

SUFFERED SEVEN YEARS

With Catarrhal Derangements of the Pelvic Organs.

Miss Kate Brown.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain—Peruna Cured.

to you for Peruna."—Miss Kate Brown. A neglected cold is frequently the cause of death.

It is more often, however, the cause of some chronic disease.

There is not an organ in the body but what is liable to become seriously deranged by a neglected cold. Diseases of the kidneys, bladder and digestive organs are all frequently the result of a neglected cold.

Hundreds of dollars are spent on doctors and medicines trying to cure these diseases, but until the true cause of them is discovered, there will be no use in using medicine.

Dyspepsia, medicine, diarrhoea medicine and constipation medicine is of no good whatever when catarrh is the cause. The catarrh must be treated. The cause being removed, the derangements will disappear.

Peruna cures catarrh of the digestive organs, the urinary organs or any of the internal organs.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Miss Kate Brown, Recording Secretary of the L. C. B. Association of Kansas, in a letter from 605 N. Seventh St., Kansas City, Kansas, says: "For seven years I have not known what it was to spend a well day. I caught a severe cold which I neglected. It was at the time of menstruation and inflammation set in and prostrated me. Catarrh of the kidneys and bladder followed, my digestive organs gave way, in fact the cold disarranged my whole system. "I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and medicine, but derived but little benefit until I began treatment with Peruna. I kept taking it for nearly nine months before I was completely cured, but I kept growing better gradually so that I felt encouraged to continue taking Peruna until my health was restored. I send my thanks and blessings

RICH MEN'S HOBBIES

MILLIONAIRES WHO SPEND FOR TUNES YEARLY.

Andrew Carnegie's Fad for Giving Away Libraries is Well Known—Pierpont Morgan Has Large Annual Bill for Paintings.

Given a million a year to spend at pleasure, find something on which to spend it. That is the proposition which is met by multi-millionaires of this country, England and Germany. It is a peculiar fact that the men who have this opportunity choose one thing as the object of their expenditures.

The millionaires choose their hobbies and they are as various as the wealthy men are numerous. Apart from the expenditures required in business these millionaires spend more on their hobbies than they do on themselves personally.

Pierpont Morgan is credited with an annual personal expenditure of about $150,000, and his average annual bill for paintings is about $250,000, not far from double what he spends on himself. His entire collections of famous paintings amounts to 200 pictures, and is valued at $10,000,000.

Staveley Bruce, the English shipping and iron king, has made a specialty of statuary, as well as paintings. The Italian laws forbidding the exportation of art treasures has had a peculiar effect on the collection of Mr. Bruce. He is obliged to keep $500,000 worth of statuary in Italian cities. He adds a love for pictures to that for statuary and seldom spends less than $200,000 a year for paintings.

Mr. Carnegie's fad, as is well known, is the public library. He is credited with handing out $15,000,000 annually in putting his preaching into practice. Last year his gifts in this direction amounted to $5,000,000 in the United States. He gave in addition $5,000,000 to English workmen and $10,000,000 to Scotland. As he is now giving away a good deal more than his income, which is $10,000,000 a year, he may be able to realize his ambition to escape the "disgrace of dying rich." It has been computed that at his present rate of giving it will require twenty years before he can become "poor."

An English millionaire, another of the three multi-millionaires who give away most of their income, is Mr. Spiller, the cloth and cotton magnate. His favorite amusement is a peculiar one, and it has made him known as a sort of fairy godfather to the poor children of northern English towns. He organizes and pays for huge treats for slum children. The outings and pleasure excursions he gives these children cost him in the neighborhood of $500,000 a year. In addition to this he supports eight children's hospitals and orphanages. His hobby on the betterment of poor children gives him no time for any other amusement. He lives in a fashion similar to that of a well-to-do professional man, and maintains but one establishment for himself.

When the more personal amusements of millionaires are considered, it will be found that yachts and racehorses take the most of many a wealthy man's money. It has been computed that eighteen men of great wealth—American, English and of other nationalities—spend the larger part of their income on yachts. Sir Thomas Lipton is among the best known. He spent $600,000 on the cup races alone. Col. McCalmont is another Englishman, a rival of Sir Thomas, who spend a fortune on the water. Aside from the royal yachtsmen of Europe, it has been estimated that the eighteen millionaires interested in this sport spend about $20,000,000 a year on their craft, and that the value of the yachts foots up to $55,000,000.

Fifteen millionaires spend their moneys on racehorses. In this the American again leads, and there are two American turf millionaires to one English. Lately the Americans have had about their own way on the English turf, as a result of their expenditures on racehorses. There is some profit for the successful in turf expenditures and big losses for the unsuccessful.

American Flag Enough.
In response to a suggestion that a flag should be adopted for the District of Columbia corresponding to the various state flags District Commissioner MacFarland said the other day: "The American flag is the flag of the District of Columbia. It has never had any other. The states have state flags, some of which are very much older than the United States flag. But the national flag seems to me all sufficient for the national capital, which is its special home. People in the district have never been even tempted to divide allegiance between two flags and no such temptation should ever be offered."

Miss Cleveland Runs a Farm.
Miss Rose Cleveland, the sister of ex-President Cleveland, is a successful farmer. She now owns about one-half of a 700-acre island near Islesboro, Me., having within a few days acquired an additional tract of land. Miss Cleveland has about 800 chickens, a large herd of cows and a big vegetable garden on her island, where she raises prize pumpkins, fat chickens and makes prime dairy butter. She handles her affairs herself, it is said, but employs a large force of men. There is but one other cottage on the island.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Acts Gently;
Acts Pleasantly;
Acts Beneficially;
Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

To the housewife who has not yet become acquainted with the new things of everyday use in the market and who is reasonably satisfied with the old, we would suggest that a trial of Defiance Cold Water Starch be made at once. Not alone because it is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be superior to any other brand, but because each 10c package contains 16 ozs., while all the other kinds contain but 12 ozs. It is safe to say that the lady who once uses Defiance Starch will use no other. Quality and quantity must win.
