THE TRUE SITUATION.

(Lincoln Correspondence.)

The last week of the campaign finds the republicans of the state well organized, and confident of victory. The one thing necessary now is recognized to be that all republicans turn out on election day and do their duty.

In the meantime, it is learned that the fusion party is lacking in organization, as it is also lacking in legitimate issues. Their campaign has been of the haphazard sort, urged on only by thirst for office on part of individuals, and enlivened by the agents of the brewery trust.

It is now certain that there is method in the attack of the brewery interests on Mickey. It is not so much that they are opposed to Mickey as it is that they are seizing the excuse to wage a fight which may give their friends control of the state departments, and possibly of the legislature.

The exposure of W. H. Thompson and his railroad passes has created somewhat of a sensation here, and has filled the populists with consternation. Some of them actually believed that their candidate was an anti-corporation man.

Last year there were in the state about 60,000 voters who did not go to the polls. It is believed that the turnout this year will be larger, although the season is backward, and many farmers are in their cornfields, or are engaged in threshing out their small grain.

The publishing of an affidavit by B. T. Snyder against J. S. Pedler, in the last issue of the Times, shows to what desperate straights the opposition is resorting in order to catch votes. The scheme is far fetched.

It smacks too much of an old personal wrangle of long ago. Everybody knows that Snyder never has a good word for Pedler. Perhaps because Pedler was too much for the old gentleman in a business way. Mr. Snyder tried his best at that time to get Mr. Pedler to make an affidavit as to a true copy of that note and to get Mr. Pedler in a snare, because Snyder had discovered the clerical error in the note and Mr. Pedler had not. Snyder bought the horses. They were delivered to him and he should have mentioned the fact that the note was made payable to Snyder instead of Slote Bros. and McCosch.

The imperialistic tendency of the republican administration at Washington is again shown in the order just issued by the war department reducing the strength of the army to 56,600, or the minimum prescribed by law. Another of the things that Bryan and the anti-imperialists large and small, and the timid people who shudder at the thought of a uniform, foresaw and viewed with alarm was the system of militarism growing up under the frowning hulk of imperialism begun and fostered by the McKinley administration.

The democrats now see their mistake in starting a bitter fight against Mr. Mickey, charging that he is a total abstainer and a methodist. Both of these qualifications are the best that a man can possibly have, to elevate him high in the saloon element of life. Only a part of the saloon element has seen fit to look with disfavor upon his candidacy, while the more conservative and better thinking element and the great mass of people at large credit him with honor and uprightness.

The Times has had scarcely a good word to say for E. H. Kittell since the campaign opened, but has seemingly sacrificed the representative ticket in its great effort for the office of county attorney, and by so doing has devoted a great deal of space to the abuse of J. S. Pedler. Its last two issues have been shamefully full of personal abuse.

How in the world can the populists of this state support W. H. Thompson for governor, when they must know that he has been a hireling for the great railroad corporations for many years? He has always been identified as a railroad attorney, and that is just why the democrats were bound to ride down the populist candidate and hold out for Thompson.

As to the state senate it will be a choice this fall between two Sherman county citizens. Judge Wall, the republican candidate, is well known in both Buffalo and Sherman counties, and will get many votes outside of his party on his merits alone. His opponent is not known at all in Buffalo county and has not so far made any impression in the campaign.

When Tom Majors, the soldier candidate, ran for governor on the republican ticket, the populist orators, including Patrick H. Barry, howled 'bloody shirt'. Now this same Barry it up for congress on the pop ticket and has his photo, with his soldier pedigree a yard long, tacked up in almost every conspicuous place. If Pat Barry wasn't such a gooseberry, he would take them down at once.

Those circulars issued by the democrats to all the liquor dealers throughout the state, charging Mr. Mickey with being an abstainer and a Methodist, came out a little too soon; and, instead of having the desired effect, is working injury to their cause. They did not intend that it should receive publicity, but it has.

To vote your party ticket straight, mark your ballot with a cross in the circle at the top and it will count for such ticket from top to bottom.
