Lost His Whiskers.

H. Smelser, of Ashton was in town Monday. At first sight we didn't know the man. He had the appearance of having been caught in a cyclone. At any rate that handsome bunch of long chin whiskers, of which he used to comb out with so much pride, and lap down in the bosom of his vest, had entirely disappeared. His appearance is so much changed that if it hadn't been for his old familiar hand shake and the ever present and broad smile on his face, we doubt if even his own wife could have recognized him.

Bitten By A Dog.

Will Mizner, of Washington twp was bitten by a dog last Friday, so reports W. F. Shull, of that neighborhood. It seems that while he was helping his neighbor, Sherman Houdershot load some hogs, and while they had a hold of the porker, which was squealing bloody murder, the dog, a big hound sprang to its relief. It seized William in the side and shook him furiously. Nor would it loosen its iron like grip until William let go of the swine. It was William's own dog, and we are told it will take hold of anybody or anything that interferes in any way with the children or any thing about the premises. Mr. Mizner was pretty badly hurt but is now fully recovered.

SAD DEATH.

Mrs. J. D. Depew died at her home in this city last Saturday, 11:30 P. M., June 6th, 1903, after a few weeks of very painful illness, age 27 years. She had been poorly in health for some time, presumably occasioned by exposure during last winter and while going to and from her home to the school house as teacher of a country school. Only last week she gave birth to a child, but it was thought that she was doing nicely, and so it seemed. Her period of confinement was well over, with indications of complete recovery when, in her weak condition, heart trouble appeared and her condition at once became alarming. The best medical attendance was secured, but to no avail.

Mrs. Depew, whose maiden name was Marie M. Conner, was born in Scotland county, Mo., on the 4th day of April, 1876, and came with her brother and sister in 1884 to Sherman county. She was married to J. D. Depew in November 1895. She was highly accomplished, a good school teacher and had many friends. She leaves a husband, three small children, mother, brother and two sisters to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held Tuesday, June 9th, at 10 o'clock A. M. at the residence and the remains were taken to the Evergreen cemetery for burial.

Miss Ella Conner, who now lives, with her sister Mrs. Gulick, at Scandia and Ernest Conner were present at the funeral. Mr. Depew and his heart broken little ones have the sympathy of all.

DIED.

Henry Plumbeck, the young man who has been sick for several months part, and who lived with his mother one half mile north of Shaupp Siding died at his home last Sunday at 12 o'clock m. of quick consumption. Henry was 19 years and seven months old. He was the only main stay of the household, his father having died a year ago last January. The funeral services were held at the German church in this city Tuesday afternoon. The procession started from the farm home at 10 o'clock a. m. and proceeded to the church. After the service he was buried in the Evergreen cemetery. Mrs. Plumbeck and the remaining small children have the heart felt sympathy of all. Henry was a kind hearted boy and his taking away is indeed hard to bear by the widowed mother.

The Baptist Service.

The exercises at the Baptist church last Sunday evening were very interesting and well attended. A large audience assembled to witness the burning of the mortgage which has so long stood against the building. The history of the church, as given by Mr. Angler was perhaps, one of the most interesting features of the program. Besides being able to pay off the mortgage at this time and consign it to the flames, they have also been able to arrange for regular services throughout the summer months and no doubt will continue them the year round.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Surgeon Ranker

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors bought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The reason for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item.—For sale by Odendahl Bros.
