Important Notice

We have repeatedly called the attention of the public to frauds, who occasionally go through the state claiming to represent our society. They are frauds and can be easily found out, for all of our district superintendents and workers carry credentials, signed by our president, Dr. W. O. Henry and E. P. Quivey, state superintendent; if they cannot show such credentials they have no connection with our society. Recently two or more persons were in Gothenberg, soliciting money for homeless children, claiming to represent our society, giving a certain street number in Chicago as national headquarters which is not our headquarters. We do not solicit money for Chicago, and these funds if connected with any society, are with the American Homefinding Society, with which we are not connected. We have nothing to do with the "American Society" either national or otherwise, and as we take it, our Nebraska people are not especially interested in sending money to Chicago to help them in charity, especially when such methods are being used to get the money, and we hope that the people will demand to see the credential, properly signed by our president and state superintendent before giving any money to strangers claiming to represent this society.

LOCAL NEWS.

—Mr. John Gray of Rockville was at Ashton a few days last week with a car load of western horses.

—Mr. Harry Stine of Beatrice, Neb., and brother of Mrs. King is visiting Mr. and Mrs. King.

—A big hail storm is reported to have damaged the crops in the vicinity of Aurora on last Sunday.

—Harvesting is now under full sway in this vicinity. The corn, though rather late, is doing nicely.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Newman drove to St. Paul Saturday night to visit friends and relatives.

W. Cruscak is having a new hydraulic well sunk on his farm by Stern's St. Paul outfit.

Lee Dobson went to Colorado last week and returned home Tuesday with a car load of good western horses which he has on sale at Ashton.

—The shipment of cream for a three days run of the cream station at Ashton last week was 124 full cans and George Marlow informs us that it wasn't an extra week for cream at that.

—Father Jedzewski of Smartville, Johnson county, is here visiting Father Radka and will assist him at the Thursday Holy day services. A Chojuce thursday.

—Mr. King, our estimable B. & M. agent and wife, are receiving a pleasant visit from Mr King's parents and young brother.

—Stanley Goc and family drove over from Rockville to visit friends and relatives last Sunday and returned home Monday.

—H. M. Mathew and R. J. Nightingale, two of our county seat attys. were in Ashton Monday looking after the interests of respective clients.

—A 60 ft. crossing was laid on the east side of main street on the north end by road supervisor Beushausen assisted by Sam Blumer on Saturday last.

—The village board of Ashton got after the defective sidewalk nuisance by ordering all property owners to immediately repair all broken sidewalks.

—The conductor of the B. & M. passenger had the misfortune to severely sprain his ankle by slipping on the depot platform at central city. He made the run however to Sargent.

—Charley Beushausen came home from his two weeks vacation last Friday feeling rather brisky. Charley however says for a good time there is no place like Ashton's platoon.

—Two of Ashton's jr. ball clubs, the first and second play a game on the ball ground Sunday as a practice game to get into line for the future games the balance of the season.

—Frank Jezewski drove over to Rockville Monday to look up his interest in the transportation of his malt product which he has hauled overland from Rockville two time each week.

—E. G. Taylor, finds it necessary to place a solid rock foundation under his elevator at Ashton, it being literally undermined with rats, which is found to be a hard proposition to get rid of the foundation will be laid this week and a new coal house will be built at Schaupp Siding.

—County Clerk Gibson, Messers Barnett, Korurumph and Fisher were pleasant callers at Ashton last Thursday night. These gents came down to attend Ashton's M. W. A. meeting and returned home the same night.

□—A heavy storm passed over Ashton last Monday evening about 6 o'clock. Dark looking clouds hung low over the town followed by high winds and rain. Previous to the rain a cloud of dust rolled through the main streets, it became dark as night and quite a few Ashtonites thought we were going to have a repetition of the storm of '96. Fortunately the storm passed over town without doing any particular damage.
