

A VENERABLE PASTOR CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Pe-ru-na is a Catarrhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Declining Powers of Old Age.

The Oldest Man in America Attributes His Long Life and Good Health to Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Isaac Brock, of McLennan county, Texas, has attained the great age of 114 years. He is an ardent friend of Peru-na and speaks of it in the following terms. Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so."

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper remedy for ailments due directly to the effects of the climate."

"For 114 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds, catarrh and diarrhoea. I had always supposed these affections to be different diseases. For the last ten or fifteen years I have been reading Dr. Hartman's books and have learned from them one thing in particular: That these affections are the same and that they are properly called catarrh."

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my stand-by for many years and I attribute my good health and my extreme old age to this remedy."

"It exactly meets all my requirements. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine. I believe it to be especially valuable to old people, although I have no doubt it is just as good for the young."

—Isaac Brock.

A New Man at 79.
Major Frank O'Mahoney, West Side, Hannibal, Mo., writes:
"I am professionally a newspaper correspondent, now 79 years old. I have watched the growing power of the Peru-na plant from its incipency in the little log cabin, through its gradations of success up to its present establishment in Columbus, Ohio, and I conclude that merit brings its full reward."

"Up to a few years ago I felt no need to test its medicinal potency, but lately when my system needed it, your Peru-na relieved me of many catarrhal troubles. Some two years ago I weighed 210 pounds, but fell away down to 168 pounds, and besides loss of flesh I was subject to stomach troubles, indigestion, loss of appetite, insomnia, night sweats, and a forbidding of getting my entire system out of order. During some months I gave Peru-na a fair trial, and it rejuvenated my whole system. I feel thankful therefore, for although 79 years old I feel like a young man."

—Major Frank O'Mahoney.

In old age the mucous membrane become thickened and partly lose their function. This leads to partial loss of hearing, smell and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Peru-na corrects all this by its specific operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince any one. Once used and Peru-na becomes a life-long friend with old and young."

Mr. Samuel Saunders of Blytheedale, Mo., writes: "My disease was catarrh of the urethra and bladder. I got a bottle of Pe-ru-na and began taking it, and in a few days I was relieved and could sleep and rest all night. I think that Pe-ru-na is a valuable remedy. I had tried other very highly recommended medicines, but they did me no good. My physician told me that I could not expect to be cured of my trouble, as I was getting to be an old man (57 years). I feel very thankful for what Pe-ru-na has done for me."

In a later letter Mr. Saunders says: "I am still of the same mind with regard to your Pe-ru-na medicine."

"I RELY UPON PE-RU-NA FOR ALL CATARRHAL DISEASES."

Rev. J. N. Parker, Utica, N. Y.

Strong and Vigorous at the Age of Eighty-eight.

Rev. J. N. Parker, Utica, N. Y., writes:
"In June, 1901, I lost my sense of hearing entirely. My hearing had been somewhat impaired for several years, but not so much effected that I could hold converse with my friends; but in June, 1901, my sense of hearing left me so that I could hear no sound whatever. I was also troubled with severe rheumatic pains in my limbs. I commenced taking Peru-na and now my hearing is restored as good as it was prior to June, 1901. My rheumatic pains are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of Peru-na, and now when 88 years old can say it has invigorated my whole system. I cannot but think, dear Doctor, that you must feel very thankful to the all-loving Father that you have been permitted to live, and by your skill be such a blessing as you have been to suffering humanity."—Rev. J. N. Parker.

Mrs. F. E. Little, Tolona, Ill., writes:
"I can recommend Peru-na as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I have been troubled severely with it for over a year, and also a cough. Now my cough is all gone, and all the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the stomach and bowels have disappeared. I will recommend it to all as a rare remedy. I am so well I am contemplating a trip to Yellow Stone Park this coming season. How is that for one 71 years old?"

A TRAVELER AT SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Here repose the mortal remains of JOHN PAULDING.

Who died on the eighteenth day of February, 1818, in the 60th year of his age.

On the south side of the stone the whole tale of Paulding and his deed is recited in concise yet comprehensive language.

On the morning of the 23d of September, 1780, accompanied by two young farmers of the Co. of Westchester, (whose names will one day be recorded on their own deserved monument), he intercepted the British spy, Andre: He disdained to acquire wealth by the sacrifice of HIS COUNTRY.

Rejecting the temptation of Great Rewards, he conveyed the prisoners to the American Camp, and by this noble act of self-denial the treason of Arnold was detected, the designs of the enemy baffled, West Point and the American Army saved, and these United States. Now by the grace of God free and independent from most eminent peril.

On another side are these words:

The Corporation of the City of New York erected this tomb as a memorial sacred to PUBLIC GRATITUDE.

Scotch Stories.

The recent St. Andrew's Ginnets, according to the Westminster Gazette, have been noteworthy for the profusion of Scotch stories, which in several cases fairly set the tables in a roar. Some of them have an ancient ring, but there is one that is perhaps not generally known. A doctor was attending a dangerous case where a Scotch butler was engaged. On calling in the forenoon he said to Donald: "I hope your master's temperature is much lower today than it was last night." "I'm no' sae very sure about that," replied the butler, "for he deed' this morning."

