ADDRESS OF WELCOME

As the whistle of the thresher is heard upon the farms, we hear the merry laughter, on our streets of the school marms; As they too and from are trudging to the plac where duty call. Never faltering never budging, fitting for their work this fall. Learning how to teach the pupils, use the pointer, wield the rod: are sometimes hard.

How to get an education, how to use it to advance.

How to make their work effective and to make the urchin dance.

Thus it is with satisfaction that they come here once a year.

Drive the young men to distraction when upon our streets appear.

Yet with all their pretty notions and their ways that are so cute.

Each and all are ever welcome to our annual institute.

A report from Madison, N. .!. says that on the eleventh inst. there was a cloud burst which caused devastation in Hillside cemetery. About seventy-five caskets were many of them were swept from the Marvin S. Parker, of Arcadia Neb.

The cemetery is situated partly on Many coffins were found strewn about in all directions. Some of the bodies were found a mile from the cemetery and it is said that others were washed into the Passaia river. About forty bodies have been recovered.
