

Worn When Away.

The selection of traveling gowns is frequently found to be a difficult matter, for they must be becoming, and above all things practical and useful. One worthy of attention was carried out in a green cloth, its dominant note in all particulars being simplicity. The neat little coat was cut double-breasted and prettily strapped and embellished with a touch of fine silver embroidery. This, when worn open, displayed a daintily tucked lawn shirt with linen collar and dark green velvet tie, both being feminine in style, yet of irreproachable neatness. The skirt was gracefully plaited and cut walking length, and designed to wear with this costume was a warm green cloth wrap and a pretty felt hat trimmed with ivy leaves and berries.

White Linen and Lace.

Gowns of coarse white linen, much trimmed with heavy lace, are to be worn even more than during the last hot season. Some of these are fashioned on quite elaborate models, as, for instance, one which has a Directoire coat entirely of heavy white lace, with small hip panels of the linen overlapping the lace. The skirt is long and sweepingly graceful, for this is intended for a dressy gown, and bands of the lace are run up and down it. The new buttonhole embroideries and the button laces, whereon dangle countless little crocheted balls, are extremely effective on these coarse white linens.

Fashionable Loose Coat.

Loose coats make ideally comfortable wraps and are in the height of style. This one can be made with the smart little shoulder capes or without and can be buttoned over or rolled back to form revers. The model is made of tan colored broadcloth, the revers of satin in the same color edged with Persian braid, but all cloaking materials are appropriate.

4436 Woman's Coat, $2 to 40 bust.

The triple capes fit snugly and give the drooping line without fullness and the sleeves are wide and ample allowing of wearing the puffed ones beneath, without danger of rumpling. To make the coat for a woman of medium size will be required 4 1/2 yards 27, 2 3/4 yards 44 or 52 inches wide.

A May Manton pattern, No. 4436, sizes 32 to 40, will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents.

Her bridal outfit.

Silk muslin, crepe de chine, or one of the newer weaves, liberty or duchesse satin, taffeta, or peau de cygne, is an excellent choice for the wedding dress. If of a thin fabric nothing could be more charming than the new (old) 1830 skirt gathered at the belt and having graduated tucks, interspersed with bands of filmy lace running around the foot of the skirt to just above the knees. A full blouse, wide girdle, deep yoke, and bertha of lace and immense tucked sleeves with lingers undersleeves of lace complete the costume.

A modish traveling costume is of mixed tweed, the coat in sort or three-quarters length, and with a jaunty skirt just clearing the ground.

Pretty Curtains for a Set of Shelves.

One of the prettiest curtains seen for a set of shelves was of brown bur-lap with trimmings of red. The curtain was thrown over the brass rod in such a way as to form a deep lambrequin at the top. The bur-lap was lined throughout with red. Red felt was used for the border. The top and bottom was feather stitched to the bur-lap with red worsted in clusters of six quite long stitches, the middle one longest, and the others graduated toward each end. The clusters of stitches were about an inch apart.

Bedroom Hangings.

Nothing is prettier or more dainty for bedroom decorations than the up-holstery dimities in the old English style. They can be got in may patterns and launder beautifully, so are more durable than a flimsy fabric. They may be used in the entire decoration of the room for bedspread, canopy, window hangings and dressing table covers. At the windows it is prettiest to hang the curtains straight down each side with a full valance across the top. Cushions for the chairs and corner seats can be made to match, too.

For Afternoon Teas.

Tea table cups on a new plan are offered for sale in the large shops this month. In serving any beverage informally in the drawing room the cup and saucer combination are often found to be an awkward one to manipulate. These new cups are supplied with a metal holder and no saucer is furnished. The metal holder consists of two rings of silver which pass, respectively, around the upper and lower portion of the cup and terminate in a handle.

Fringe of Ermine.

The alliance of lace and fur is an old story, though perhaps the connection has never been more originally devised than in the case of an evening dress recently noted, where flounces of cream Alencon lace were finished by a fringe of ermine tails. A scheme of quaintly attractive character, this was carried throughout the corsage, which was furthermore enhanced by bows, brooches and sash ends of black velvet, passed through buckles of old paste.

Extravagant Garter Buckles.

Some of the new garter buckles are extravagant in setting and design. One seen recently was of Roman gold set with a fleur de lis design of diamonds. Another Roman gold garter buckle had a china medallion set in the frame, on which the monogram or favorite flower of the owner could be painted. These buckles also come in sterling silver at three the price of the pseudo gold.

A Suggestive Stole.

A stole which is full of suggestions is made of plain Brussels net, with flowers or leaves cut out of cloth and sewed on to the net foundation. Tinted flowers would be pretty for the woman with time and taste, and velvet could be used instead of the cloth. An entire gown of such work would not be too great an undertaking, and would be very handsome.

Things That Help.

Use soapy water when making starch. It will make the clothes more glossy and easily ironed. Line black silk undershirts with flannel to insure warmth. Dusty or rusty looking jet trimmings can be made quite new looking if soaked for about ten minutes in equal parts vinegar and water. Dry in a cool place.

