When the packers were notified that it had been decided to end the strike they announced that they would give places as far as possible to the skilled men, but it was stated at the same time that many of these would be unable to secure their old places, as in many cases the work was being performed in a satisfactory manner by men who had been secured since the commencement of the strike. It is expected that the majority of unskilled men will be unable to secure their old places again.

During the strike approximately 53,000 persons have been involved in the struggle, which is estimated to wages, as against an estimated loss business and in increased expenses. Chicago during the strike was 26,600 and the total in the country, outside of this city, is estimated to be about the same.

was a demand by the butchers' union packers refused to sign an agreement, but offered to arbitrate the question. This was accepted, the strikers agreeing to return to work pending the decision of the arbitrators. The men, however, were dissatisfied with the manner in which they were being put to work and declared that they would not return unless all of the men were given their old places in one day's time. The packers declared that this was physically impossible, and the men went on strike for the second time.

The men now return to work under the conditions that existed before the strike.

GREAT BATTLE IS EXPECTED.

Kuropatkin May Fight at Mukden or Go on North. ST. PETERSBURG-General Kuro-patkin's official report, sent from Mukden Wednesday evening, announcing that the whole of his army had arrived at Mukden and was taking up positions around the city and adding that the army had not lost a gun during the retreat, relieved the public anxiety and put an end to the many alarming reports which had been current here.

From the general's report it seems evident that Kuropatkin is tentatively preparing to meet the Japanese again should Field Marshal Oyama continue to press northward.

Nothing more important than rear guard actions marked the march to Mukden. The region south of that city is now clear of Russians.

It is evident that Kuropatkin is taking precautions to prevent the Japanese from creeping around his flanks, as he reports that the Japanese cavalry is actively scouting wide on his flanks. The Japanese are reported to be moving up about thirty miles on either side of the railroad with the view of surrounding Mukden, but whether Kuropatkin will accept an engagement or continue northward will probably depend at the decisive moment upon the temper and condition of his troops, who, doubtless, have been much shaken by the long fight and hardships attendant upon the retreat.