Finished the Quotation.

Appropos of mottoes on houses, a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette relates that a man in Scotland wished to have cut over the door of a new house the text: "My house shall be called a house of prayer." He left the workmen to carry out his wishes during his absence, and on his return his horror was great to find the quotation completed, "But ye have made it a den of thieves." "We had a wee thing mair room, ye see, so we just put in the o' the verse," was the explanation given by the Bible loving Scot.

The home is no place for the storage of neighborhood gossip.

New Cure for Lame Back.
Rutledge, Minn., Feb. 16th.—Mr. E. C. Getchell of this place relates a happy experience which will be read with interest by all those who have a similar trouble.

It appears that last winter Mr. Getchell was seized with a lameness and soreness in his back which grew worse and worse till at last it became very bad and made it very difficult for him to get about at all.

After a time he heard of a new remedy for backache which some of his friends and neighbors said had cured them, and he determined to try it. The name of the remedy is Dodd's Kidney Pills and Mr. Getchell has proven that it is a sure cure. He says: "I used two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills according to directions, and my lame back was entirely cured and I am all O. K. again. Dodd's Kidney Pills are as good as represented."

This remedy is very popular here, and has worked some remarkable cures of Backache and Kidney Trouble.

A NEGLECTED TOMB.

MONUMENT TO REVOLUTIONARY HERO IN DECAY.

Erected by the Corporation of the City of New York on the Grave of John Paulding, It is Forgotten in the Stress of Modern Times.

The good people of the staid old Revolutionary war town of Peekskill, N. Y., are uttering remarks about New York. They are saying that the metropolis, with its vast appropriations each year, its many historical societies, and the apparent interest manifested there in preserving historical spots and sites, should take better care of a monument it erected three-quarters of a century ago at Peekskill; that it should send up a committee to ride out to the old Vancort-landville cemetery and look at the condition of the monument. A few dollars expended wisely, they say, will put the stone, the iron fence, and the surroundings in proper condition.

The monument stands where are buried the remains of Gen. Seth Pomeroy, the Revolutionary war hero, to whose memory the Sons of the Revolution erected a handsome shaft in the new cemetery a few years ago. Near by is the historic St. Peter's church, one hundred and fifty years old, within the walls of which Gen. Washington worshipped.

A study of the letters on the monument, after scratching off the moss and lichens, brings to light the inscriptions. On the front of the pedestal is the following:

Here repose the mortal remains of JOHN PAULDING, Who died on the eighteenth day of February, 1818, in the 60th year of his age.

On the south side of the stone the whole tale of Paulding and his deed is recited in concise yet comprehensive language.

On the morning of the 23d of September, 1780, accompanied by two young farmers of the Co. of Westchester, (whose names will one day be recorded on their own deserved monument), he intercepted the British spy, Andre: He disdained to acquire wealth by the sacrifice of HIS COUNTRY.

Rejecting the temptation of Great Rewards, he conveyed the prisoners to the American Camp, and by this noble act of self-denial the treason of Arnold was detected, the designs of the enemy baffled, West Point and the American Army saved, and these United States. Now by the grace of God free and independent from most eminent peril.

On another side are these words:

The Corporation of the City of New York erected this tomb as a memorial sacred to PUBLIC GRATITUDE.

On the two sides that are without inscriptions are carved in bas relief the reverse and obverse of a medal voted by Congress on Nov. 1, 1780, to the three captors of Andre.

On Dec. 4, 1826, during the Mayoralty of Philip Hone, the council of New York passed a resolution directing that a monument be erected to the memory of John Paulding. The members of the committee were Gideon Ostrander, John Agnew, John Lozier, James Cox, Abraham M. Valentine, all dead long ago.

James Kain and Francis Kain were employed to design, prepare and erect the monument. It is of white marble, simple in design, a pyramidal shaft on a pedestal, in turn on a base. The stone is inclosed by an iron fence.

The monument was dedicated on Nov. 22, 1827, a party from New York and officials coming from the city in the old steamboat Sandusky to participate in the ceremonies. William Paulding, then mayor, delivered the dedicatory address.

Few of the millions of residents of New York city know that in its early history its mayor and officials sailed up to Peekskill, and in the old cemetery two miles north of the village dedicated a monument that its public spirit had inspired. Public spirit, it has been said frequently, should now keep it in good condition.

Famous Financier's Protested Note.

John W. Reilly, 400 East Fayette street, recently found among some old papers belonging to his father the protest on a note of Robert Morris, the famous American financier of the Revolutionary war. A copy of the note is as follows:

"Nine months after date I promise to pay unto John Nicholson, Esq., or order, two thousand dollars, value received, Oct. 2, 1794.

(Signed) Robert Morris. John Nicholson. John Vaughan. "Ab. Van Buren."

A regular notice of protest, signed by Peter Lohra, a notary public in Philadelphia, is appended. It is dated July 4, 1795, and states that "at the request of the Bank of the United States, went to the counting house of Robert Morris, drawer of the note, and there exhibited the same to his clerk and demanded payment. He answered that the said note could not be paid at present."

