

TICKET IS NAMED

PARKER AND DAVIS DEMOCRACY'S STANDARD BEARERS.

BOTH ARE BY ACCLAMATION

Two Full Nights of Strenuous Work and Much Excitement—Friends of Parker Have the Situation Well in Hand.

ST. LOUIS—The national democratic convention met Friday morning, but the committee on platform being unable to report, after an hour's session, adjournment was taken to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Reassembling at that time, the session was continuous for ten hours, nomination of Judge Parker for the presidency taking place at 5:40 a. m. It was a night of impassioned oratory and of taunting invective. For ten hours sensational demonstrations were in evidence.

Parker lacked just nine votes when the first roll call was ended, but before the vote was announced Idaho changed six votes to Parker and Nebraska followed with two. Parker now lacked but one, and West Virginia gave him thirteen and Washington ten, making brought his total to 698.

Before this could be announced, Governor Dockery of Missouri withdrew Cockrell's name, and moved that Parker's nomination be made unanimous. This was done with a yell and a demonstration was started. The ballot stood as follows: Parker, 658; Hearst, 200; Cockrell, 42; Wall, 27; Olney, 37; McClellan, 3; Miles, 3; Gray, 8; Williams, 8; Towne, 2; Coler, 1. Total, 989.

Two-thirds was required to nominate. He speedily got the required number by the change of Idaho, Nevada and West Virginia, whose votes brought his total to 698.

The vote of Nebraska upon the presidential nominees was divided as follows: Hearst, 4; Cockrell, 4; Olney, 1; Gray, 1; Wall, 1; Miles, 1; Pattison, 4.

Everybody was too tired to engage in much enthusiasm, and a motion to adjourn to 5 p. m. was greeted with a howl of affirmation, as the 11,000 spectators and 1,000 delegates made a break for the exits.

All night long these thousands had sat patiently and watched the waging of a most extraordinary battle.

The climax of the night of sensationalism came at 4 o'clock in the morning, when, after eight hours of noisy clamor, William Jennings Bryan, in the midst of absolute silence, began a speech, in which he seconded the nomination of Cockrell of Missouri.

It was the event for which the convention had been waiting. He was fighting to prevent the nomination of Parker. But he was leading a forlorn hope. In a fiery speech he seconded the nomination of every candidate except Parker.

Senator Daniel concluded his reading of the compromise platform at 8:55 Friday night, and immediately moved its adoption. It was carried by an overwhelming vote, as a part of the prearranged program. The utmost confusion reigned during the reading, Daniel's voice being wholly inaudible in the great hall.

Immediately after the adoption of the platform Chairman Williams ascended the steps and shouted, above the din which greeted him: "The clerk will now call the roll of states for the nomination of a candidate for president."

For a few moments the convention was in an uproar, the galleries joining. Then the secretary succeeded in making himself heard, as he called the name of the first state, in alphabetical order, Alabama.

"Alabama yields to the Empire State of New York," screamed Delegate Russell, jumping upon his chair, and a roar of cheers went up as Martin W. Littleton of New York mounted the platform.

With the first words spoken in Littleton's strong, rich voice, silence fell upon the vast assemblage, and he was given the closest attention as he made the speech nominating the man whom destiny had already picked as the choice of the party.

Only now and then were there brief outbursts of applause and cheers, when the speaker delivered a telling sentence. These demonstrations swelled into a roar of approval when Littleton said:

"If you ask me why Judge Parker has been silent, I answer because he has not attempted to be the master of his party, but is content to be its servant."

As he concluded his speech, the roar became a hurricane, thunderous, tumultuous, passing beyond all control. States in the Parker column tore their standards from the fastenings and began a wild, shrieking march around the hall; the Michigan delegation mounting the platform and planting its huge banner behind the chair, while thousands of voices were joined in a frenzy of sound.

When Iowa was reached in the roll

TIEN TSIN—A telegram from Chin Wang Tao says the British gunboat Espiegle reached there on her return from New Chwang on July 8. It was originally intended to prevent the Espiegle from leaving Chin Wang Tao to New Chwang but the message to this end was received too late. The Russians did not allow her to enter the harbor of New Chwang. This evidently was pre-arranged for the British consul at New Chwang, C. Gross, boarded the gunboat outside the harbor and communicated with officers.

Both Sides Report Losses. LIAO YANG—Japanese, led by Chinese guides, have badly cut up two companies of Russian troops near the village of Afatoy. During the thick of a fog, Japanese surrounded and destroyed the Russian outposts. The rest of the Russians at the post after a desperate struggle cut their way through the Japanese lines, losing eighty of their men. The Japanese also lost heavily. The British Chinese squadron left for Lang Ching unexpectedly.

call one of the delegates started a small riot by referring to his state's "unpurchased and unpurchasable delegation." A roar of protest followed, which continued until the speaker was compelled to leave his place and find a seat in the section assigned to Alabama.