Fruit a Complexion Beautifier.

There is no better cosmetic for the skin and no better complexion beautifier than a large, juicy apple eaten at night. Some will find perhaps that the skin of the apple gives them indigestion, so it is better to peel it. Next to the apple as a blood purifier is the cranberry; it is most wholesome. Oranges eaten in the morning are very beneficial.

The Necessary Trunk Cover.

A trunk cover is a necessity for the woman who "lives in her trunk." A green denim cover was attractive with its edge buttonholed in white long and short stitch. The monogram of the owner was worked in the center. A steamer trunk covered in this fashion, when piled with gay colored pillows, makes an excellent window or cozy corner seat.

Novel Bonbonnières.

One of the most charming bonbonnières of the season is of bisque or china, in Japanese style. It represents a little almond-eyed maiden carrying in either hand a basket or pannier. Both of these receptacles are filled with bonbons. The trinket can be very appropriately applied for table trimming.

Novel Ideas.

The more unusual the trimming on costumes this season the better, and anything you like is fashionable. Second hand shops are the resort of many a fair maiden these days. Antique buttons of metallic ornaments, queer braidings and quaint meadollions are used as coat trimmings and to trim fur stoles.

NEBRASKA AT EXPOSITION.

Commission Ready to Begin Installing the State's Exhibit.

The Nebraska commission to the Louisiana Purchase exposition held its final session in Omaha. Much business was transacted, mostly of a detail nature and preparatory for the removal to St. Louis, where they will be maintained until after the exposition. Secretary Shedd has departed for St. Louis. The three car loads of exhibition material collected at the commission's store house in Omaha from every quarter of the state will be shipped at once to St. Louis.

Aside from the agricultural exhibits the educational exhibits will be of a notable character. Most of these have already been assembled at Lincoln, under care of the superintendent of the educational exhibit for the state, and these will be shipped to St. Louis as soon as practicable. Every city in the state is represented in these school exhibits and some of the finest and most artistic of them come from the district schools throughout the state, and the city schools will certainly have to look to their laurels. The school exhibits are by far the best ever undertaken by the state schools and Nebraska need have no cause to fear but that it will occupy its usual front rank at the exposition in this respect.

The horticultural exhibits promise to surpass anything ever undertaken by Nebraska in previous expositions. Over 100 barrels of Nebraska fruit are now in the cold storage plant at the exposition grounds, St. Louis, and all are in the best condition.

Attorney General Prout has gone to Washington.

Attorney General Prout has gone to Washington to represent the state in the case in the United States supreme court wherein Nebraska and Missouri are each trying to own an island in the Missouri river along side of Nebraska county. The evidence was presented to a commission consisting of Alfred Hazlett and John W. Halliburton, who have now prepared their report to the court.

The findings of the commissioners are regarded as being favorable to Nebraska, since the two officers agree that the Missouri river went on a rampage on July 5, 1867, and with one day cut across the neck of Nebraska county, leaving a new channel, while the old channel, which had meandered around several miles to the eastward, gradually dried up. The Nebraska officials believe that this makes a clear case for this state, the theory of the law being that land which is cut off by some sudden change in a stream remains within the original jurisdiction, while if it had been cut off by a gradual shifting of the sands the jurisdiction would become that of the territory to which the new land attaches.

Sloggett, residing at 1302 East Sixth street, fell while sliding down the stair rail at his home and sustained injuries which resulted in his death half an hour later. ### IMPORTS FROM THE LUZON.

Only Small Part of Business Carried on Under American Flag.

WASHINGTON.—The development of the Philippines commercially and industrially for the first nine months of 1903 is the subject of a special bulletin by the bureau of insular affairs. It is shown that both in imports and exports there was an increase, compared with a corresponding period in the preceding year. Heavy exports in hemp and copra offsetting heavy imports of rice, explained the increase.

During the period named the imports were $26,103,601, against $24,338,322 for 1902. The exports amounted to $23,563,128, an increase of nearly $1,500,000. The rice imports were the only ones that increased and there was a falling off in the general trade the United States losing 10 per cent and the United Kingdom 16 per cent, while Spain has only two-thirds of the amount of its trade in 1902.

United States exports increased from $7,232,411 to $9,386,026 and the trade with Spain was practically the same. But a small part of the United States business is carried under the American flag and all but 5 per cent of the general trade of the islands is done in foreign bottoms.

WANT TO FIGHT FOR JAPAN.

Former Rough Riders Anxious to See Service.

SILOUX FALLS, S. D.—Ever since it was announced in Washington dispatches that Colonel Melvin Grigsby of this city, who has been in Washington for some time, intended raising a battalion of rough riders for service with the Japanese against the Russians, the office of Colonel Grigsby in this city has been flooded with letters from applicants for places. Most of the letters are from former members of Grigsby's Rough Riders, a regiment which was formed during the Spanish-American war, who wish to see active service during the war in the far east. Colonel Grigsby has written here to the effect that the report is unfounded, and has instructed his son, Sioux Grigsby, who is in charge of the Grigsby law office in this city during the absence of the colonel in the national capital, to write such of the applicants a letter, stating that the report of his intended action is unfounded; that the laws of Japan forbid the enlistment of foreigners in the Japanese army, and that no good citizen will violate the neutrality laws of the United States.