It seems a singular irony of fate that a note of the man who largely devised the financial system of the new republic, who freely pledged his personal credit for the conduct of its war for freedom, and at one time was obligated for over $1,400,000 to keep a campaign moving, should go to protest on the anniversary of the nation's birth.—Baltimore Sun.

WESTERN CANADA AROUSING GREAT INTEREST.

The Wonderful Yields of Wheat Attracting Thousands.

Until the last five or six years but little attention was given to that vast area of grain-producing land lying north of the 49th parallel, and immediately adjoining the northern boundaries of Minnesota and Dakota.

The Canadians themselves were aware of the wealth that lay there, but being unable to fully occupy it, they have asked the Americans to assist them in converting the land from its virgin state to one that will largely supplement the grain-producing area of the North American continent and the response has been most liberal.

During the year 1901 upwards of 20,000 from the United States went over to Canada, being induced to settle there by the reports that reached them of the success of those who had preceded them during the previous years. This 20,000 was increased to 30,000 during the year 1902, and it is fully expected that there will be fully 50,000 during the present year. The work of the immigration branch of the Canadian government is not now being directed towards giving information as to the advantages of settlement in Canada as it is extending an invitation to the Americans to follow those who have gone.

Those who have charge of the work point with considerable pride to the success of those who have been induced to take advantage of the offer of 160 acres of land free in Canada, and have no cause to hesitate in continuing the invitation. Many of those interested say there are no more free homesteads to be had in Canada, but the writer has most positive assurance from the Canadian government that there are thousands of such homesteads to be had, and in one of the districts now being opened up fully as good as the best, and it is probably the best.

The Canadian government has established agencies at St. Paul, Minn.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Chicago, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Wausau, Wis.; Detroit, Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette, Mich.; Toledo, Ohio; Watertown, S. Dakota; Grand Forks, N. Dakota, and Great Falls, Mont., and the suggestion is made that by addressing any of these, who are authorized agents of the government, it will be to the advantage of the reader, who will be given the fullest and most authentic information regarding the results of mixed farming, dairying, ranching, and grain raising, and also supply information as to freight and passenger rates, etc.

A man's heart is blamed for a lot of things that his head is responsible for.

Charlotte Yonge's Growing Popularity.

Charlotte M. Yonge died two years ago, and since that event a steadily increasing demand for her stories has developed, so the publishers report. Whether it is because of a turning from the problem novel and the super-strenuous historical story to the quieter style of the older novelists, or whether it is due to renewed interest in an old favorite, is difficult to say; but the fact remains that such stories as "The Cunning Woman's Grandson," "Founded on Paper," "The Patriots of Palestine," "The Herd Boy and His Hermit" and "The Making of a Missionary" are selling better now than they did during the several years just preceding the author's death.

A Historic Irish Hill.

The historic hill of Tara in County Meath, Ireland, which was sold at auction Thursday to an unknown woman, was closely identified with the early history of Erin and was the seat of the Irish kings at one time. From its crest was taken the famous coronation stone which is now in the throne of Edward the Confessor in Westminster abbey, having been carried thence from Stone, where it was used as the throne of the Scottish kings. The last great Irish gathering on Tara hill was in 1843, when Daniel O'Connell addressed a great assembly in favor of the repeal of the union.

Two noblemen in the reign of Maximilian II—one a German, the other a Spaniard—who had each rendered a great service to the emperor, asked the hand of his daughter in marriage. Maximilian said that, as he esteemed them both alike, it was impossible to choose between them, and, therefore, their own prowess must decide it; but, being unwilling to risk the loss of either by engaging them in deadly combat, ordered a large sack to be brought and declared that he who should put his rival into it should have the fair Helena. And this whimsical combat was actually performed in the

An Extraordinary Strike.

An extraordinary strike is reported from Crezieres, near Poitiers, France, the school children of the elementary school having refused to attend their classes unless their headmaster, a M. Cail, was dismissed from his position. The children allege that they have been harshly treated by the master. They are supported by their parents, who have petitioned the government to send down an official to inquire into the affair. This the government has agreed to do.

Substitutes for Tobacco.

Dried holly leaves, the bark of the willow and leaves of the stag's horn sumach are among the substitutes for tobacco used by the American Indians. In Switzerland a weed called mountain tobacco is smoked in great quantities. It is powdered before using, and causes the smoker to become a mental and physical wreck. The natives of South Africa are peculiarly affected by smoking the dried leaves of the camphor plant. The smoker trembles with fright at nothing, weeps bitterly, and uses all sorts of words which do not in the least express his meaning. The wild dagga, another South African plant, poisons slowly any one using it.

English Laborer's View.

Mr. Barnes, the engineers' delegate who came from England to America with Mr. Moseley's industrial commission, having arrived home, gives this summary of the conclusions he came to in the course of the inquiry into American "push": Machinery: More used than at home. Sanitation: Not so good. Hours of work: Longer. Work: Not so good. Wages: Higher. Cost of living: Higher still. Trades unionism: Not so strong. Providing England uses the best machinery he thinks Britain has nothing to fear from America and is quite able to hold her own.
