It is an economical preparation served weekly in many schools and boarding houses where there is likely to be a surplus of stale bread and cake. After luncheon, while walking through the city hall courtyard Miss Palmer saw a fine chocolate-colored prison van. Its showy appearance deceived her, and she asked her host: "Whose wagon is that?" "That, my dear," said the Philadelphia girl, "is our city carryall—it is the black Maria." "Indeed," exclaimed Miss Palmer, looking at it with interest, "it looks more like another slice of your Brown Betty."

Drink Wine When Eating Oysters.

This is the advice which many Austrian physicians are now giving, and for the following reason: Dr. Okuniewski and his assistants were recently experimenting at the naval hospital in Pola and suddenly discovered that wine poured on oysters speedily destroyed any germs of typhus with which it came in contact. Twenty days is the usual duration of life in such germs, and during all that time they are contagious. According to Dr. Okuniewski, however, no oysters can harm a person who drinks a little wine while eating them, since the wine very quickly destroys any typhus germs.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Supreme Judge Turned Down.

The days of whispered conferences in the White House are past, says a correspondent. The president sees most of his visitors in the big reception room. He goes from one to another and says what he has to say in a voice that reaches to every part of the room. A day or two ago, says the Baltimore News, a justice of the supreme court came in with his son. Then he leaned over and whispered a few words to the president's ear. "I am sorry," said the president—and fifty people heard him rasp it out—"I am sorry, but it cannot be done. All promotions must be on merit." A very much abused justice of the supreme court, with his son in tow, left the White House hurriedly.

When Robson Was a Page.

Stuart Robson, the actor, was once a page in the United States senate, his appointment having been due to the efforts of such distinguished Southerners as John C. Calhoun, Jefferson Davis, Henry Clay, Robert Toombs and Alexander Stephens. He and his playmate, Arthur Pae Gorman, went from Baltimore to Washington, and the man who is now senator from Maryland succeeded in being appointed page at once, but Robson was kept waiting for a time.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.