HERRICK TAKES UP SCEPTER

Governor Is Hanna's Successor as Leader in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O.—Now that it is claimed by the Hanna republicans of Ohio that Governor Herrick has succeeded Senator Hanna as the dominant power in Ohio republican politics the following statement made by the governor with reference to the selection of delegates to the national republican convention is important:

"I can only quote from the last letter that Senator Hanna wrote—the last with the exception of a pencil note to the president on January 30, the day of the Gridiron banquet: 'We must organize our full strength and choose the Roosevelt delegates from among our friends.'"

Continuing, the governor said: "The opportunity now arises for all good republicans to unite in the conduct of the party on broad lines in such a friendly spirit as to eliminate all differences."

It is thought the transports will be in readiness in that time.

HAS CLAIM TO FAME.

Story of the Man Who Discovered the First Beefsteak.

Beefsteak, like most other good things, was discovered entirely by accident, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. It appears that Lucius Placius, a Roman of rank, was ordered by the Emperor Trajan for some offense to act as one of the menial sacrificers to Jupiter; he resisted, but was at length dragged to the altar. There the fragments of the victim were laid upon the fire and the unfortunate senator was forcibly compelled to turn them. In the process of roasting one of the slices fell off the coals and was caught by Placius in its fall. It burned his fingers and he instinctively thrust them into his mouth. In that moment he had made the grand discovery that the taste of a slice, thus carbonadoed, was infinitely beyond all the sordid cookery of Rome. A new expedient to save his dignity was suggested at the same time, and he at once evinced his obedience to the Emperor by seeming to go through the sacrifices with due regularity and his scorn of the employment by turning the whole ceremony into a matter of appetite. He swallowed every slice, defrauded Trajan, defrauded Jupiter and invented the beefsteak! A discovery of this magnitude could not long be concealed; the sacrifice began to disappear with a rapidity and satisfaction to the parties too extraordinary to be noticed. The priests of Jupiter adopted the practice with delight, and the king of Olympus must have been soon starved if he depended on any share of the good things of Rome.

Matched for $35,000.

A well-known financier of this city wears a handsome ruby ring. It was admired by one of his friends the other day, who said: "You are not the only one that has taken a fancy to it. The other day Mr. Hartman said he would like to have it."

The friend then said: "Well, if it had been Gates he would have matched you for it." The financier replied: "Yes, so would Schwab," and then told a story of there being a difference between Mr. Gates and Mr. Schwab amounting to about $35,000. They could not agree, and rather than enter into any litigation Schwab proposed to match for the sum. It was done, and he was the winner.—Philadelphia Press.

Hadn't Detected It.

Heinrich Conried was standing in the back of the Metropolitan opera house a few nights ago during the performance of a German opera. As he leaned on the rail behind the back row of seats he heard the whispers of two men sitting almost in reach of his hand.

One of them was apparently a native American; the other talked with a decided German dialect.

"The acoustics of this house," whispered the American, "are very bad."

The German was heard to sniff audibly once or twice.

"Vot makes you say dat?" he asked of his American companion. "I don't smell anything."—New York Times.

New Graft in Missouri.

"A new graft has been discovered in Sedalia," says one of the papers of that place. "Every night for some time past the men's waiting room at the Missouri Pacific station has been crowded with men sleeping in the seats. When asked their business there by station attendants, they invariably resurrected tickets to some near-by town and said that they were waiting for trains. A few days ago about fifty of these regular boarders applied at the ticket office to have the tickets redeemed. The agent then became aware of the fact that the tickets were purchased for the sole purpose of bunking in a warm room."

—New York Tribune.

Took Ginger Ale.

A good story is told of a rounder who found himself in a well-known cafe in New York. Four young blades were there. Each ordered a pousse cafe. The Irishman watched the bartender make the gayly colored drinks and thought he would like one himself.

"What will you have?" asked the bartender.

"Give me one of them pussy cats," said the Irishman.

"One of them what?" asked the bartender.

"Arrah," said the Irishman, "give me a ginger ale, and this is the second time I've asked you."

The Fire Babies.

They are all mine. I love them so. These little tots that come and go; In endless train they troop along, Enrapt with laughter and with song.

From every shadowy corner they Come dancing in abandon gay; And o'er the polished floor they glide Close to me and my fireside.

They tell me tales no others tell; They quell the sobbs no others quell; Ah! when their fingers reach to me My heart of pain again is free.

They swing upon the rings of smoke, These little likes, these funny folk; Ah! faithful visitors of night— They're dancing in the freight.

—H. S. K. in New York Press.

Unique Wall Paper.

A morose French eccentric papered his walls with the deep bordered invitation cards received to the funerals of friends and acquaintances.

Inducement for Marriage.

A woman in Russia, until the day of her death, if she remains unmarried, is under the absolute sway of her parents.
