

PE-RU-NA CONQUERS CATARRH THE WORLD OVER.

The Population of the Earth is 1,400,000,000. One Million Die Annually of Catarrh.

PERUNA has been successfully introduced in CANADA, MEXICO, WEST INDIES, AFRICA, and the ORIENT.

ALL over the world Peruna is known and used for catarrhal diseases. The Peruna Girl has traveled 'round the globe. Her face is familiar everywhere that civilization reaches. Universally Praised. From Africa to Greenland, from Manchuria to Patagonia, the face of the Peruna girl is familiar and the praises of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are heard. Successful in North and South. Peruna crossed the Equator several years ago, to find in the Southern Hemisphere the same triumphant success that has marked its career in the Northern Hemisphere. A Standard. Peruna is a standard catarrh remedy the world over. It cures catarrh by eradicating it from the system. Permanent Cure. It obviates the necessity of all local treatment and its relief is of permanent character. Without a Peer. No other remedy has so completely dominated the whole earth as Peruna. In Every Tongue. In all languages its glowing testimonials are written. In all climes the demands for Peruna increase.

An Extensive Laboratory. To supply this remedy to the whole world takes to the utmost one of the best laboratories in the United States. A Word From Australia. Walter H. Woodward, Bomadier Royal Australian Artillery, Hobart, Tasmania, writes: "I suffered for several years with a distressing condition of the head and throat, caused by continual colds. My head and nostrils were stopped up most of the time and there was a discharge, and my sense of smell was affected badly. "After two weeks use of Peruna I found this condition quite changed, and so I continued to use this remarkable medicine for over a month. "I am very glad to say that at the end of that time I was cured and felt in fine health generally, and am pleased to give Peruna my honest endorsement."

From Hawaii. Prince Jonah Kalamianole, delegate in Congress from Hawaii, writes from Washington, D.C., as follows: "I can cheerfully recommend your Peruna as a very effective remedy for coughs, colds and catarrhal trouble." A Cuban Minister. "Senior Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States, writes from Washington, D.C., as follows: "Peruna I can recommend as a very good medicine. It is an excellent strengthening tonic, and is also an efficacious cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—Gonzalo De Quesada. From All Quarters of the Globe. We have on file thousands of testimonials like those given above. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast number of grateful letters Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving from all quarters of the globe in behalf of his famous catarrh remedy, Peruna.

SOCKS AS GOOD AS MONEY.

Their Convenient Use in Backwoods Games of Chance.

The Oleon, a "lumberjack," walked into town the other day carrying 1,750 pairs of gloves and mittens, 1,175 pairs of socks and eighty-three pounds of tobacco. He offered the goods for sale at about one-fourth of their value and was arrested on suspicion. He protested to the police that he came into possession of the goods honestly. When pressed he declared that he won the articles at poker in the lumber woods. Oleon said he had been in the woods many months. The lumberjacks received no money while in the woods, but were expected to wait until they returned to town for their pay. At the company "store" in the woods the men could get such articles as they desired, however, having them charged against their time. Accordingly the men used merchandise instead of checks in their games. Oleon said he played in good luck, and in one game where socks were the stakes, he won 1,175 pairs of the hosiery on three aces. The other man held a trio of kings. In a game for mittens, Oleon said, the limit was high, and in three hours of play he had mittens enough to supply a regiment of soldiers. His story sounded reasonable and he was released to go and "cash in his checks."—Ashland (Wis.) Cor. Minneapolis Tribune.

Hint for Young Wives.

The main thing is to realize that a man is as he is. You can't change him much. And the sooner you leave off trying to reform him the sooner you will be able to make him go through his paces and do the cute tricks he is capable of. Indeed he can be made quite tame by gentle treatment and may in time learn some of the finer things of life from his mistress. The proper study of woman-kind is man.—Syracuse Journal.

Fox Too Much for Dog.

One of the fiercest fights I ever witnessed was between a village cur and a big fox. One moonlight night this dog, in my company, found Brer Fox mousing round some corn stacks, and pinned him by his foreleg. They jumped the loop together, and for some time it was impossible to say where the fox began and the dog left off. But for my intervention the dog would have been killed.—County Gentleman.

The One Thing Useful.

She doesn't care for operas, the drama or the play; she doesn't care for dancing—she isn't built that way; she doesn't care for housework, for flowers or for books, she doesn't care for poodles—she doesn't like their looks; she doesn't care for dresses, for hats or fancy hose—the only thing she does care for is a man who will propose.

Inventor in Doubt.

"Is your invention a success?" "I don't know yet," answered the mechanical genius. "It is such a simple and effective device that I don't know whether I can develop enough imaginative eloquence concerning it to make people subscribe for stock."

BOARD WAS NOT HARMED.

Experiment Showed Candle Would Not Penetrate Plank.