At 3:35 in the morning, just as the first gleam of daylight appeared, William J. Bryan appeared upon the platform and was given a tumultuous ovation. By consent, the time limit upon speaking was removed to permit him to address the convention, defining his position.

He spoke for fifty minutes, awaying the great assembly with his passionate sentences concerning the history of the party during the last eight years. His hearers were with him in sympathy, swept along by what was perhaps the most remarkable address he has ever made.

Nebraska, he stated, would not insist upon any one nominee, but would loyally support any man of character and good repute who might be chosen by the party. He concluded, in a wild whirl of applause, by seconding the nomination of Cockrell of Missouri.

Mr. Bryan was attentively listened to, but his words had not the effect of changing opinion, as the nomination of Judge Parker on the first ballot fully demonstrated.

WATSON AND TIBBLES.

The Springfield Convention Chooses a Georgia and a Nebraska Editor.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia for president and Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska for vice president was the ticket nominated by the populist national convention. The names of William V. Allen of Nebraska and Samuel W. Williams of Indiana were also placed before the convention for president, but before the list of states had been completed in the roll call their names were withdrawn and Watson was nominated by acclamation. Former Senator Allen made good his word that he would not enter into any scramble for the nomination. While the nominations were being made he twice instructed the chairman of the Nebraska delegation to say that his name must not go before the convention. In the face of this, however, he received over forty votes.

Whether Mr. Watson will accept the nomination or not no one in the convention seems to know and all efforts to secure definite information failed. Watson was quoted as saying that if the democrats at St. Louis would nominate Hearst he would support him for president.

Williams of Indiana received only a few votes, soon withdrawing and moving to make Watson's nomination unanimous.

There were five nominations for vice president, Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska, Theodore B. Rynder of Pennsylvania, L. H. Weller of Iowa, George E. Washburn of Massachusetts and Samuel W. Williams of Indiana. The two latter declined and Tibbles received all the votes on the first ballot.

J. A. Mallet of Texas was chosen permanent chairman.

CHICAGO LIMITED DITCHED. Fast Train on the Wabash Wrecked Near St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Litchfield, Ill., says the Chicago limited on the Wabash railroad, due in St. Louis at 7 p. m., and half an hour late, was wrecked inside the city limits. The train struck an open switch and was overturned, and seven of the nine cars burned.

It is believed that twenty persons perished in the second and third coaches and that forty were injured. Later—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Litchfield, Ill., says that nineteen dead and a number are missing as a result of the wreck on the Wabash railroad here last night, when train No. 11, from Chicago, left the track at a misplaced switch and crashed into a line of freight cars standing on a sidetrack. Seven hundred persons were on the ill-fated train at the time it dashed into the sidetrack.

The work of clearing the debris is progressing as rapidly as possible. The remains of Hon. I. R. Mills, internal revenue collector of the central Illinois district, were sent to his home in Deatur this morning. Hundreds of people who are in the city from various points visited the scene of the wreck. The telegraph offices have been besieged with dispatches from friends and relatives or proposed to have been on the ill-fated train. Edward T. Clapp, chief clerk in the office of the president of the Wabash, stated to the Associated Press today that from all that could be learned, the misplaced switch at Litchfield was tampered with by some outside person. They had no definite information as to who the culprit might be. A thorough investigation will be held, said Mr. Clapp, after which President Ramsey will be in a position to make a statement.

Mexico's Presidential Election. MEXICO CITY.—Reports from many points show that the presidential election passed off quietly. Several thousand electors who were chosen will assemble in this city during the second week of July for the purpose of voting for the candidates for president. President Diaz will have no opposition. The press quite generally is favorable to Ramon Corral, at present minister of the interior, for the vice presidency and he will no doubt be elected.

Parker Goes to Church. ESOPUS, N. Y.—In spite of the very unusual hour at which Judge Alton B. Parker retired Sunday morning after receipt of the news from St. Louis, he was promptly in his departure for church at Kingston. He drove with Mrs. Parker to the Episcopal Mission Church of the Holy Cross at Kingston, of which his son-in-law, Rev. Charles M. Hall, is rector. Mr. Hall has been attending the St. Louis convention, and in his absence Rev. Dr. Edward Cooper of New Jersey occupied the pulpit.

Sale of Newspapers Forbidden. ST. PETERSBURG.—The sale of the newspapers Novosti has been forbidden because of the publication by that journal of a dispatch from London enlarging the ten-column article by Count Tolstoy on the Russo-Japanese war, recently published in the London Times.

HAVANA—The moderates with nearly a two-thirds majority elected Senator Malberry, speaker of the house of representatives and otherwise organized the house.

