

I Feel So Tired.

How often do we hear this and similar expressions from tired, overworked women and weary men, who do not know where to find relief. For that intense weariness, so common and so discouraging, we earnestly recommend Vogeler's Curative Compound. It is not a stimulant but a true blood purifier and strength restoring tonic, safe and sure, which will gradually build up all the weak organs in such a way as to be a lasting benefit. A fair trial of a free sample bottle which St. Jacobs Oil, Ltd., of Baltimore, Md., will send you for the asking, will convince anyone of its wonderful medicinal value. It will drive all impurities from the blood, give nerve, mental and bodily strength and vigour and make the sufferer wholly a new being. It creates an appetite, makes one sleep and makes the weak strong. Do not forget that Vogeler's Curative Compound is made from the formula of a London physician, who has given years of study to same. Sample bottle free from St. Jacobs Oil, Ltd., Baltimore.

Mrs. SOAN, "The Royal Standard," Framley Road, Frintley, writes: "I was a great sufferer from sciatica for many years. I tried all sorts of liniments and embrocations which had no good effect; I used St. Jacobs Oil, and the pain left me instantly."

General Roustabout.
"You have been with that firm a long time," said the old school friend.
"Yes," answered the man with the patient expression of countenance.
"What's your position?"
"I'm an employe."
"But what is your official title?"
"I haven't any official title. It's like this: When the proprietor wants something done, he tells the cashier, and the cashier tells the bookkeeper, and the bookkeeper tells the assistant bookkeeper, and the assistant bookkeeper tells the chief clerk, and the chief clerk tells me."
"And what then?"
"Well, I haven't anybody to tell, so I have to go and do it."—Washington Star.

A Precious Little Woman.
Mrs. Anthony Woeckener, formerly Miss Espersona Cenda, has just had her life insured for $500,000, says the Chicago American. This is the largest risk ever written on any woman in the United States. Mrs. Woeckener is known to fame as Chiquita and is the smallest woman in the world. She is thirty-two years old, and only eighteen inches tall. The big policy on her life was issued through a Boston manager. The midget was carefully examined by three distinguished physicians who found the little woman to be absolutely normal except as to size, and in perfect condition.

He is "The $30,000 Pink" Man.
Thomas W. Lawson of Boston who is having a yacht built to compete for the defense of the America's cup, is, like Sir Thomas Lipton, a self-made man. He made his fortune in speculation, but has an eye for art and owns a fine collection of pictures. He is, however, best known for the "Lawson pink" which bloom cost him $30,000 to produce.

Russia's Unique Welcome to Loubet.
When M. Loubet goes to Russia all the vessels will be lighted by a most elaborate arrangement of incandescent lamps during the Russian fetes in the Cronstadt Roads. Four rows of tricolor lamps will surround the ships, and they will be connected with electric garlands of all colors. The marine engineers are studying how best to carry out the idea.

No one was ever made a fool of without his help.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. THOS. ROBBINS, Maple Street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

Truth is the simplest of all virtues; it requires neither study nor art.

To the housewife who has not yet become acquainted with the new things of everyday use in the market and who is reasonably satisfied with the old, we would suggest that a trial of Defiance Cold Water Starch be made at once. Not alone because it is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be superior to any other brand, but because each 10c package contains 16 ozs., while all the other kinds contain but 12 ozs. It is safe to say that the lady who once uses Defiance Starch will use no other. Quality and quantity must win.

Don't stop the way of a bull or of a current of air.

Superior quality and extra quantity must win. This is why Defiance Starch is taking the place of all others.

Every man who is long on vanity is short on common sense.

IRONING A SHIRT WAIST.

Not infrequently a young woman finds it necessary to launder a shirt waist at home for some emergency when the laundryman or the home servant cannot do it. Hence these directions for ironing the waist: To iron summer shirt waists so that they will look like new it is needful to have them starched evenly with Defiance starch, then made perfectly smooth and rolled tight in a damp cloth, to be laid away two or three hours. When ironing have a bowl of water and a clean piece of muslin beside the ironing board. Have your iron hot, but not sufficiently so to scorch, and absolutely clean. Begin by ironing the back, then the front, sides and the sleeves, followed by the neckband and the cuffs. When wrinkles appear apply the damp cloth and remove them. Always iron from the top of the waist to the bottom. If there are plaits in the front iron them downward, after first raising each one with a blunt knife, and with the edge of the iron follow every line of stitching to give it distinctness. After the shirt waist is ironed it should be well aired by the fire or in the sun before it is folded and put away, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

A fool is as happy in his folly as a wise man in his wisdom.

THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED IT will use no other. Defiance Cold Water Starch has no equal in quantity or quality—12-15 oz. for 10 cents. Other brands contain only 12 oz.