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—Some one in the columns of the Sun said he shot a candle through a pine board one inch thick, and the Sun advised those who were skeptical to make the experiment for themselves. Acting on the suggestion, I took my old Queen Anne and pith about five fingers of the best powder in her and then a candle, and as all the boards out of doors have about nine feet of snow on top of them, I took the bottom board of my bunk in the camp and stuck it in the snow about seven fathoms distant and fired. When I got to the target I found the candle had struck all right, but it had not even dented the board and was flattened out flatter than my pocketbook after I had bought my winter's run. I came to the conclusion that some one was telling the Sun some damn lies. However, I did not lose the candle altogether. I scraped it off the board and took it back into the camp and fried pancakes with it for my supper. A Lover of Truth. Herring Cove, N. S., Feb. 17.—New York Sun.

A Floral Clock.

Many flowers show a susceptibility to changing conditions of light and weather which make them most interesting. This phenomenon has been utilized by an Ohio landscape gardener to form a unique decoration to the grounds at Tarrytown. This is a flower bed which can be used as a clock. The bed is circular and divided into twelve parts. Each contains a figure composed of a flower which opens or closes at the corresponding hour. Thus the two spaces is occupied by the II made of hawk weed, which closes at 2 p. m. precisely. The hands are stationary, of course, and are composed of the common yellow dandelion, which opens at half past 5 and closes at half past 5 p. m., and point to arrangements of flowers representing these figures. Among the flowers used are the snow thistle, which opens at 5 a. m. and closes at 4 p. m. The blue chicory, the goat's beard, the morning glory, poppy, water lily, the pimpernel, the marigold, the Star of Bethlehem, the passion flower, the beauty of night, the white lychnis and the blue convolvulus, all of which have different time for opening and closing.

An Unpromising Field.

Mr. Yipsley was just on the point of leaving his house for his place of business down town, when there came a ring at the front door bell. He opened the door. A canvasser stood outside. "I beg your pardon," said the canvasser, "but I'd like to show you a sample of our improved talking machine. It makes a good present." "I don't think I care to see it," replied Mr. Yipsley. "You are not interested in talking machines, perhaps," ventured the other. "I can't say that, either. But I have one already. Talks all day long. Never needs winding up. Never runs down." At this moment a high-pitched voice from somewhere at the top of the staircase broke into the conversation. "It isn't so!" exclaimed the person with the high-pitched voice. "It isn't so! But I've got a growling machine that runs whenever it's in the house!"—Youth's Companion.

FACE LIKE RAW BEEF.

Burning Up With a Terrible Itching Eczema—Speedily Cured by Cuticura. "Cuticura cured me of a terrible eczema from which I had suffered agony and pain for eight years, being unable to obtain any help from the best doctors. My scalp was covered with scabs and my face was like a piece of raw beef, my eyebrows and lashes were falling out, and I felt as if burning up from the terrible itching and pain. Cuticura gave me relief the very first day, and made a complete cure in a short time. My head and face are now clear and well. (Signed) Miss Mary M. Fay, 75 West Main St., Westboro, Mass." Willowood. I sat with Love upon a woodside well. Leaning across the water, I and he; Nor ever did he speak nor look at me, But touched his lute, wherein was audible The certain secret thing he had to tell; Only our mirrored eyes met silently In the low wave; and that sound came to be The passionate voice I knew; and my tears fell. And with his foot and with his wing-feathers He swept the spring that water'd my heart's drouth. Then the dark ripples spread to waving hair, And as I stoop'd, her own lips rising there Bubbling with brimming kisses at my mouth. —Dante Gabriel Rossetti.

Had Watched Her Mama.

A prominent society woman who is very blonde has a small daughter, aged 4, of an equally fair type. Frances is fond of watching her mother's toilette, and that she has profited by the secrets of the dressing table and the frequent use of a pencil was proved at luncheon a few days ago. Said a doting aunt: "It's too bad Frances' eyebrows and lashes are not dark. She would be a beautiful child." "Huh!" exclaimed the precocious youngster. "I guess they'll be dark when I am big enough to write 'em like mamma does."—New York Times.

WOMEN NOT TRUTHFUL

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked By Male Physicians.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they will lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth. To a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex. There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women. It is any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on? This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them than the physician who personally questions them. If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge. The fact that this great boon, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in. Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands A Woman's Ills.

Mrs. J. H. Farmer, Frankford, Ind., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "I want to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. "Three years ago I had inflammation of the ovaries and ulcers on my womb. I was under the doctor's care for about three months, and the only time I was not in pain was when under the influence of morphine. The doctor finally said I never would be better, and would be an invalid the rest of my life. I had given up in despair, but one evening I came across one of your advertisements and decided to write you for advice. I did so and commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began to improve at once, and today I am a well woman, and I know it is all due to your advice and medicine. "Mrs. J. H. Farmer of 2809 Elliott Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "I cannot thank you enough for what your advice and medicines have done for me. They have done me more good than all the doctors I ever had. "For the last eight years I have suffered with female troubles; was very weak; had nervous prostration, and could not do my work; but I am happy to say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made a different woman of me. I am in perfect health and have gained in weight from 98 pounds to 123 pounds. "No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record for actual cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass. The Finns' Barometer.

A small stone has been lodged in the British museum; it is somewhat of a mystery. It has been named the semakur. It is a native of Finland, and the Finns tell the weather by it. The explanation is that the stone changes its appearance through absorbing the moisture in the air preceding rain, turning it black.
