Gov Mickey has named June 14 as Flag Day.

The democratic nomination for governor is now causing a merry war among the leaders of that ancient party. Little Giant Thompson of Grand Island has concluded after mature deliberation that he is the man who can defeat Mickey, while Shellenbarger of Alma thinks he is just about the size. And so it goes.

Tom Dennison, the noted Omaha gambler, accused of complicity in the great Pollock diamond robbery of a number of years ago, has been indicted by an Iowa grand jury and Gov. Mickey has granted his requisition to that state to answer the grave charge. It is a long lane that has no turn.

The mining troubles in Colorado received a fresh impetus, Monday, and now the lawlessness has certainly reached the limit. On that day, an infernal machine was set off under the depot platform at the town of Independence, blowing seventeen non-union men out of business, some twelve of them being torn to shreds, while the balance were badly injured. One man was blown 75 feet into the air, yet escaped alive. Besides this horror, riots and killings are reported from Victor, Cripple Creek and other points resulting therefrom. Colorado is in a pitiful condition, and the history of the past few months' horrors and those to come may be ascribed pretty equally to the greed of grasping mine owners, and the anarchistic hoards of imported Huns and other classes of foreigners, brought here at the instance of the aforesaid greedy, grasping, grinding monied cormorants, owners of these great mining interests. This country is reaping the benefit of its lax and unjust immigration laws of the years gone by. The padlock was put on the open immigration doors too late. Where is the remedy for the great national poison infused in this country's veins and into her very life-blood arteries?

Gov. Mickey has appointed C. H. Gregg of Kearney a member of the State Board of Education, vice George B. Rogers, whose time had expired.

As was expected the democratic state convention last week was dominated by Bryan, who will head the untrifled at St. Louis. The Kansas City platform, of course, was endorsed and everything went thro' as slated.

Illinois republicans, after two or three weeks of fruitless balloting, numerous recesses and a hard fight all around, finally landed Chas. S. Deenen as the compromise candidate for governor on the 78th ballot, on last Friday.

Texas was visited by a furious tornado, last Friday night, causing great damage to property interests and serious loss of life. Oklahoma also report a destructive twister on the same date in the Kiowa and Comanche nations, with serious loss of life and property.

John Wall's Big Store Burned

At 5 o'clock this (Friday) morning Erni quinton discovered John Wall's store building to be on fire. He quickly spread the alarm. The fire was then in the northeast corner but whether above or below is a question on which no two agree. A crowd of men quickly gathered and all that could be done was but all to no purpose. The fire steadily gained headway and it soon became apparent that nothing Arcadia can muster in the way of a fire protection could save the building. The flames soon began to shoot from the roof in a dozen different places, and efforts were entirely given to save the remainder of the town and get the goods out of the store. The wind favored the workers shifting a little to the northeast, awhile before it was straight from the north. The fight was made from the roof of the post office, and front street in spite of the efforts had it not been for the heavy brick fire proof wall on the east of Mr. Wall's store, all of the west half of town, and possibly all of the town would have been burned. Space and time forbids a full account of the different phases of the horror. The loss to Mr. Wall is about $28,000. Only $3,000 of this is covered by insurance. Some goods were saved, but are badly damaged. The postoffice building is a total wreck. Mr. Wall will rebuild at once. —Arcadia Champion.

Death of James Hughes.

James Hughes, aged 24 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hughes, living some seven miles south of town, died Monday night at nine o'clock of stomach trouble, caused by going in bathing, and remaining in the water too long. He was in town last Friday, in seemingly usual good health. Later he was taken ill. Monday he suffered a surgical operation, but failed to rally and passed quietly away. He was a bright, exemplary young man, and a great favorite with his many friends. He leaves a father, mother, five sisters and two brothers, all living in Sherman county save three married sisters. His funeral took place this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence, undertaker Hoover having charge, under the auspices of the A. O. U. W., of which he was an honored member, and was buried in the beautiful Viridette cemetery, Rev. Madely of the M. E. church conducted the last sad rites. The bereaved ones have the heartfelt sympathy of their large circle of friends.