The lucky man has a daughter for his first born.

POLICE OF GERMANY

Old-Fashioned "Night Watchmen" Still Patrol Beats, Carrying a Long Lance and a Whistle.

Villages in all parts of Germany still maintain "night watchmen," who act as guardians of the community, and carry when on duty a long lance, something of the nature of a halberd, in their hand, as they perambulate their beats during the long dark hours of the night. They also have a whistle with them, with which they proclaim to the non-sleeping inhabitants and to prowling men and beasts what o'clock it is. It is only a very few years ago that the large cities dropped their "night watchmen," but many of the smaller towns in the provinces still employ their services. At a town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, one of these old worthies had ceased to blow his whistle when the clock sounded the hour. The burgo-master could not comprehend the negligence, and the delinquent was summoned to his presence to account for it. At first he was at a loss what excuse to make, but on being pressed he declared that a few days before his last remaining tooth had dropped out, and that consequently he could produce no sound from his beloved whistle.

The burgo-master could think of no remedy, nor could he punish the

LOVE'S IDEAL SHATTERED

Young Girl's Affection Vanishes Before Chance Revelation of His Unworthiness.

She stood at the top of the broad stairway, looking down over the heads of the dancers, until her eyes found him, and then sparkled with pride and joy.

"My ideal!" she murmured. "My ideal!"

The band was playing the new waltz, the lights were blazing throughout the house, color and brightness were everywhere, and the heart of one woman was light with joy.

In a little group in the corner of the ballroom stood a man. He was tall and handsome. His features were serious and severe. The rest of the little group laughed and joked. He seemed cut off from them in his deep abstraction, and the woman coming down the stairs, with her cloak on her arm, saw him and felt happy, for she held in her consciousness the memory of his caress and his words of tender love a few moments before.

Her father stood waiting to conduct her to the carriage. The serious man looked in her direction, and smiled a rather calm goodby, which the joy in her heart interpreted into meaning more.

All night long she tossed in her bed. All night long she dwelt on the bliss

COST OF MODERN WAR

Military Borrowings of Great Britain Are Much Larger Now Than They Were in 1812.

So far as government borrowings are an indication, says the New York Evening Post, the annual cost of the Boer war to Great Britain has been nearly double that of the wars against Napoleon, 100 years ago. In the period 1792-1802, when England was fighting incessantly in almost every corner of the globe, and was in addition subsidizing half a dozen continental states, the principal of the British debt increased £297,989,587—an average annual increase of £29,789,000. Between 1802 and 1815, a period which covered the Spanish campaign, the American war and Waterloo, the debt increased £323,386,041—an annual average of £24,875,000.

Loans raised by the exchequer during the two years following the Boer war outbreak in October, 1899, foot up £114,000,000. They include the £30,000,000 war loan of 1900, and two issues of £13,000,000 exchequer bonds in the same year; £60,000,000 consols in 1901, and £11,000,000 exchequer bonds. The above list does not include the temporary treasury bills issued in 1899 and 1900, or the £14,413,000 of the same bills issued after the consols loan of 1901, and still outstanding.

Uncharitable thoughts will deface the most charitable actions.

HIS TROUBLES ONLY JUST BEGUN

Enumeration of Trials in Store for Newly-Elected Mayor.
The newly elected labor mayor of Hartford, Ignatius Sullivan, sat at the banquet table of the Business Men's Association of that city a few nights ago, says the New York Times. Simon Ford was one of the speakers. He glanced pitifully at the new official, and said:

"What a nerve Mayor Sullivan displays! Now that he is elected, he imagines all his labors are over. Why, they have hardly begun. He has work and worry before him for the next two years that will wear him to skin and bones. He doesn't know what he is up against. I have met but one man who showed more real grit. Right after the explosion at my hotel, when the place was a wreck, I went into the restaurant. It was strewn with broken glass and debris. People were running about with bloody faces and torn clothes. In the corner sat a solitary guest eating his luncheon. I think he was a Hartford man. Every one else was panic-stricken. I congratulated him upon his coolness. He

Mrs. D. Arnold, President German Woman's Club, Grand Pacific Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., Relieved of a Tumor by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered four years ago with a tumor in my womb, and the doctors declared I must go to the hospital and undergo an operation, which I dreaded very much and hesitated to submit.

"My husband consulted an old friend who had studied medicine, although he was not a practicing physician, and he said he believed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure me. That same day I took my first dose, and I kept it up faithfully until twelve bottles had been used, and not only did the tumor disappear, but my general health was very much improved and I had not felt so well since I was a young woman.

"As I have suffered no relapse since, and as I took no other medicine, I am sure that your Compound restored my health and I believe saved my life."—MRS. D. ARNOLD.