LITTLETON NAMES MR. PARKER

D. M. Delmas Places Before the Convention the Claims of W. R. Hearst—Immense Throng Visits Auditorium to Hear the Speeches.

ST. LOUIS—Much of Friday was lost in waiting for the committee having in preparation the platform, the convention not reassembling until 8 p. m.

The democratic national convention Friday night adopted a platform by a viva voce vote and listened to nominating speeches for president. Judge Alton B. Parker was named by Martin W. Littleton and William Randolph Hearst by D. M. Delmas.

JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER.

Both orators were applauded at length. Anti-Parker delegates attempted to create enthusiasm for their candidates, but the Parker men remained undisturbed and unconcerned.

Nominating speeches for the favorite son candidates and seconding speeches for both Parker and Hearst occupied the convention for several hours.

The convention hall seats about 10,500 people, and from appearance hundreds more had been admitted. The floor and upper galleries contained thousands of sweltering men and women oblivious of the fact that the crowded condition of the hall endangered every life.

The Coliseum interior looked like a huge basin with bottom and sides formed by closely packed persons. Not an aisle could be seen. They were filled by spectators who could find no other place. Outside and in the crowds were the same, except for the fact that those within the hall were satisfied and those without were turbulent.

As soon as the convention had been called to order Chairman Clark announced that the report of the committee on resolutions was ready.

Senator Daniel read the report as chairman of the committee. The confusion was so great that not a word could be heard ten feet from the platform.

The great climax of the convention—the nomination of a candidate for president—followed immediately upon the adoption of the platform. Chairman Clark proceeded to that order of business without delay.

Alabama was called, and yielded to New York. Mr. Littleton's speech immensely pleased the audience, and when he concluded pandemonium reigned. Flags were waved, banners held aloft and great as was the crowd, delegates carrying the standards of the Parker states paraded through the convention, pushing, trampling and fighting all who obstructed their progress. The scene was one of tremendous confusion.

Then was enacted a scene that recalled an incident of the democratic convention in Chicago which nominated W. J. Bryan. Like Minnie Murray, the "woman in white," who from a gallery over the stage led the cheering for Bryan, two girls in white sprang to the front of the platform

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS

NEBRASKA COUNTY VALUATIONS.

Strange and Peculiar Tales Told by Assessors' Figures.

LINCOLN—Strange and peculiar are the tales told by the assessors' figures of the various counties. From the reports received by Secretary Bennett of the state board of equalization it was evident that the schools in Banner, Logan and Hayes counties will encounter serious financial difficulties during the next year. Revenues will be decreased, because the assessed valuations have fallen off.

It may be necessary to close the schools in some of the districts. Under the old law the teachers barely secured their wages, and it was nipped and tuck to pay school expenses with the maximum levy. With a decrease and the levy expanded to the limit, it is doubtful if the schools can be kept open under the operation of the new law.

Including railroad property, the official figures on assessments are as follows in twenty-five counties:

	1902.	1904.
Banner	$ 254,311.66	$ 188,978.56
Butler	2,367,683.09	5,651,582.09
Cass	4,903,221.38	7,449,492.15
Cheyenne	1,586,706.00	1,910,013.01
Combs	2,566,234.00	5,566,199.59
DeWahl	718,566.99	928,562.45
Dakota	3,738,608.99	2,014,824.73

Pawnee	2,979,872.00	3,842,300.00
Rock	590,165.25	641,374.06

Totals	$38,157,680.41	$44,621,792.09

While in Hayes there is an increase, it is so small that the schools will suffer.

Dogs in Nuckolls county are valued at 2 cents each for the purpose of assessment. So declare the owners under oath. While the 2-cent figure is not used on the schedules, that is the way it finally figures out, when the returns are averaged.

Body Found in River. WEST POINT—The body of Dominic Brada, Sr., who disappeared on the night of the Fourth of July at the Riverside park, was found on a sandbar in the middle of the river about half a mile below the park. The body is badly decomposed and it will be very difficult to determine the exact cause of death. Rumors of foul play have been industriously circulated, but the general opinion seems to be that the death was purely accidental and that the deceased, being very old and feeble, wandered away in the darkness and fell into the river.

Organize Oil and Gas Company. BEATRICE—A stock company to be known as the American Central Oil and Fuel company, incorporated under the laws of Arizona, has been organized in this city with a capital stock of $500,000. Clark of Omaha, member of the board, in regard to their experience as delegates to the national charities conference at Portland, Me. Mr. Davis and Mr. Clark were the ones accredited to make a report out of the Nebraska delegation of eleven members. The delegates tell an interesting story of their visits to a number of the charitable and penal institutions of eastern states.

