The publishers of "I Wait Alone for You" the most popular, sympathetic ballad of the day, by the late W. Wesley Wills, have sent us a copy of his song, "My Mercedes" which has been published and which he composed a few weeks before his death. We predict for it a larger sale than "I Wait Alone for You." It is simple, beautiful, easy to play, melodious and a perfect adaptation of exquisite words to a beautiful melody. The publishers, J. W. Mr. Weaver made his first visit to Loup City twenty-six years ago, driving some fifty miles overland to get here there were at that time but few houses in Loup City and the day after he got here the first dry goods store commenced business. He then purchased a number of lots and has sold off a number of these, from which he has realized enough to keep up the taxes, pay the first purchase price, and made a handsome sum out of them over and above all. He orders the NORTHWESTERN to keep him posted on Sherman county affairs in the future.

And now, on this 9th day of August, 1904, this cause came on for hearing on the petition of James E.
