of fourth-class postmasters the auditor says:

"Without here entering into a discussion of the claims of the postmasters of that class, I am satisfied that in view of the position taken by the courts in relation to fraudulent cancellations some other system of fixing their compensation should be adopted. I know of no better way than the adoption of the same principle to fourth-class postmasters as applies to the determination of the salary of a presidential postmaster-namely, a fixed salary based on the amount of the above cablegram is as follows: gross receipts of his office, with a penalty by fine and imprisonment for happy and prosperous to the Ameriincreasing the receipts of the office by the purchase or sale of stamps for commercial purposes outside of the postoffice or its branches. Wholesale trade in revenue stamps is not permit ted, and there is no reason why it should be permitted in postage stamps. For every stamp sold at postoffices the government's representative receives its equivalent in currency, but under the present system of compensation, based upon cancellations, many instances can be shown where no equivalent is received. The adoption of the plan here suggested would destroy the motive for fraudulent cancellations, as no report of cancellations would be requir-Mr. McCarty recommends that the life of the money order be reduced from twelve to three months and that at the end of that period the holder must send the order to the postoffice department and receive a warrant in payment. The purpose of the proposed change is to facilitate the closing of ex-postmasters' accounts. The average life of a money order is only seven and one-half days, and therefore, it is argued, the change would not result in inconvenience.

The commission has already prepared a scheme of revision which has been made public for the purpose of securing criticism and suggestions from the business interests of the United States. In this plan some of the schedules are raised and some lowered. The revision is planned with a view more to the development of the business of the islands than from a revenue standpoint.

ST. LOUIS-With complete returns from ninety-six counties out of 114, the entire republican ticket, with the exception of governor, has been elected by pluralities of 150 to 250. ALSO BREAKS THE SOLID SOUTH

His Electoral Vote as Now Figured Will Be 343, or 104 More Than Needed-Maryland and Missouri Both Choose Republican Electors.

NEW YORK-The plurality of the president in the nation, according to all indications will exceed 1,500,000 -the greatest plurality ever given an American candidate. The nearest approach to this vote was in 1896, when McKinley received a plurality approximating 860,000, and in 1872, when Grant received 620,991 plurality. The interest centers in Missouri and Maryland. Late returns indicate that the former state is in the republican column so far as presidential electors are concerned, but that Joseph W. Folk, the democratic candidate has been elected governor. The republicans elect eight of the sixteen congressmen. In Maryland the presidential vote will probably be cast for President Roosevelt. Late returns indicate that Thomas A. Smith (dem.) has been elected to congress in the First district by 450 plurality. Congressman Jackson of this district, however, puts forward a claim of trick ballots and fraud and says he will contest the election. In the other states it is simply a question of plur-alties. The "solid south" was broken by the probable defection of Missouribanians, without obtaining any result, this section of the country usually having thirteen states in the democratic column. The figures show but twelve states, with 133 votes for Judge Parker.

END OF WAR FAR OFF.

France Again Declines to Take Action

Looking Toward Mediation. PARIS-The reports of contemplated mediation in the war in the far east have again made it plain that France does not consider the time opportune to exert influence singly or jointly to induce Russia to make or accept terms. At the same moment that the rumors were circulating in various capitals that France intended to act, M. Delcasse, the foreign minister, was pointing out to diplomatic callers that efforts at mediation would be futile. The following is the textual language used when one of the ambassadors sounded the minister on France's intentions:

The ambassador said: "It is profoundly regrettable that the parties do not heed your advice It doesn't always make a young man toward averting the present slaughhappy when a girl returns his love- ter."