Farmer Killed by Lightning. SCOTTS BLUFF.—In a terrific storm that passed over this place J. F. Draper was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The storm was one of the worst in the remembrance of the oldest settler. About three inches of rain fell, filling the irrigation ditches and in many cases doing damage to crops by overflowing. J. F. Draper and Andrew Fraily were on a load of hay when the lightning struck, killing Draper and tearing a shoe from Fraily, who was not injured beyond a severe shock.

He was the father of fifteen children, eleven of whom, with his wife, survive him.

A destructive wind and hail storm visited Beatrice and that section. A very heavy rain accompanied the hail, which covered a strip of country about twelve miles wide north and south. All vegetation in the path of the hail has been practically cut to the ground. In Beatrice nearly every house had windows broken. At the green house in West Beatrice over 1,000 panes of glass were broken.

THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

Henry G. Davis of West Virginia Nominated by Acclamation.

ST. LOUIS—With the announcement of the nomination of Chief Justice Alton B. Parker early in the morning an adjournment was taken until afternoon, and the great convention hall was quickly emptied of its wearied delegates and spectators. The terrific strain of the night was over and there was a general movement in the direction of the hotels.

It was 5:37 when the afternoon session opened. A motion was made and adopted that speeches nominating candidates for the vice presidency be limited to ten minutes, that five minutes be allowed for seconding speeches and that the number be limited to three.

Roll call of states was then called for the presentation of candidates for vice president. Alabama was called several times with no response, but finally Mr. Russell of that state announced that Alabama would give away to Illinois.

Samuel Olschuler of Illinois arose and announced that Freeman Morris would speak for that state.

Mr. Morris took the platform to name James R. Williams of Illinois.

The roll call of states proceeded and when Nebraska was reached the response was a statement that it waited with interest the choice of New York. New York requested to be passed when called on the roll.

Maryland seconded the nomination of Davis of West Virginia.

At this point in the session there was uproar over rumors of a telegram that had been received from Judge Parker, nominee for the presidency, which Senator Cuthbertson of Texas and others thought ought to be considered before the convention went any further. The former said: "For reasons which are obvious to all the delegates here it seems to me that we ought not to proceed at this time to nominate a candidate for vice president."

Adjournment was thereupon taken. The leaders disappeared and the session closed with an atmosphere of tense expectancy as to what would occur when it reconvened at 7:30 p. m. The convention did not go into session promptly at the time appointed, although the greater number of delegates and alternates were in their seats, keyed up to a high pitch of excitement over the possible events of the night.

During the course of the proceedings the following message from Judge Parker was read:

"I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established, and shall act accordingly if the action of the convention today shall be ratified by the people. As the platform is silent on the subject, my views should be made known to the convention, and if it is proved to be unsatisfactory to the majority, I request you to decline the nomination for me at once, so that another may be nominated before adjournment."

A message was proposed to be sent to Judge Parker as follows: "The platform adopted by this convention is silent on the question of monetary standard because it is not regarded by us as a possible issue in this campaign, and only campaign issues were mentioned in the platform. Therefore there is nothing in the views expressed by you in the telegram just received which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform." (Applause.)

A great deal of discussion followed, some favoring sending of the message, others not.

Bryan said he was opposed to sending the telegram as framed. "If the gold standard is a good thing, then why run away from it? Why not put it into your platform?"

His declaration that the sending of the telegram to Judge Parker was a declaration for the gold standard side and his statement that if the democracy was to say so frankly was greeted with a shriek of applause from the galleries, and one man with a strong voice yelled, "That's right."

Loud applause greeted Mr. Bryan's remark that it was a manly thing in Judge Parker to express his opinions before the convention adjourned, but it would have been a manlier thing had he spoken before the convention met, was again cheered.

After some further debate a roll call was ordered on the question of the adoption of the reply to Judge Parker's message. As the roll call proceeded it was evident that the motion to send the message to Judge Parker would be carried by an overwhelming majority. The result was announced to be 774 ayes and 191 noes, and the message was ordered sent by the convention.

The vote closed the incident. It had been provocative of some feeling and much anxiety on the part of the party leaders, but from the first of the evening session it was evident that they had the situation well in hand.

The order of business now went back to the point where Governor Vardaman sprung the Parker telegram rumor and a recess when the roll of states was about to be called on the vote for the nomination for a candidate for vice president and the chair directed that the roll should be called. Announcement of the vote revealed that Henry G. Davis of West Virginia had received 652 votes, being 150 less than the necessary two-thirds. He then received the nomination by acclamation.

Convicts California Lyncher. BAKERSFIELD, Cal.—James Cowan, a Mojave miner, charged with the murder of James Cummings, a negro, who was lynched at Mojave on March 19, was, on Thursday, convicted of manslaughter. The jury recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. One juror stood out all night for murder in the first degree, with the death penalty. The other members of the mob who went to the jail with the intention of tarring and feathering the negro may now be feasting
